TALKING HONEY

The man who named the Honey Dew melon evidently didn't know what honeydew is or he would have chosen a different name.

Often in springtime you've noticed the cottonwood, the box elder, oak, hedge, hickory and the leaves of a few other trees covered with a sticky substance, to eat it in winter time. The sometimes so thickly that it writer lost many colonies one drops off onto the ground. That winter during the war by feeding honeydew to colonies that were short of feed, instead of feeding sugar syrup.

Honeydew is only good to make "hooch," or to sweeten chewing tobacco, but is sold in great quantities at a low price to the Armenians and Russians in the large cities. Some other foreign people also relish it.

- W. W. FOSTER.

Business Done by Checks

The term "bank clearings" relates to the aggregate amount of checks and drafts exchanged between members of a clearing house association and carried there daily for an adjustment of the differences. In large cities more than 90 per cent of the commercial business is done by means of checks and drafts and less than 10 per cent is done with cash.

Appropriate

"I can never understand," said Thompson to his friend, "why you insist on calling your new house a bungalow." "Well, it's very easily explained," was the reply. "In the first place the job was a bungle and in the second I still owe for it."

Still Use Braziers

Charcoal braziers are still used by four-fifths of the people of Mexico, who never saw an oil stove.

Senator Stanfield Renders Great Service to Oregon

In an address sent to and read before the Portland Advertising Club Wednesday, April 21, 1926, United States Senator Robert N. Stanfield said:

"When I entered the U. S. Senate March 4, 1921, agriculture was in dire straits, prices were down, producers were hard up and the banks and loan companies in farming communities were unable to realize on the notes they held. Quick action was necessary to relieve the agricultural distress.

Works Hard, With Gooding, for Emergency Tariff.

"After repeated efforts I succeeded, assisted by Senator

Gooding of Idaho, in overcoming the objections of Senator Penrose, chairman of the senate Finance Committee, to an emergency tariff on farm products, and on May 27, 1921, the Emergency Tariff bill became law. This Act placed protective duties on 28 of the principal farm products, including wheat, corn, potatoes, onions, cattle, meat, wool, butter, cheese, milk, apples, cherries and nuts.

Stanfield Comes to Rescue With Amendment.

"On May 20, 1921, the Stanfield Bill was introduced to preserve the livestock industry of the United States, to release for commercial, agricultural and industrial purposes certain funds of banks, livestock loaning and trust companies, to amend the war finance corporation act, and for other purposes.

"The Stanfield Bill, or its principal provisions, became a law on August 24, 1921, the Senate Committee on Agriculture submitting its main features through Senator McNary as an amendment substituted for the Norris Bill, along with other provisions. Under its terms the War Finance Corporation made advances for agricultural relief amounting to $298,000,000, of which the banks, trust and loan companies of Oregon that serve agriculture received $6,686,000.

Drafted Into Relief Service by Treasury Department

"As soon as the War Finance Corporation was prepared to function under this law, and at the request of the Treasury Department, I went west, where I spent three months assisting and advising with the bankers, thereby enabling them to procure the needed help quickly and before it was too late to save them. Fortunately, very few failed in Oregon in comparison to other states.

Forced to Keep Silent to Protect the Banks

"Much has been said about my absence from the Senate during this time, but I was forced to keep silent and go about my work without referring to my absence or mission, because if the people had known why I was in the West and what I was doing, suspicion would have been directed to every bank I entered, and to every banker with whom I talked. Until the banks could turn their frozen paper into liquid assets, my silence was imperative to avoid embarrassment to them and the defeat of the relief needed and sought."

(Stanfield for Senator Campaign, E. D. Cusick, Mgr.)
