REP. N. J. SINNOTT

VISITS NYSSA MONDAY

Representative N. J. Sinnott was the guest of the city last Monday and conferred with reclamation officials on matters of interest to the district. An informal meeting was held at the district headquarters, at which the district directors and business men were present; also Messrs. Van Pelt and Kester from Ontario.

Among other matters discussed was the subject of appropriations and Mr. Sinnott was impressed with the desirability of getting as large appropriations as possible in order that the work when once started will not be delayed for lack of funds. It is understood that the budget committee is recommending an appropriation of $2,000,000 and it is desired to have this increased if possible.

METHODIST NOTES

The pastor will preach on Sunday morning and Mrs. Harshey will give a story sermon in the evening.

The Junior church is growing in both interest and attendance. Plans to have your children of grade school age stay for Junior church.

The monthly meeting of the official board will be held in the basement on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. There are several items of importance that must be given consideration at this time, therefore it is urged that every member be present.

The Ladies Aid will meet in the basement on Thursday afternoon. There is a new staff of officers and Mrs. Gushert, the new president, urges a full attendance, that the plans for the fall work may be effectively carried out.

Our special evangelistic services will begin Sunday, October 23. We are fortunate in securing Prof. Wm. Innes to direct the music. Prof. Innes is a fine singer and leader. Mrs. Robinson, his accompanist at the piano, is also a children's worker. They are from Forest Grove, Oregon. Rev. N. H. Lines, our pastor at Ontario, will be the preaching. Mr. Lines is a strong preacher and singer as well. We expect a great meeting. Plan your work so that nothing will hinder regular attendance at every service. Remember the time October 23.

A PRUNE LAWN

The guy that started the report to the effect that there is nothing new under the sun was sadly behind this modern age. For instance, did you ever before hear of a prune lawn? We'll bet you never did, yet they bid fair to become the popular style in lawns on really up-to-date premises. Mr. Higby, who is just completing a fine residence, has started the innovation and has covered his grounds with a layer of prunes. He figures that the prunes will rot and the seeds will sprout in a solid mass, needing only to be trimmed back with a lawnmower to make a perfect lawn. Mr. Higby intends to leave a few trees scattered around in strategic positions for shade and to bear fruit, thus enabling him to lie on the prune lawn under a prune tree and eat prunes all at the same time. Could anything be sweeter?

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Posey Tuesday afternoon, October 4. It was voted to send two delegates to the state convention to be held at St. Helens, Or., October 18 to 21. The president, Mrs. Higby, and the second vice president, Mrs. Posey, are the ones chosen. They expect to start the 16th and make the trip by auto. Mrs. Alta Marshall was appointed local superintendent of Scientific Temperance Instruction, and Mrs. J. E. Douglass, Publicity superintendent. After the meeting adjourned, refreshments were served by the hostess.

NEW GRANDSON

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Duncan are rejoicing over the arrival of a new grandson, as the following from the local paper shows:
"Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Roberts, 505 Ash street, are the parents of a son, Kenneth Duncan, born Saturday, October 1, at the family residence."
Mrs. Roberts is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan.

O. E. S. MEETING

The O. E. Star held its regular meeting Wednesday evening. After a business meeting was concluded initiatory work was put on. Mrs. Chas. Thompson and Mrs. Myrtle Parker being initiated into the mysteries of the order. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dunaway also become members by affiliation, having belonged to the order 20 years ago. A speech by Mr. Dunaway was a feature of the meeting. At the close of business refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

FOOTBALL

The game with Parma was a vast disappointment to some but no one can say the boys didn't play a good game. The boys admit that Parma played the better game and we know Parma earned all they got. Nevertheless one little game is not going to slow up N. H. S. Let's go!

BRIDGE CLUB

The Tuesday eve Bridge Club was held at the home of Mrs. Dick Tensen. Three tables were in play. Mrs. Chas Crawford was the lucky one, winning first, while Mrs. Harley Diven landed second. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the session.

The Pastime Pool hall was broken into early Sunday morning and about $75 in money and some watches taken. Entrance was effected by cutting a hole in the back door and lifting the night latch. The safe was dragged out the back door and forced open. Tracks indicated there were two engaged in the robbery, one of them with a peg leg. Their whereabouts still remains a mystery, although the sheriff's office has made diligent search for them.

Nyssa was well represented at the Harvest Festival at Parma this week. The Nyssa band attended in force and assisted in the musical part of the program.

vail, is it not truly ethical? Again, began Gannan was a type of or representative the whole private world as such. That of Israel a cooperative one--no and the Christian world SHOULD be. And the fact that both the Jews and we Christians have not done by far as we should have done according to the law and gospel is no fault of Messias or of Christ, himself. And they, the people, have suffered for their wrongs. Well, so much for that point.

Now your question at the conclusion of your editorial as to the world's present condition which we would be willing to have them again prevail is confused and debatable. It all depends and is relative. Briefly they in effect are an old condition of the world that has been coming since the dawn of time. Now between two significant things under globe or law's roof. And what it may have taken him in a fine modern automobile to carry and establish that there with solid golden Sumner and a golden name and jewel adorned platinum cross and a very precious peary crown on his head illuminated even with our marvelous electricity and told to keep off our grass or eat the private contents and no more pluck hard-earning ears about two dollars' worth and justice as contained in his works, or Sabotage, law, and so his man said leave and to never return there again. We'll meet thee in heaven and, and, and--

As for me alone.
No, I do not wish to dispute your concluding point at all, for it is a very broad saying or implication of too many different meanings. There were conditions not so long ago that hardly with any of the inventions and modern conveniences it was comparatively easy to acquire a comfortable and comfortable living and have oneself from the then even plentiful jobs, labor-market or be independent of this now most awful anxiety job scarce scourge our now more and more inextricable dependence on the ever more slave-like labor market. And finally who is there now among our modern ethical artists to pluck in earnest any such stubborn and wilfully hard-hearing ears so noble and sternly for the poor as the Lord said?
Sincerely your friend,
B. Abundroth.
