LIFE'S LITTLE JESTS

HANDICAPPED

A stranger nudged me in the ribs at the picture show the other night. "Say," he whispered, "I guess my life has been wasted, after all. I've had three wives and I never kissed any of 'em the way that feller's doing it."

"Is it too late?" I murmured, endeavoring to register sympathy.

"It is," he returned sadly. "I am troubled with a shortness of breath."

Diplomacy

She—I can only be a—
He—Don't say it! It won't do. I have five sisters already, and, to tell the truth, they are not favorably disposed toward you. They think a match with you would be the mistake of my life.

She—O, indeed! I'll show the cats! We'll be married just as soon as I can get ready.

SIGN OF DISCORD

Wife—See how nice and comfortable I've made it for you this evening?
Hubby—Yes—and it's a sure sign you're soon going to make it uncomfortable for me.

Ho, Hum!

"Though many things she's left undone—
Since we've been wed,
I don't believe," said he, "she's left A thing unsaid."

His Alibi

Judge—You are accused of stealing eggs from the grocer's store. What have you to say?
Accused—I took them in error, sir.
"In error? How do you mean?"
"I thought they were fresh, sir!"—
The Progressive Grocer.

Kind Henry

"Don't you sometimes wish your wife had married some other man?" asked Smith.
"No," replied Henry Peck, "I hold no grudge against any man, but I have wished a good many times she had remained an old maid."

Ever Thoughtful

"In a little while we can go to the North pole by airplane."
"Yes," answered the jovial realtor. "When we get through selling warm Florida sands in winter we can make a jump and sell Arctic snowbanks in summer."—Washington Star.

Those Husbands

Verna—My husband was furious when I asked him for a two-seater.
Yvonne—Was he? My husband is different. I asked for a seven-passenger and he never said a word.
Verna—Did you get it?
Yvonne—Of course not.

WRONG PLACE

The Man Outside—Two orchestra seats, please.
The Man Inside—Wrong place, brother. We don't sell seats here. This is the box office.

The King Pest

The worst of all the grandstand pests, Of which you've heard about Is the guy who's always asking, "Say, you, how many's out?"

Revenge

Archie—Bill sure did me a dirty trick yesterday, but I got even with him, thank goodness!
Reggie—Even with him? When?
Archie—Last month.

School Notes

The Orange and Black Girls sent the Vale girls Friday night with only 8 points to Nyssa's 43.

This game was not close enough to be even a very good practice game for the girls but the Vale girls showed a lot of fight and determination to win. V. Blodgett ran up 30 points while I. Walters ran up 18. The guards M. Hunt and C. Elliott did good work and prevented Vales forwards from shooting many baskets.

The game with Fruitland proved to be very exciting in the latter part. At the first half the score was 23-23. Nyssa but the second half the Fruitland girls came out and seemed to be determined to win in spite of everything. But Nyssa came out on top with a score of 47 to 41.

Again our guards came in handy and last but by far not the least the 23 points of V. Blodgett and the 14 of I. Walters.

They go to Huntington Saturday night where they will try their skill against the Huntington girls.

They are going strong folks only lost one out seven. Let's Go!

The line up for these games was:
I. Walters, V. Blodgett, Forward.
H. Clement, A. Brooks, Centers.
M. Hunt, C. Elliott, Guards.

Substitutions: M. Morgan for I. Walters, V. Bartlett for H. Clement, A. Brooks, I. Zink for C. Elliott and M. Hunt.

BOYS

The game with Vale proved to be the most exciting game played on the home floor so far this year.

The scores were so close together all during the game that it was hard to tell which team would win.

The Orange and Black hoopers, going strong, though not so strong as strong as when they played New Plymouth, kept up the fight against the Vale five until the very last.

There is no doubt that the Vale boys know basketball and have all the fight that goes with it, so when Nyssa plays them again on the 27th at Vale, the Orange and Black Quintet will show us another fast and good game.

The score was 10 to 8 in favor of Nyssa.

Tuesday night, Jan. 17, the Orange and Black hoopers played the Fruitland boys a 47-4 game in favor of Nyssa.

This was a better game in the latter part than at the first. Both of the Nyssa squads got to play and gave Fruitland a sample of their ability.

Saturday night the boys journey to Huntington where they will play for another victory.

The boys have the fight and are out to win, so let's back them up folks!

The Nyssa Alumni and Parma Alumni also played a very fast game but this time the Nyssa team outclassed the Parma team and the score was 24 to 10, Nyssa.
