Come and ROOT for Nyssa

GOING UP

"Yes, having been born here, I thought I would come back and spend my old age among you. How much for this land?"
"One dollar a front foot."
"You could have bought it for $10 an acre when I was a boy. How much for acreage?"
"One thousand plunks."
"How dear are the scenes of my childhood," sighed the city man as he turned away.

COULD DO BETTER

He--Now, take me, for instance--
She--No, thanks, I can do better.

Who's Gertie?

Just about the time of the recent broadcast version of "Faust," a man told this story against himself:

He was one of a party just returned from Germany. At dinner he remarked to his wife: "I went to Goe-the's home on the Sunday."
And his wife replied, hurriedly:
"Who's Gertie?"

Conscience Not Working

A caddie who had been caught attempting to steal a ball on the course was reported to the caddie-master. That official, who had a soft heart, took the culprit to task.

"You must have known it was dishonest to steal," he said, "and, in any case, didn't your conscience tell you that the man was looking?"

Chicken Broth

A man went into a restaurant and ordered chicken broth. After tasting it he called the manager and said: "Surely this isn't chicken broth?"
"Well, sir," replied the manager, "it's chicken broth in its infancy."
"What do you mean?"
"It's made out of the water the eggs were boiled in."

Would Keep Her Quiet

"When you take your wife's temperature she must place the thermometer under her tongue and keep her mouth closed for two minutes."
"Have you one that takes a little longer?"

MAKING IT SIMPLE

"Joe, I think I'll write another joke about a window pane."
"How come, Luke?"
"Why so everybody'll see through it."

Had the Wrong Eye

The doctor gazed into his patient's eyes. "You say you have trouble with that eye?" he said. "But there's something more. On looking at it I see signs of liver trouble, or anemia, and I fear of chronic nervous affection."
"Look at the other eye, doctor," said the patient. "That is my glass eye."

Not Necessary

Jones--I fixed up a match for you with Blink.
Smith--Thanks, old man, I hope you told him what a ham I am.
Jones--No, I didn't, Blink seems to know.

True Blood

Attorney--Why do you say they are through-and-through gamblers?
Sheriff--While we were chasing them they were betting on which one of us would capture them.

Feminine Logic

Blink--We'll patch up all our old troubles, won't we, dear?
Mrs. Blink--You know I hate patched things. We'll have to have new ones.

Joke Imported From Paris

Wife--Now that I've had my hair bobbed, I don't think I look so much like an old lady.
Husband--No, my dear. Now you look like an old gentleman.

Help Wanted

Tramp--Lady, will you help me?
Lady--Yes, what is it?
Tramp (pressing a button)--
Please sew a shirt on this.

A SIMILARITY

"Well, I wish him luck," said Jones, the other evening, after reading in the evening paper an account of the wedding of a popular member of the local cricket team, "but," he added, in a rambling tone, "marriage is very much like cricket."
"Don't be so ridiculous," snapped Mrs. Jones. "However can you compare cricket to marriage?"
"Why," replied Jones, "it looks so easy to those who haven't tried it."

Sure to Be There

"Thanks to modern improvements I have far less trouble finding my collar buttons now. Always find them in one place."
"Indeed?"
"Yes, I go to the vacuum cleaner."--
Boston Transcript.

BRAVERY

She--How dare you put your arm about me?
He--Why, you said you admired a brave man, didn't you?

French Osculation

He (with newspaper)--It says here that a fellow was recently sentenced to a month's hard labor for giving a kiss.
She--Oh, Armand, give me one as if you were going to be sentenced for life.

No Style to It

Doris--Ruth has a position as detective in one of the big department stores.
Fern--How awful. Just imagine being known as a "plain clothes" woman!

PROFESSIONAL INSTINCT

A tailor had a great desire to buy one of his customers, a celebrated tenor, sing. Obligingly, the tenor gave him a couple of tickets for his next appearance at the opera house.
Meeting him a few days later, he asked whether he had enjoyed the performance.
"Oh, it was awful!" replied the tailor.
"Awful! What do you mean?"
"Your coat," the other quipped, "is too tight under the arms."

WHEN IT RAINS

She--Dad says you don't know enough to go in when it rains.
He--Does he?
She--He sure does.
He--Well, you tell him I stay in in the first place.

Forms of Jasper

Jasper is an impure form of crystalline quartz. The color is usually red, brown or yellow, according to the amount of iron oxide contained in the stone. There is also a form of jasper which is dark green and opalescent. This is probably the quality spoken of in the Bible as one of the jewels on the breastplate of the high priest and as a foundation stone of the wall of the New Jerusalem.

Fishes With Lungs

The bureau of fisheries says that some fish have modified lungs in the form of an air bladder, which acts as a lung structurally, but not functionally. Most fish breathe through their gills.

Glacial Periods

The great ice age occurred at the beginning of the Pleistocene period. During this ice age there occurred several glacial periods marked by the extension of the ice sheets, separated by several interglacial periods marked by partial disappearance of the ice.

Expression Had Meaning

The expression "smart as a Philadelphia lawyer" is traced to the fact that in the early days of the history of Pennsylvania there were an extraordinary number of lawyers in Philadelphia, many of whom were noted for their brilliant intellect.

First Movie Show in 1896

The first movie show was given in April, 1896, at Koster & Bial's music hall, New York, when Edison's vitascope threw moving pictures on a small screen, says Liberty.
