WARNING ISSUED BY SALVATION ARMY HEAD

Salvation Army workers, according to Brigadier Albert E. Baynton, in charge of Salvation Army work in Oregon and Southern Idaho, have been much harassed in recent months on account of impostors, who representing themselves as officials of the Army, have been going about collecting funds in the name of the organization. Having secured somewhere the Army's uniform, they were able to mislead the public.

In order to protect the public from further impostors of this kind The Salvation Army has supplied its accredited workers with a printed solicitors card, wherein is written the name of the worker. This card also definitely defines the territory in which said worker is authorized to solicit for funds and is signed by Albert E. Baynton, the Divisional Commander for Oregon and Southern Idaho.

Brigadier Baynton respectfully requests the public to call for solicitor's card whenever and wherever approached by a Salvation Army worker. Should someone ask for money in the name of the Army who is not supplied with a card, the fact should be reported at once.

BUSINESS HOUSES ARE PAINTING UP

Civic pride and betterment is being displayed by many of our business men in a general cleaning and painting of their various places of business.

The Nyssa Packing Co. have freshly painted and kalsomined inside and out. The Pastime Pool Hall is freshly kalsomined and painted. Wilson Bros. Store Bldg. is being renovated. The Liberty Theatre has been freshened with kalsomine and paint. The Lawrence Service Station, Powell Service Station and Hoxie Service Station are all bright with fresh paint, and no doubt others will follow suit.

Looks like everyone is getting ready for the mammoth celebration to be held June 7th at Nyssa. Of course we want to make our town attractive to our guests.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

A business meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. A. Higby for the purpose of arranging for a Legislative Institute to be held in the M. E. Church Thursday May 17th. when the State President Mrs. Ada Jolley will be here.

The morning session beginning at 9:30 will be devoted to W. C. T. U. methods. In the afternoon Mrs. Jolley and several local candidates and others will speak, an account of which will be given next week.

Fan and Thermometer

The bureau of standards says that as a rule, air from an electric fan blowing on a thermometer will have no essential effect on the mercury. In a very sensitive thermometer is placed in front of a fan, it may, however, cause a slight rise in temperature, inasmuch as the air which passes by the motor becomes slightly heated.

Forms of Jasper

Jasper is an impure form of crystalline quartz. The color is usually red, brown or yellow, according to the amount of iron oxide contained in the stone. There is also a form of jasper which is dark green and opalescent. This is probably the quality spoken of in the Bible as one of the jewels on the breastplate of the high priest and as a foundation stone of the wall of the New Jerusalem.

Animals in Captivity

Wild animals kept in captivity are likely to lose the natural color of their skin or fur. It is stated, and even their figures become changed, so that they may no longer represent their normal state.

Wonderful Word

All the scholastic scaffolding falls as a ruined edifice, before the single word—faith.—Napoleon.

GOING UP

"Yes, having been born here, I thought I would come back and spend my old age among you. How much for this land?"

"One dollar a front foot."

"You could have bought it for $10 an acre when I was a boy. How much for acreage?"

"One thousand plunks."

"How dear are the scenes of my childhood," sighed the city man as he turned away.

COULD DO BETTER

He—Now, take me, for instance—
She—No, thanks, I can do better.

Who's Gertie?

Just about the time of the recent broadcast version of "Faust," a man told this story against himself:

"He was one of a party just returned from Germany. At dinner he remarked to his wife: 'I went to Gertie's home on the Sunday.'"

And his wife replied, hurriedly: "Who's Gertie?"

Conscience Not Working

A caddy who had been caught attempting to steal a ball on the course was reported to the caddy-master. That official, who had a soft heart, took the culprit to task.

"You must have known it was dishonest to steal," he said, "and, in any case, didn't your conscience tell you that the man was looking?"

Chicken Broth

A man went into a restaurant and ordered chicken broth. After tasting it he called the manager and said: "Surely this isn't chicken broth?"

"Well, sir," replied the manager, "it's chicken broth in its infancy."

"What do you mean?"

"It's made out of the water the eggs were boiled in."

Would Keep Her Quiet

"When you take your wife's temperature she must place the thermometer under her tongue and keep her mouth closed for two minutes."

"Have you one that takes a little longer?"

MAKING IT SIMPLE

"Joe, I think I'll write another joke about a window pane."

"How come, Luke?"

"Why so everybody'll see through it."

Had the Wrong Eye

The doctor gazed into his patient's eyes. "You say you have trouble with that eye?" he said. "But there's something more. On looking at it I see signs of liver trouble, or anemia, and I fear of chronic nervous affection."

"Look at the other eye, doctor," said the patient. "That is my glass eye."

Not Necessary

Jones—I fixed up a match for you with Blinx.

Smith—Thanks, old man, I hope you told him what a ham I am.

Jones—No, I didn't. Blinx seems to know.

True Blood

Attorney—Why do you say they are through-and-through gamblers?

Sheriff—While we were chasing them they were betting on which one of us would capture them.

Feminine Logic

Blinks—We'll patch up all our old troubles, won't we, dear?

Mrs. Blinks—You know I hate patched things. We'll have to have new ones.

River Lost in Desert

The Tarim river in China rises in well-watered mountains and has a length of several hundred miles, over a part of which it exceeds in size many of the well known rivers of the world. But it never reaches the sea. In the sands and salt flats of the eastern part of the Tarim desert the river is lost by evaporation.

DOGS AND CHICKENS DOING DAMAGE

The Nyssa Civic Improvement Club has mapped out a plan of flower raising for the beautifying of the city, and, as a part of the plan, intend holding a flower show in the fall.

Because of the fact that a number of promising flower beds have been badly damaged by stray chickens and dogs, it is earnestly requested that all owners of such livestock co-operate with the growers of flowers by providing enclosures and keeping such animals and poultry shut up during the flower growing season.

Your compliance with this request will be greatly appreciated by the Civic Improvement Club. m11 2t.
