COME EARLY AND AVOID THE RUSH

Has the hegira to Nyssa begun?

Those who are conversant with the situation have been predicting that it is only a question of time until the business men of Ontario will move en masse to Nyssa, owing to the latter town's proximity to the government's $18,000,000 Owyhee reclamation project and our greater natural advantages in the amount of tributary territory and the greater fertility of our soil.

It looks as though the advance wave of this movement Nyssward might have started. This week Messrs. Lynn Creason and L. L. Bridleman, former business men of Ontario opened the Chelan Cafe in the building formerly occupied by Kelley's Lunch, and their removal here is but the beginning of what may be expected in the near future.

One serious obstacle in the way of this movement, however, is the lack of store rooms, there not being a vacant room in town large enough to accommodate even a hot dog stand.

This is a situation that demands relieving and those who are working for a Greater Nyssa should take the matter in hand and see if something can't be done to place our little city in a position to take advantage of our opportunities.

EMBRYONIC SALESMEN

"Old college ties, gentlemen," orated the old grad from the platform, "old college ties—the lasting loyal love for our alma mater, and her love for us. Where, fellow alumni, where, I ask you, can you find a greater, better, worthier, nobler, finer, stronger bond—a bond which will repay you more?"

"Y-a-a-a-y!" shouted the entire class of '23 rising to their feet. "A customer!"

And the old grad was utterly destroyed in the rush.

Even Up!

"What was your car expense last year?"

"Five thousand dollars. I bought a new car for $4,000, and it cost me $1,000 to run it. What was yours?"

"The same. I bought a used car for $1,000 and it cost me $4,000 to run it!"

No Hope

"Now," cautioned the judge, "remember you are to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth."

"Golly!" exclaimed the dusky defendant. "Mah case am los' right now!"—American Legion Monthly.

WOULDN'T BE LONG THERE

Wife—Don't you think our new chauffeur is too tall?
Hubby—Yes; but I don't think he'll be long here.

Correct

Although this rhyme may make you grin,
It's time, you will agree:
There are two or three monkeys in
Most every family tree.

Tagged

"Didn't some brainless idiot propose to you before we were married?"
"Yes."
"I wish to goodness you'd married him."
"I did."

Fine

O'Donnell—Stimson claims he has two receiving sets and that he can tune in on a fight program with either one.

O'Connell—That's his little joke. He has a party phone, besides his radio set you know!

POOR BUT HAPPY

"You have been coming to Washington a great many years."
"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "And I have shown my love of country in doing so."

"You mean you have made sacrifices?"

"Well, I don't exactly say a government is ungrateful, but it doesn't measure up to a big corporation in making up a liberal pay roll."—Washington Star.

With the Spaces

Knobrayne—Every evening before I go to bed I write down my thoughts in my diary. Interesting, don't you think?

Nina—Oh, most. How long have you been doing it?

"About a couple of years."

"Then you must have the first page nearly full."

Demand and Supply

Country-Bred Maid—But, sir, why do you write so much?

Master—I am an author—I write novels.

Maid—Fancy taking all that trouble when you can buy a novel for sixpence!—Fliegende Blaetter (Munich).

BALLED UP RIGHT

Hubby—"Poor old Brown is balled up right this time." Wife—"Been in one of his little toots?" Hubby—"No, his wife put a 38 bullet into him last night."

Significant Silence

The orator may find his skill
Into oblivion sinking,
While he with gifts for keeping still
Gains credit for much thinking.

No Interest in Life

Husband (anxiously)—My wife seems not to have the slightest interest in life.

Doctor—What makes you think that?
Husband—Well, I've tried her with golf, billiards, football and racing, and it's just like talking to a stone.

More Sophisticated

"Dearest," he said rather sadly. "It doesn't seem like the same old smile you used to give me."

"No, Jack," she returned, "this is a new one. I've been studying at a school of dramatic art."

No Courting House

Officer—You can't kiss that girl in here!

Harold—But we're here to get married. Isn't this the courthouse?

Officer—Yes, but not the courting house.

Tough!

Gladys—So your parents are going to have your marriage annulled?

Betty—Yes. They think I'm a baby. I just can't make them think I'm old enough to get a divorce.

HE WON'T RUN FAR

"Didja git hold of any dough, Jack, since you broke jail?"
"Yeh, I got 100 bucks for runnin' expenses."

Intimacy With Genius

While he kept silence, he seemed great. His art was fine in paint or putty. He talked an hour—to indicate
That maybe he was kind o' "nutty!"

Left Him Nothing

"You say that advertising ruins your business?"

"I tried that last year, and the people bought out everything I had in the store."

Telling Her Symptoms

Doctor (meeting patient's hubby)—I don't suppose she suffered any after-effects of her illness?

Husband—No, but everybody else did.

Too Scarce

Conjuror—I will now make the lady disappear.

Voice—Don't be wasteful. My wife needs a cook.

An Extremist

"She's a souvenir fiend, isn't she?"
"I should say so. The last dinner she attended she carried away the

A TIGHT FIT

They were planning their new house.

"I don't fancy that breakfast nook idea," he told her.

"Why not?" she inquired. "It's the thing nowadays, you know."

"Well, one of our clerks was late at the office this morning and he reported it was because he ate an extra bit of toast and couldn't get out of the breakfast nook."

A Good Enough Reason

Applicant—The only reason I left my last job was because I was asked to do something I didn't like.

Prospective Employer—That's interesting. What was it?

Applicant—Well, if you must know, it was to look for another position.

High Return Price

Green (with newspaper)—I see here where one of Charles Lamb's letters sold lately for $750. Some price for a letter!

Gayboy—That's not so much. I once paid more than that for a letter I wrote myself.

So Natural

"Jim was perfectly at home at the banquet."

"Why, he didn't have a word to say."

"Well, that's being perfectly at home for him."

WHY SHE THOUGHT

Reggie (quite pleased)—"Why did you think of me so often when you were at the zoo?" Miss Sharpe—
"Well, one can scarcely avoid passing the monkey cage, you know."

No Gratuitous Reformer

My neighbor has been very rude. But I shall not berate him. Why should I generously intrude And try to educate him?

Some Ordeal

Fozzleton—I took my wife to a lecture last evening—and it was some ordeal for her all right.

Buzzleton—Some ordeal for her? Fozzleton—Yes, she had to listen, didn't she?

Heredity

Editor—I believe that youngster of ours is cut out for my profession.

His Wife—Why so, dear?

Editor—Everything he gets his hand on he throws into the wastebasket.

American Foreign Ruler

The only American to rule a foreign country was William Walker, the "filibuster" President of Nicaragua from 1855 to 1860.—Liberty.
