

APPLE VALLEY NOTES

Mrs. Chris Meltved and Miss Lucile Stephens attended a party at Mrs. Ralph Castater in Parma Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Alley and Mrs. Glenn Johnston of Belvidere, Kan., and Mrs. Grace Alley and Mrs. Ella Cook of Moorland, Okla., are visiting at the Lloyd Caldwell home.

Lee Healey and family left last week for New Meadows, where Mr. Healey will work for the San Diego Fruit & Produce Co.

Apple Valley is a busy place this week, with haying, threshing and digging potatoes. Hay is at a premium and if anyone is without a job it is either that they are physically unable to work, or just plain "lazy."

Lloyd Caldwell and family, Cedric Caldwell and family, Glenn Landingham, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Alley, Mrs. Glenn Johnston, Mrs. Grace Alley and Mrs. Ella Cook all drove to Black Canyon dam Sunday and enjoyed a picnic dinner.

Mrs. Emory Jones of Cascade is spending the week end at the Archie Willis home.

Sherman Wilson and James Carrell have returned from New Meadows, where they have been picking peas.

J. I. Boston, son Henry and daughter Mary drove to Tekoa, Wash., Tuesday and visited at the Ira Boston home. Mr. Boston's mother, Mrs. Ella Boston, returned home with them.

Chris Meltved was seriously injured Saturday evening when he jumped from a haystack onto a crowbar which was sticking upright in the ground at the end of the stack. The crowbar punctured the abdomen and he was rushed to Caldwell to the sanitarium, where an operation was performed, and although his condition was very serious the doctor held out hope for his recovery and at the last report he was getting along as well as could be expected.

Mrs. Ralph Glandon and children of Emmett are spending the week at the Charles Willis home.

Miss Alice McIntyre left Sunday for Portland, where she will spend the remainder of her vacation, before going to Gold Beach, where she will teach again this year.

Maxine Davis of Ontario is spending the week with Adella Fisher.

Mrs. Amanda Rucker of Chadron, Nebraska, will preach at Apple Valley church Sunday morning at 11:30. Miss Julia Rucker will give a talk on Sunday school work at the regular Sunday school hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pielstick drove to Caldwell and Marsing Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Bruno and family spent the week-end at New Meadows.

Lawrence McCrary and his mother spent Sunday at the Pinkston home at Roswell.

M. B. Barney and family attended the Nebraska picnic at Payette Sunday. It was estimated that there were about 600 who attended.

Sad Mistake

"What has become of that crack salesman you had in here?" asked a friend of the manager of Geck & Son, dealers in exclusive ladies' ready-to-wear. "I had to fire him," the manager replied. "He sold four of Solomon's wives an identical model of gown, and told each of them that there positively wasn't another one like it in existence."

A SIMILARITY

"Well, I wish him luck," said Jones, the other evening, after reading in the evening paper an account of the wedding of a popular member of the local cricket team, "but," he added, in a rambling tone, "marriage is very much like cricket."

"Don't be so ridiculous," snapped Mrs. Jones. "However can you compare cricket to marriage?"

"Why," replied Jones, "it looks so easy to those who haven't tried it."

BRavery

She—How dare you put your arm about me?

He—Why, you said you admired a brave man, didn't you?

French Osculation

He (with newspaper)—It says here that a fellow was recently sentenced to a month's hard labor for giving a kiss.

She—Oh, Armand, give me one as if you were going to be sentenced for life.

No Style to It

Doris—Ruth has a position as detective in one of the big department stores.

Fern—How awful. Just imagine being known as a "plain clothes" woman!

POOR BUT HAPPY

"You have been coming to Washington a great many years."

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum, "and I have shown my love of country in doing so."

"You mean you have made sacrifices?"

"Well, I don't exactly say a government is ungrateful, but it doesn't measure up to a big corporation in making up a liberal pay roll."—Washington Star.

With the Spaces

Knobryne—Every evening before I go to bed I write down my thoughts in my diary. Interesting, don't you think?

Nina—Oh, most. How long have you been doing it?

"About a couple of years."

"Then you must have the first page nearly full."

Demand and Supply

Country-Bred Maid—But, sir, why do you write so much?

Master—I am an author—I write novels.

Maid—Fancy taking all that trouble when you can buy a novel for sixpence!—Fleegende Blaetter (Munich).

Rules of the Game

"Where is the car I left parked here?"

"I can only tell you where part of it is."

Overinformed

"In a short time," asserted the energetic statesman, "we'll have some further investigations."

"Good heaven!" sighed Senator Sorghum. "Don't we know enough?"—Washington Star.

The Difference

Man wants but little here below.

Nor wants that little long.

Our prima donnas want more, though.

And want it for a song.

Knew Herself

She—I'll grant your income would be enough for us to marry on, if only you hadn't such expensive fads.

He—Expensive fads? What expensive fads have I?

"Me, for one."

Happy Ending

Jane—So Kit married Charlie. Was it a perfect romance?

Mario—Yes, indeed. She gets every cent of her alimony on the very day it's due.—Town Topics.

Self-Defense
"The cook has left," said the housewife.

"I don't blame her," answered the tired business man. "She couldn't be expected to go on eating the food she was delivering from the kitchen."—Washington Star.

Not Wanted

Mrs. Newrich—What's that rough-looking plant?

Gardener—That belongs to the Cactus family.

Mrs. Newrich—Tell them to take it home.

Looking and Listening

"I suppose all you statesmen will be glad to see one another again."

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "We'll be glad to see one another, but in a little while we won't be so rejoiced to hear one another."—Washington Star.

NO TROUBLE TO TURN

"She has a head like a door-knob."

"How come?"

"Any man can turn it."

The Next Step

Fair Client—And when he refused to marry me I made up my mind to see you.

Her Lawyer—All right, now make up your face to see the jury.

No Success

She—You're two hours late. What's your excuse?

He—I have no excuse. I've been outside two hours trying to think of

EMBRYONIC SALESMEN

"Old college ties, gentlemen," orated the old grad from the platform, "old college ties—the lasting loyal love for our alma mater, and her love for us. Where, fellow alumni, where, I ask you, can you find a greater, better, worthier, nobler, finer, stronger bond—a bond which will repay you more?"

"Y-a-a-a-y!" shouted the entire class of '28 rising to their feet, "A customer!"

And the old grad was utterly destroyed in the rush.

Even Up!

"What was your car expense last year?"

"Five thousand dollars. I bought a new car for $4,000, and it cost me $1,000 to run it. What was yours?"

"The same. I bought a used car for $1,000 and it cost me $4,000 to run it!"

No Hope

"Now," cautioned the judge, "remember you are to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth."

"Golly!" exclaimed the dusky defendant. "Mah case am los' right now!"—American Legion Monthly.

WOULDN'T BE LONG THERE

Wife—Don't you think our new chauffeur is too tall?

Ebbby—Yes; but I don't think he'll be long here.

Correct

Although this rhyme may make you grin.

It's time, you will agree: There are two or three monkeys in Most every family tree.

Tagged

"Didn't some brainless idiot propose to you before we were married?"

"Yes."

"I wish to goodness you'd married him."

Fine

O'Donnell—Stimson claims he has two receiving sets and that he can tune in on a fight program with either one.

O'Connell—That's his little joke. He has a party phone, besides his radio set you know!

Poetical Division

Stave is another word for stanza or verse of a poem or song. Since a carol is literally a song celebrating the nativity of Christ, it is quite appropriate that the subdivisions be termed staves.
