Selection of Feeds for Ration for Dairy Cow

When you wish to make up a ration for the individual cow or for the herd there are two important ingredients to be considered in selecting the feeds. These are: 1. Digestible protein. 2. Total digestible nutrients.

Protein is especially important in milk production and all dairy rations should be liberally supplied with this element, but the use of too much protein may be detrimental. The feeding of high protein feeds may be carried to extremes with the result that many cows will be prematurely burned out or become shy breeders. The increased use of alfalfa has given a protein roughage that does not require the high protein grains that we have become accustomed to using with our lower grades of hay.

Separator Care Pays

Reports from herd improvement association testers show that heavy losses in butterfat occur whenever separators are poorly adjusted or not properly cleaned. Among the more common causes are separators not set level, excessive vibration, irregular speed, failure to keep clean, flushing with cold instead of lukewarm water, and so on. It has been found that losses of fat may be three times greater in separators which have not been washed after each use.

DAIRY INDUSTRY NOW IS IMMENSE

Milk Represents Fourth of Production on Farms.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
"The dairy industry is an immense industry. It holds an exceedingly important place in our national economic structure. This must be so, because the commodity it produces is a prime essential in our very existence," said O. E. Reed, chief of the bureau of dairy industry, United States Department of Agriculture, in addressing the first annual meeting of the North Carolina State Dairyman's association at Greensboro.

"The dairy industry is of such great size that it is difficult to realize how big it is," he said. "The steel industry was once called 'the billion-dollar industry.' In the year July 1, 1927, to July 1, 1928, according to estimates, the total income received by American farmers for all their farm products was about $12,250,000,000. One-fourth of this, or about three billions, was produced by our dairy cows. This was two and a half times the annual value of the cotton crop, two and a half times the beef and veal crop, more than three times the wheat crop, and more than twice the hog crop."

The demand for the dairy products of American farms is increasing year by year; milk, butter, cheese, ice cream, etc., are becoming a greater part of the diet of the American people, he said.

"The increase in the demand for dairy products is due to two factors. The first is the improvement that has taken place in the quality of all dairy products generally in the last few years. There is a direct relation between quality and consumption. Milk that is low in quality is always difficult to market to advantage, whereas milk of good flavor and high sanitary quality always has, under normal economic conditions, an advantageous market and is consumed in relatively large amounts. The second factor is a better understanding on the part of people generally of the value of milk and milk products in relation to nutrition and health. In recent years a great deal of emphasis has been put upon the vitamin content of foods. Milk is rich in vitamins, those accessory food substances which are necessary for the proper functioning of the body.

"The problem of raising the general level of quality of milk and cream at the point of production, the farm, is one that must be given more consideration. The objects of quality improvement are to increase consumption and provide the consumer with clean, wholesome, and nutritious dairy products. Statistics on the per capita consumption of milk show that the southern states are low in their per capita consumption of all kinds of dairy products, as compared with other sections of the country. The producer as well as the manufacturer should make every effort to increase the consumption of milk."

Investigate Before You Invest!

Here is a good thing to bear in mind:

When an investment proposition offers big returns with very little chance of loss, it is not necessary to send salesman around the country letting the public in.

The next time a stranger comes to you with a "sure-shot" business opportunity, ask yourself if he isn't going to a good deal of trouble in order to let you make some money. Ask yourself why he didn't let a few big financiers handle it. If a thing is safe for you, it would have been safe for them.

Before you invest, investigate! The Malheur County Bank will be glad to obtain reliable information for you without charge.
