

ARCADIA HARVESTS GRAIN; SECOND HAY

Arcadia—Harvest of grain is well under way throughout this district. The crop is good. Many acres of grain are in the shock and several fields are combined. With the second cutting of hay in progress on many farms as well, this might be called the busiest season of the year in the Nyssa valley. Thos. Coward and Deibert Baker finished another apple spraying this week. Mrs. Ray Amens and her son Duane have been spending a month in the Blue mountains above LaGrande. Mr. Amens went after his wife last week.

Wesley Newton accompanied him and he and Duane remained at Island City. J. E. Vincent family of Caldwell were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sager. Mrs. J. T. Long, with Mr. and Mrs. Dart Long, returned from Salem last week. They held a homecoming picnic on the lawn Sunday.

FALLING STAR WAS HIGHLIGHT IN TRIP TO MALHEUR CO.

W. P. Mathews, arrival here Saturday from Puyallup, Wash., found that he had something in common with Nyssa people when he glanced over a copy of last week's Journal. With more than ordinary interest he read the account of a falling star, as he observed it, while camping in a canyon near Andrews, Oregon. He stated that in his opinion the meteor was more beautiful than any rocket he saw at a huge fireworks display in Spokane the Fourth.

Mathews has been traveling around a bit and Owyhee dam and Nyssa were in his itinerary. He has friends at Owyhee, the Frank Lawlor family. Lawlor's daughter Gladys was a student in Puyallup high school last year.

"I like your great country immensely," said Mathews. "It is inspiring to visualize what an empire it will be when water is supplied another 100,000 acres." Mathews sent several copies of The Journal to his home city.
