WOOL GROWERS TO HOLD BIG CONFAB

Pendleton—With western Oregon men joined with sheep men east of the mountains in large numbers for the first time, the annual meeting of the Oregon Wool Growers association at Pendleton January 18 and 19 is expected to be the largest attended of any in many years. Delegations from Douglas county and other points west of the mountains have sent word that they are coming, says Walter Holt, secretary, who is arranging the program.

How concentrated advertising served to boost lamb consumption more than 60 per cent in Omaha this past season will be told as part of the report to be made by Earl Racey, "the man from Texas," who has been in charge of the national advertising campaign in which Oregon producers have joined. His report and other important matters connected with promotion of lamb marketing and consumption are scheduled for Monday when it is hoped the largest attendance may be had.
