MALHEUR BANKS
IN GOOD STATE,
EXAMINER SAYS

BRIGHTER NEWS COMES FROM BOISE TODAY, FOLLOWING THE CLOSING OF FIRST NATIONAL CHAIN.

The First National Bank of Idaho, in Boise, closed its doors yesterday morning. Shortly after came an order requesting the nine affiliated banks, among them the Ontario National and Vale National banks in Malheur county, to follow suit.

"The board of directors deemed it necessary for the protection of depositors throughout the system," came word from Boise. As a result doors were closed less than an hour after opening Wednesday morning and the news spread rapidly throughout this region. An optimistic note was sounded by R. E. A. Palmer, national bank examiner in charge, when he hinted broadly today that there is a possibility of the three national banks reopening. This would include both banks in Malheur county, and the Boise institution.

"As soon as I get through looking over the paper I will be in a position to speak more definitely," he said, "but I feel certain that the Reconstruction Finance corporation will lend every possible aid, and it is likely that there will be interesting developments within a few days."

It is believed that the Ontario and Vale banks are in excellent condition. Deposits in the Ontario bank, according to the June 30 report, were $794,679.09; in the Vale, $222,874.67. While there is temporary inconvenience through lack of two banking facilities, indications are that the resources of the two Oregon banks, and others in the chain, are sound.

PARMA BANK CLOSES

Word came to Nyssa this morning that the Parma National bank had closed its doors. Whether or not the closing is temporary, on account of the affairs of the First National group, is not known as yet. Local patrons stated that it might be a precautionary move.

Bids will be called in 30 days, it is said.

INDIAN HURT
IN FAIR RIDE

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS LAST DAY PROGRAM AT FAIR; EVEN-ING CROWD THRILLS AT HIGH DIVE.

A large crowd filled the grandstand at the closing program of the Malheur county fair in Ontario Saturday, insuring success for the sponsors, the Ontario Post of the American Legion.

Riders of the bronchos thrilled the crowd. Wilkin Williams, an Indian from Pendleton, suffered a broken collarbone when he was thrown from Brown Jug, one of the most vicious horses on the fair grounds. Walter Shimp and Jack Hanson tied for first place in the finals of the bucking contest. Buck Smith of Pendleton was champion bulldogger with John Whit-cher of Ontario, second.

In the relay that closed the program, Fleetwood on the Haines string and G. Young on his own mounts thrilled the crowd with a finish neck to neck. The highlight of the evening carnival was the 100 foot dive into a tub of water made by Otto Tugleber.

PASTOR ATTENDS

PIERCE ATTENDS
GRANGE PICNIC

EX-GOVERNOR PIERCE ADDRESS-ES FARMERS FROM THREE COUNTIES.

Grangers and their families, 150 strong, from Malheur, Grant and Baker counties, gathered Sunday on Camp creek, beyond Unity, for the annual tri-county grange picnic. Malheur county was represented by delegations from Big Bend, Nyssa, Boulevard, Vale, Oregon Slope.

After a big dinner came the program, planned by Mrs. Karl Norvall of Vale. Pomona lecturer, Ex-Governor Walter Pierce was the principal speaker. "It is the grange, not the lodge or civic organizations of the town, which is working to place agriculture on an equal footing with industry," said Pierce after urging the farmers to stay with their own organization.

E. R. Jackman, of Oregon State college, spoke in glowing terms of the grange, of which he has been a member for 25 years. He also told of a new dry land grass which will be tried on an experimental scale in Malheur county. Other numbers were talks by C. Fortner and Roger Morse, agents of Baker and Grant counties, and Chas. Wicklander, grange deputy of La Grande; songs by Boulevard and Vale granges; reading by Mrs. Hardy Murray of Unity and Mrs. Nellie Carroll of Vale; and fun features contributed by Hereford grangers under the direction of Mrs. Esther Reed.

C. C. Ketchum brought a trailer load of watermelons from Oregon Slope and these were served at 5 o'clock. It was voted to have next year's picnic the second Sunday in August. J. Edwin Johnson of Vale, George Yoakum of John Day and T. C. Dearinger of Hereford were elected to make arrangements.

KOLONY PIRATES
TAKE SCOUTS TO BIG BEND LAIR

A band of Pirates, brave and gay, greeted the Nyssa Girl Scouts at Adrian Monday night and carried them to their rendezvous which proved to be the lighted lawn at the attractive home of Mrs. F. A. Miller in Big Bend for a joint meeting.

During the opening exercises, Scouts were fined for using slang. The prize for best grammarian fell to Miss Isabel Sarazin. Then Lois Enos and Lempi Ahoe gave a clever Mutt and Jeff dance. A reading by Faye Betts; Pirate dance, by the Kingman Kolony Scouts; solo, Ingrid Ahoe; dancing and a watermelon feast made the evening most enjoyable. Mrs. Clarence Winters, Ella Martin and Margaret Pinkerton played for the dancing. Mrs. Maurice Judd, leader of the Kingman troop, and Miss Pearl Williams, lieutenant, advised the troop in planning the delightful event.

Helgson Hurt
On Dragline
Shift Monday

Tom Helgson, workman on the Owyhee irrigation project, had a narrow escape from death and was seriously injured Monday. His clothes caught in the clutch of the dragline and pulled him into the mechanism of the machine. Before he could be released, his shoulder, leg and ankle were severely wrenched and bruised. No bones were broken. Helgson was rushed to the Holy Rosary hospital where it is reported he is recovering.

Helgson worked for the General Construction company on the Mitchell Butte canal contract which includes tunnel and approach construction.

Another accident occurred Monday when Klug, sub-contractor on the canal work, received a crushed thumb when he attempted to block the wheels of his heavily loaded truck. He caught his thumb between the wheel and a rock.

LOCAL MERCHANT
SAYS PUBLIC
NOT INFORMED

Wool is one of our greatest Northwest industries, says Ernest C. Wilson of Wilson Brothers Store, and yet few people realize that nothing as yet has been discovered which can take its place. Wool fibres are tubular, covered with thousands of little scales and when the fibres are properly woven together permit the body to breathe properly, insulating it, keeping out both heat and cold.

He explains that a sheep runs over the hills in the hottest summer weather with a full fleece, yet its body is kept comfortable because the heat cannot reach it. An Indian wraps a pure wool robe or shawl around him close in the real hot weather and in the real cold weather. Golfers, he continued, wear wool hose to keep their feet from getting sore, they don't realize that the reason their feet don't get sore in wool socks is that wool allows them to breathe freely.

Pure wool blankets in their lightness and warmth are the only perfect coverings for healthy body slumber. He further relates that eastern markets show preference for Northwest wool blankets on account of the pure water and climate making a finer finished product of softer and more serviceable fabrics. Wilson Brothers are making a display of western woens during their fall opening sale this week and next.

W. A. McNeil and family spent Sunday with friends in Caldwell. Mrs. Alma Simpson of Boise was a guest of her sister Mrs. Geo. McKee from Friday until Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Denizl Wilson of Arcadia spent Tuesday evening with Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Abbott.

Miss Delmer McKee is visiting with Mrs. Lee Householder in Caldwell this week. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Henderson and children of Owyhee Dam were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith. Miss Gladys Campbell gave a dinner Sunday for Miss Ula Mahan of Parma. Miss Esther Nelson of Apple Valley, Chester Sager of Arcadia and Raymond Holly of Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ray of Huntington visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burton Sunday. On Monday Mr. Ray made a business trip to Vale. Mrs. Arvilla Fauchier and Mrs. Josie Douglas went to Nampa, yesterday where they will attend the Methodist church conference. While in Nampa they will be guests of Miss Cleo Spencer and Mrs. Grace McFarland.

COUNTY CHAPTER OF RED CROSS
MAPS PROGRAM

NYSSA UNIT WILL WORK WITH OTHER TOWNS AND COUNTY
COURT; MISS WILSON REPRE-SENTS NATIONAL CHAPTER.

Miss Maria Wilson, director of the American Red Cross in Malheur county, met with the Nyssa unit of the Malheur county chapter comprising Nyssa, Ontario and Vale, at the city hall yesterday. Tentative plans call for a well-organized program with lodges, churches and civic organizations working together. Mrs. Dick Tensen, chairman of the Nyssa unit, presided.

The plan here is to elect a citywide relief committee, with a representative from each church, the American Legion, the Masonic, I. O. O. F. and Eagle lodges, the Nyssa Civic club, other women's organizations and the city council. In other years most of these organizations conducted their own relief work and there was some duplication. Miss Wilson solicits their renewed help but believes that cooperation will result in a better and more efficient relief program. Mrs. Tensen will request each organization to elect its representative at once.

Mrs. Tensen issued a new call for fruit jars which she will distribute to needy families. Mrs. George Stacey was appointed secretary, succeeding Mrs. F. B. Schloppkohl. Mrs. Wm. Schreman was appointed chairman of the annual Red Cross roll call. Mrs. H. Newby was appointed chairman of the production committee which will have charge of the distribution of Red Cross cotton and clothing that is donated locally.

The county chapter of the Red Cross has the backing of Judge David F. Gramham and the Malheur county court. Miss Wilson will make the counsel rooms her headquarters in Nyssa from 11 a. m. until noon every Tuesday. She is in her office in the courthouse at Vale Monday and Friday.

SLIGHT FROST VISITS
There was frost on the pumpkin Tuesday and Wednesday night but no damage to flowers, vegetables or fruits has been reported. The change in climate was noticeable, however, and heralds the arrival of early fall.

ECLIPSE OBSERVED HERE
Nyssa residents gazed at the sun yesterday and observed a partial eclipse. The next eclipse, visible in the United States is postponed until July 9, 1945, according to astronomers.

STORES CLOSE LABOR DAY
Most of the stores of the community will close Monday, Labor Day, so shoppers are invited to do their buying for the holiday as well as Sunday.

EAGLES DANCE THURSDAY
The Eagles lodge will give another of their popular dances next Thursday night at the Nyssa gymnasium. Large crowds attend the events and they have become very successful. The committee in charge for next Thursday includes Warren McHargue, Bill McConnell and Rock Shelton.

GIRL SCOUTS PASS TEST
Miss Margaret Hunt has passed the following Girl Scouts of Kingman Kolony on their bird finder's badge: Pearl Williams, Evelyn Hatton, Helen Winters, Madge Betts, Lois Schweizer, Virginia Miller, Ellen McConnell, Lois Enos. Miss Hunt said books, describing 25 birds, most of them local, were excellent. The Kingman troop, under the leadership of Mrs. Maurice Judd, has made excellent progress this summer.

Arthur and Wanda Gardner of Harper have been visiting their sister Mrs. Wesley Widner. Mrs. Widner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gardner, are among new settlers in the Harper section. R. R. Richardson has resumed work as telegrapher at Bliss, Ida., and Mrs. Richardson will join him there the end of this week. The Richardsons have rented their home to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Smith and daughters Deana and Doris, Miss Gertrude Wilson and Miss Donna Cook motored to La Grande, Sunday. Deana and Donna will attend Normal at LaGrande this fall. Miss Eva Boydell of Nyssa and Miss Mae Platt of Ontario returned last Thursday night from a delightful vacation visit of three weeks on the coast. They were in Portland, Seaside, Newport and in Tigard where Miss Boydell's sister Mrs. Britt Nedry resides.

Rev. Stanley Moore, pastor of the Nyssa, Ontario and Vale Episcopal churches, with Mrs. Moore and her mother, returned Tuesday from New Jersey where they have spent the summer. Rev. Moore will preach in Nyssa Sunday morning at 11 a. m.

BURGLARS RETURN
TIRE AND WHEEL;
TAKE GAS AND OIL

Either transient or local thieves have been busy in this community during the week and Marshal A. V. Cook has had the assistance of state and county officers in making investigations.

One thief changed his mind about using a tire and wheel he removed from Edmond Butler's car in the Butler garage last Thursday night. He also took a hat and auto robe. Tuesday night he returned the tire and wheel but overlooked the return of the other articles.

Sunday night or early Monday morning, burglars entered the tool-house of the Oregon Short Line and appropriated several cans of gas-oil and lubricating oil. It seems that the thieves are not pedestrians—but drive an automobile.

MURDER CASE
DUE FOR TRIAL

SEPTEMBER TERM OF CIRCUIT
COURT CONVENES NEXT WEEK;
HOLLINGSHEAD PLEADS TUESDAY

The grand jury convened Monday and at the close of the session reported three true bills and two not true bills. Albert R. Blodgett reported Tuesday. D. M. Bostwick was indicted for operation of a distillery and pleaded guilty. His sentence of one year in the penitentiary was paroled on good behavior. Wm. Westfall was indicted for the same offense. He has not been arraigned.

Those who served on the grand jury were Phillip Anderson and E. H. Brumbach of Big Bend, Robt. C. Enos of Adrian, C. C. Hull and Andrew Jensen of Vale, Robert Newby of Nyssa and A. E. Nichols of Ironside.

Fred Trenkel, rancher of the Lincoln community, was here Tuesday. He had just returned from Denver where he marketed three carloads of fine, fat lambs. They averaged 86 pounds and brought the top of the market.

Rich Harvest Brings Blue Ribbon
Produce For Annual County Fair

"I never saw better farm products." With these words, many patrons paid tribute to the cabbage and corn and melon, to the products of the field and to the farmer, at the 23rd annual Malheur county fair successfully staged by the granges of the county and Ontario Post of the American Legion in Ontario Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Ora E. Clark, president of the fair board, and other officials stated that they were well pleased with its success.

Oregon Slope Grange Wins
Oregon Slope grange carried off the blue ribbon for best grange booth. A diminutive train, with fine products and a chart, told a story of the shipments of agricultural produce from Malheur county in 1931. These statistics were given: butterfat 543,662 pounds, lambs 415 cars, cattle 192 cars, horses 60 cars, hogs 10 cars, mixed stock 12 cars, wheat 104 cars, potatoes 157 cars, onions 131 cars, apple 247 cars, prunes 90 cars, wool 17 cars, turkeys 8 cars.

Boulevard Second
Rosy cheeked apples, ripening early, formed the keynote of an artistic display presented by Boulevard grange which won second prize. A chart disclosed that 247 cars of apples shipped from this county last year returned $81,351 to the growers.

Vale Shows Project
From dragline to shack in the sage, from raw land to prosperous farm home—that was the picture story revealed by the Vale grange display, arranged by J. Edwin Johnson, county engineer. One section depicted the new land of the Vale irrigation project, the other a developed farm complete to stucco house in miniature. Five snapshots of the Earl Flagg property on the Bullly creek bench again told the story.

SEED GROWERS
OFFER ADVANCE
ON NO. 1 SEED

MALHEUR COUNTY SEED GROW-
ERS WILL MEET WITH REED
MOODY OF COOPERATIVE IN NYSSA MONDAY NIGHT.

Malheur county seed growers will have an opportunity to hear the details of the Intermountain Seed Growers organization next Monday evening, September 5, at the Owyhee Irrigation district office in Nyssa. At that time Reed Moody of Nampa, president of the new organization, will explain all plans in detail.

County Agent R. G. Larson has issued the call for this meeting due to the fact that many Malheur county growers are vitally interested. According to preliminary statements put out by the Intermountain Seed Growers, they are organizing with the aid of the Farmers' National Grain Growers and expect to market their seed through that organization. Moody has said that they are offering the grower who signs their contract an advance of 7 1/2c on red clover, 7c on common alfalfa and 8c on Grimm alfalfa seed. All advances are to be made on the basis of No. 1 seed.

The Nyssa Grain Company of Nyssa has been designated as one of their warehouses and all Malheur county seed growers who join this organization will deliver their seed at that point. There are many other matters of interest about this organization all of which will be explained on Monday evening at Nyssa.

FIGHT FANS SEE
LOMSKI KNOCKOUT

A number of Nyssa fight fans went to Boise Tuesday to take in the Leo Lomski vs. Denny Lenhart bout, which ended in a knockout for Lomski in the fifth round. Lenhart was floored six times before he succumbed to Lomski's attack and in the second round Lenhart had the best of it. Nyssa fans say it was a great exhibition.

Among those attending from here were Dwight and Dean Smith, Bernard Frost, Engineer O. G. Boden, Nate and John Young, Frank Reberger, Dick Young, Warren Blodgett, Will Beam, Wm. Schreman, Clark Enos of Adrian and C. L. McCoy.

EGUROLA IS NEW CITIZEN
Juan Egurola came in from his sheep camp at Beulah yesterday to take out his final papers for naturalization. His witnesses were Jess Thompson and Audrey Ward of Nyssa. Egurola is now a citizen of the United States and will be privileged to vote for Hoover this fall, if he desires.

Bend Goes Bicentennial
A beautiful and neatly presented booth was that of Big Bend grange which touched upon the George Washington Bicentennial. Stars made of corn centered fields of barley, wheat and oats. Each field was bordered with rosettes of corn. Prize products of the rich Bend country covered the floor space below.

New Lands Produce
The unusual feature of the booth of the Vale-Owyhee Land Settlement association, displaying products from the Bully creek bench and Harper tracts, was the variety of crops. Their excellence was amazing. Alfalfa, as tall as a man; luscious strawberries, huge potatoes and onions, were displayed from tracts that were covered with sagebrush a year and two years ago. Special prizes were awarded the winners in the Vale-Owyhee booth. V. V. Hickox assisted the association in arranging the display.

Farmer Has Booth
Everything to eat and wool to wear is produced on the Dave Chadwick farm in the Lincoln district. Mr. Chadwick had about 100 exhibits, from his farm alone, in another special display. Future Farmers of America, under the direction of O. D. Dearborn, had an attractive booth. Others were arranged by the Idaho Power company, Red Cross, Parent-Teacher association, county library and the 4-H clubs.

Appropriately enough, amidst the antiques, was the huge thigh bone of a mastodon found in Henry's Gulch. The bone was petrified and perfectly preserved. A pyramid of flowers was the brightest spot in the exhibit hall. Nearby Mrs. C. W. Barrett had as special table for flowers from her rockery.
