—News of Nyssa School—

LET'S WIN FROM BAKER.

One of the most important games of the season is to be played on our home field next Friday. Such a statement ought to stir the hearts of every student in Nyssa high school.

The boys on the football squad will be out on the field doing their best so why shouldn't all the rest of the students be on the side lines cheering them?

This is the first home game and a good majority of the town people will be out to see it. Why not show them that the students have some voices and can use them? Think what a boost it would be to our school to have the student body represented 100 per cent and each with an athletic ticket in his pocket.

How many will be with us to give the high school a good showing and to help send Baker home defeated?

CLASSES PUSH TICKET SALE

The Sophomores discussed plans for pushing the sale of student athletic tickets Wednesday. The following committee was appointed to get busy, Harriet Sarazin, Pauline Brush, Betty Cook, Louise Strode, Calvin Wilson—Lila Hite.

Tuesday the Seniors favored a drive by the entire student body, proposing that classes compete in an effort to sell the most tickets. The losing class would give the other classes a party at the close. The president appointed a Senior committee, Evelyn Earp, Lois Schweizer and Max Schweizer, to challenge the other classes.—Charlena Crawford.

Tuesday, Freshman answered the Senior challenge and appointed a committee to put the ticket sale over the top. Curtis Foster is chairman, Florence Boren, Vivian Patterson, Harold Anderson and Leonard Nichols, assistants. Freshman also selected the bleeding heart for the class flower, Vera McConnell.

SCHOOL PERSONALS

Florence Oamlica and her cousin Benita Gaviola have enrolled as freshmen. They resided at Boise before they came here.

Gladys Elliott, also a new freshman, has registered from Kingman Colony. Grace Posey, graduate of the College of Idaho, has enrolled as a post graduate student.

Mary Munsterman, head librarian, has been sorting and arranging the books in the library, taking out the damaged ones to be repaired.

There has been some talk of reorganizing the Pep Club.

WHAT'S NEEDED?

A little more kindness and a little less greed.

A little more giving and a little less greed.

A little more smile and a little less frown.

A little less kicking a fellow when he is down.

A little less boast and a little less brag.

A little more pep and a little less lag.

A little more "we's" and a little less "I's".

A little more laugh and a little less cry.

A little more flowers in the pathway of life.

And fewer on the grave at the end of a strife.

Pithy Quotations from Public Addresses of MELVIN A. TRAYLOR
President, First National Bank, Chicago

"It is time some leadership and some party called our attention to the fact there is no magic cure for the ills and the evils of human folly. We trod the primrose path of extravagance, of thoughtless and of almost criminal neglect of every sound principle of human conduct, from the individual to the government, and the individual was aided, encouraged, and abetted on that path by the government and those responsible for its administration."

"One of the biggest things was a watered state of mind in which we all thought we were richer than we were, and were living beyond our means."

"In my opinion, no great division of human society has ever been lied to, and lied about, as much in the same period of time as has the American farmer."

"This then is my hope for our future—that we may be rich without forgetting to be righteous; that we may be powerful without being offensively proud; that we may be nationally minded without being narrow-minded; and, finally, that we may live in a world of fact without surrendering our faith."

"I would urge consideration of the complete abolishment of so-called floor trading, which, as I am informed, has about it most of the characteristics of plain crap shooting, and few, if any, more redeeming features than that delightful Ethiopian pastime."

"It is bad enough when the intelligent and wealthy speculate and lose, but when scrubwomen, day laborers, small home owners, wives and youths speculate and lose, simply because they can go to a broker's office and get credit for small sums, the practice ceases to be defensible on any ground."

"Out of the stress and difficulty of the situation I believe gradually we shall return to simpler thinking and simpler living. For it seems to me that we want above everything to abandon the struggle to live up with the Joneses, and to rediscover the true purpose of life, which is the joy to be found in the simple virtues of industry, thrift and sane living. I believe in our people, in our country, and in the God who directs our destinies; and I welcome the future with confidence and unshaken faith."

"We have not failed because of ignorance of economic theories, but because of our utter disregard and defiance of all economic laws. Ambition, stupidity, and greed have dictated policies, and trouble has been the result."

"All through history... the nations that have been agriculturists and have included in their agricultural and domestic pursuits the breeding and raising of livestock have been the nations that have endured the longest and performed the greatest work for mankind."

"Open the door of an agricultural school and you close the door of a poorhouse."

"Relief from owing too much money does not lie in borrowing more."

"Human welfare, I believe, means more than the mere assurance to the individual of political rights—life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—as enunciated in the Declaration of Independence; it means also the opportunity to exercise these inalienable rights."

"Knowledge is one thing, but courage of leadership is another."

"Falsehood and error make the headlines, while truth and fact are lost in the maze of half-point type."

"What does freckle-faced Johnny, snub-nosed Bill or red-headed Jim care about composition, translation or conjugation? The only cube root life will ever give them a chance to extract will probably be that of a hickory or sassafras sprout; the only unknown quantity they will ever seek to find will be the measure of the nubbins they can produce on the worn-out fields their fathers have robbed before them; the only conjugation they will ever undertake will sound something like 'We Work,' 'You Work,' 'They Work.'"

"We cannot trade the hungry, the unfed, the feeble voice of the sick, the empty basket of the unemployed, against the maintenance of party preference or individual advantage or personal achievement."

"I believe I am a better farmer by a long shot than I am a banker."

"We must either all thrive together or all suffer disaster."
