EXPECT THROG AT CONVENTION

BOISE IS WONDERING HOW DELEGATES TO NATIONAL GRANGE MEETING CAN BE PLACED

(By Ray McKaig)
Boise, Idaho, Aug. 1: "Where, oh, where, are we going to put all the delegates and visitors at the State and National Grange conventions in Boise this coming November?" is the wall of W. W. Deal, state master. "We will have at least two thousand people part of that time."

"National Master Louis Taber has partially promised to conduct a series of enthusiasm meetings this early fall. Ray Gill, the state master of Oregon, and his executive committee state that there will be five hundred Oregon Grangers here. From the Walla Walla country and the Palouse belt of Washington state will come nearly as many."

"Now comes the word that a special train rolls in from the east with the National delegates. Then Idaho will have its big quota. The hotels and boarding houses in Boise will be taxed to the limit. Besides the usual convention routine, there will be initiation of a large class of hundreds of Grangers into the 7th degree."

"The community banquet will be put on by the Ada county Grange. Under Mrs. C. D. Peebler, state lecturer, there will be an entertainment program. Mrs. L. W. Greathouse and her committee will have charge of an Idaho First exhibit of all agricultural and other produce of the state, taking place on a small scale of a State Fair. Everybody is co-operating," continued Mr. Deal.

"The State Chamber of Commerce and the Boise citizens and other communities are all giving promise of help. A volunteer rodeo may be a part of the program put on by the Grangers of the state. The eastern delegates will have an eyeful of bucking horses. They expect it, and why not give it to them. Some of the people from the east have no idea as to the immense agricultural resources of our state. They believe Idaho is still wild and woolly.

"The interest that the State Grangers are taking in the coming conventions promises a big attendance."

Unwanted "Privilege"

When the inhabitants of Trinidad, British island in the West Indies, were given the right to divorce they sent a delegation to London to protest against having this privilege.
