

LES BERRY WINS FROM DOMINGO AT EAGLES CARD

IVAN FULLER AND PETE PRESTON PUT ON SCRAPPIEST BOUT LARGE CROWD ATTENDS.

A crowded house saw Les Berry of Emmett win another fight from Jumping Joe Domingo of Boise at the Eagles benefit smoker here Friday evening, arranged by Bernard Frost and Wm. DeGroot. Berry was the aggressor from the first punch, Domingo taking the defensive through five rounds. In the sixth he exchanged some hard blows with Berry but the Emmett boxer stood his ground. Berry won the judges' decision, his fourth win in Nyssa and the 11th out of 12 bouts.

Ivan Fuller of Emmett and Pete Preston of Meridian staged a gory battle which was a thriller from start to wind-up. The blocky Ivan showed good training and took the lead although Preston made up in pluck all that he lacked in training. There was a fast fight which put spectators on their toes.

In the semi-finals, Bill Magill of Meridian had the best of a 6-round bout with Bob Kennedy, a stranger here who had come from an Idaho C. C. C. camp for the fracas. Magill's height and longer reach gave him the advantage over the scrappy cadet.

Substituting for Johnny Sanders, another Emmett lad, weighing 67 pounds, landed a knockout blow on the nose of Norman Leavitt after the plucky little Leavitt had put up quite a fight against his larger opponent.

Two young favorites Paul Ayre and Billie Spencer fought a draw which closed with a hard-hitting slugfest in the fourth round. Harold Long, fast little scrapper from Arcadia, met Alma Hendriks in a 4-round special. He, too was fast, so their bout also ended in a draw.

Don Masterson of Vale and Don Craemer of Emmett were judges in the main event. Pat Rafferty of Wilder was referee, Art Norcott, announcer. A large crowd attended from Emmett, also numerous fans from Vale and Ontario.

State Must Match Federal Funds For Relief; Special Session Considered

The demand that the state match in ratio of two to one federal funds for the emergency relief fund for this winter, resulted in a conference called by Governor Meier to determine how this state's portion can be raised. Governor Meier proposed a special session of the legislature to determine such means but he stated that a special session would not be called unless desired by leaders throughout the state. He also favored a sales tax such as the one recently defeated.

Pierce Williams, field man for the administration, stated that hereafter the government relief allocations will not exceed $1 for every $2 raised by the state. However, the public works program is expected to relieve the situation this fall and winter.

E. L. Merserau, federal re-employment director, stated that 4000 men will have work for ten months on the highway program. Already an office for Malheur, Baker, Union and Wallowa counties is being set up in Baker with Ivan White, district manager at Baker. Charles M. Paradis will continue in charge of the Malheur county re-employment office.

MRS. FAUCHIER, 71, KILLS 3 SNAKES ON SUMMER OUTING

Mrs. Arvilla Faucher, 71, mother of Mrs. C. A. Abbott, isn't afraid of snakes and she isn't afraid to camp in the timber with no men around—in fact, she enjoys it and goes camping every summer. For two weeks she has been camping in the Malheur forest near the Robt. Long camp. On three occasions a rattler came to visit. Mrs. Faucher promptly killed him. The longest snake measured 42 inches and carried seven announcers. Another time, a bull strolled into camp but left when he found he was unwelcome. A porcupine was harder to get rid of so Mrs. Faucher summoned Long.

Saturday, Mrs. Faucher's companion Mrs. Joeie Douglas returned home with Mr. Long who was in town for supplies. On Sunday Mrs. Abbott accompanied him to her mother's camp for a week's outing.

LOCAL APPLE CROP IS GOOD

FRUIT IN FINE CONDITION DESPITE HOT WEATHER; PRICE OUTLOOK ENCOURAGING.

The apple crop in this vicinity, despite the extremely hot weather of late July and mid-August, is in good condition and growers believe the yield will be larger than last season. Spraying and thinning has been completed and little work remains until the harvest begins in September.

Although few crops have been contracted in the west, growers anticipate a good market for apples this fall owing to the general advance in staples, according to a leading Nyssa grower, C. C. Hunt.

Although the prune crop was cut down by the late frost in the spring, a few carloads of prunes will swell fruit shipments from Nyssa, orchardists say.

State Must Match Federal Funds For Relief; Special Session Considered

Another report from Baker yesterday indicated that road work may begin September 10. It is understood the wage scale will be 55 cents an hour for unskilled labor and 65 cents for skilled during a 30-hour week. Contractors will be required to employ laborers signed up under the relief program. Just where Malheur county men will be employed has not yet been announced.

Yesterday, Governor Ross of Idaho disapproved a special session of the Idaho legislature for the purpose of considering the relief program. He suggested that counties raise the amount to match required federal funds. He also stated that he believes the public works program will relieve the unemployment problem to a large extent during the coming fall and winter.

Miss Ethel Mary Boydell was able to return home Thursday evening from a Boise hospital where she underwent a sinus operation early last week. Her mother Mrs. A. H. Boydell and Miss Harriet Sarazin, who were with her several days, also returned home.

Wheat and Barley Fields Average High Near Here

Although the hay crop is somewhat lighter this season, a bumper crop of grain is brightening the feed situation in Malheur county. Harvest is nearing completion and reports of golden yields are pouring in.

Dick Stam of Nyssa cropped a fine yield from ten acres of wheat which was combined by Chas. Overstreet. Stam's wheat ran 65 bushels to the acre. A few acres of barley ran 93 bushels per acre.

Fred Koopman had another stand of wheat which cropped 55 bushels per acre from a ten acre tract. Mr. Overstreet reported a 75-bushel-per acre average on 15 acres of oats on the Ward Brothers ranch.

Overstreet said the average for wheat, for the entire valley, is around 45 bushels per acre, for oats and barley, from 60 to 65 acres. Saturday he completed a run of 35 days with his combine.

GERMAN HEIR IS HOMESICK

RICH LANDLORD OF TODAY WAS FARMER NEAR NYSSA YESTERDAY.

Two years ago in July, Walter P. Van Marionholtz tilled the soil, working from dawn until dusk like other farmers of this region, but today he is landlord on an estate in Rittergut, Post Mudden, Grifhorn, Germany, which is farmed by 150 tenants. He and his family live in a mansion 20 miles from Berlin where Marionholtz inherited a small fortune from his grand-aunts. One is living.

Marionholtz was born in this country, in Missouri where his parents farmed for years. When a young man, he came to the Snake river valley. He owned a farm here and another in Middleton, Idaho. He married a Middleton girl. They have four children, one a baby girl who was born in their home in Germany. Mrs. Marionholtz is a sister of Mrs. Ira Bray of Middleton.

Mrs. Marionholtz recently wrote a Nyssa friend Mrs. Mary Robertson that her husband's chief sport is deer hunting. Deer are plentiful on his estate—but he must pay the government $60 a year for license. In spite of good hunting and manison, Mrs. Marionholtz said the family is lonesome for the Snake river valley.

HIGH WINDS RUIN GOLF COURSE SO MOVE IS PLANNED

HILTOP NEAR NYSSA AND PASTURE LAND IN APPLE VALLEY VIEWED AS POSSIBLE NEW SITES.

The wind having moved the greens and fairways on the Nyssa-Parma Golf course to slope and swale, the club is considering a permanent move to a more desirable location. Preliminary steps were taken at a meeting in Parma last night when members of the club considered two possible sites for a new nine-hole course, one the hiltop near the Osterkamp farm across the river from Nyssa and the other a green pasture in Apple Valley.

C. L. McCoy, club president, appointed Charles Albertson and Glenn Merriman of Parma, A. H. Boydell and C. C. Hunt of Nyssa to investigate new sites. They were instructed to report at an early date.

The present golf course is at the mercy of each high wind as it covers a very sandy area. During the recent heavy storms, greens were entirely blown away and dunes cover the once open fairways. Directors believe it would require as much work and expense to improve the present course as to build a more desirable one in some location less subject to blows.

Members of the club who attended from Nyssa were Nate Young, O. G. Bodin, Mr. Boydell, Mr. McCoy and W. F. McLaughlin.

WITNESSES GET WATERMELON FEED

A previous attack and persecution beyond the point of "reasonable endurance," caused Judge J. R. Hunter to dismiss the case of Beryl Ham vs. Gerley Shaul in justice court Monday. It is said, however, that neither the judge nor Hugh Biggs district attorney, shared in that event.

FALLING LIMBS CUT POWER OFF

Rain and a heavy wind on Sunday brought a cool interval after the August hot spell but it also brought trouble for the Idaho Power company. A limb fell across the high tension line in Apple Valley, cutting off the circuit in Nyssa and Parma. Bernard Frost and Henry Rogers of Payette soon had the Nyssa circuit at work but an hour's repair was required before power was supplied the Parma area.

The wind also blew a heavy limb onto the line which supplies the Jim Boor farm with power. It was repaired Sunday.

George Dean, former newspaper man of this section, was here from Portland yesterday.

WHEAT GROWERS OF NYSSA NAME 3 FOR ALLOTMENT BOARD

County Agent R. G. Larson is finding that the wheat allotment plan meets with the approval of Malheur ranchers in all sections this week, as growers are signing up almost 100 per cent at the series of wheat meetings. Thirty growers signed the allotment agreement in Nyssa Tuesday. They elected Pieter Tensen a member of the county board, Franklin Fry and Frank Morgan, members of the community board.

Meetings were held in Kingman Colony and Big Bend where attendance was cut down by harvest work. At meetings scheduled for a later date, county and community directors will be named.

One county board director and two community directors will be elected in each of the eight divisions into which Malheur has been divided for the administration of the wheat allotment plan.

COUNTY FAIR ON SEPTEMBER 1-2

RACE MEET IS CALLED OFF BUT FAIR BOARD WILL STAGE 2-DAY RODEO.

Only two days of racing and rodeo, and no pari mutuel betting, will be held at the 21st annual Malheur county fair in Ontario September 1 and 2, instead of the five days previously scheduled. The usual street carnival and dancing will be held fair nights.

The change in plans was made necessary yesterday by the decision reached by horsemen who had promised to bring their strings to Ontario, to remain in Gresham for the meet scheduled there after the local dates had been allowed by the state commission.

In the meantime local owners had been preparing their horses for the races, and they were disappointed at not having the opportunity to run their ponies against the outside strings, so the committee decided to give visitors to the fair a good program for two days.

Malheur county granges are proceeding with plans for the annual agricultural fair which will be held September 1 and 2. Officials are Ora Clark, John Lehnard and O. D. Dearborn. Marshall N. Dana, prominent newspaper man of Portland, "friend of the Owyhee," and more recently regional director of the huge public works program, was welcomed in Nyssa today by the directors of the Owyhee project. Bringing good tidings, Mr. Dana stopped at The Journal office to state that Owyhee work will proceed this fall, adding that "monies from the public works fund have been turned over to the reclamation bureau." According to Mr. Dana, Owyhee ranks high in the list of approved public works. A code for labor, which contractors will be required to meet, is now being prepared.

Together they are attending the Caldwell picnic, a banquet in Boise, another in Caldwell and tomorrow noon a luncheon in Ontario which has been arranged by W. J. Pinney, secretary of the Ontario commercial club. The Owyhee board will attend the Caldwell banquet and the luncheon in Ontario.

Mr. Dana and Mr. Bessey will return to Portland Saturday.

AUTOS IN WRECK AT SCHOOLHOUSE

The case of state vs. John Bergland, charging reckless driving, was dismissed in the justice court today. It resulted from a collision near the schoolhouse Monday night in which cars driven by Bergland and Hugh Glenn, also of Nyssa, figured. Both cars were damaged.

E. O. Johnson, who gave his address as Nyssa, and a companion had a narrow escape when their car turned turtle in the irrigation canal near the "Y" Tuesday night. The car was demolished. Johnson was arrested in Ontario on a charge of drunkenness and yesterday was fined $15.

82 DIE ON LONG TRIP FROM MISSISSIPPI

Total dead numbered 82. Thus, the casualty list on a shipment of 1000 baby chicks read in the Nyssa freight office Tuesday after Agent W. T. Posey counted the living and the dead for Ira Storey, Nyssa poultryman, who received the shipment from Wind-rock, Mississippi.
