

STUDENTS HAVE
PICTURES TAKENNYSSA SCHOOL NEWS
(By Harriet Sarazin)

Having pictures taken was an event of interest for most of the classes in grade and high school the forepart of the week. J. B. McNeil took two pictures of the high school student body Monday and one picture of each class. Mr. McNeil then sold the pictures to grade and high school pupils Tuesday for 25 cents each.

ORCHESTRA ORGANIZED

Chas. Waddingham, band leader met with close to thirty students Tuesday for the purpose of organizing the Nyssa school orchestra. Fifteen members were enrolled.

NEW CHILDREN'S BOOKS

Portland, Ore., (Special) Boys and girls have a real treat in store for them with the publication this week of "Cougar Pass" by Elizabeth Lambert Wood. This is the second book of the Western Wilderness Series written by this author. "Cougar Pass" is an absorbing narrative of the Oregon Cascades with its plot woven around the adventures of three boys who go hunting and are pursued by a cougar. There is more to the book than the adventures of the pursuit, for human interest elements bring the plot to an unusual climax and make the story as humely inspiring as adventurously exciting. The book is cleverly illustrated by Louise Hosch and was published by the Metropolitan Press, Portland.
