NYSSA BULLDOGS CLOSE GRID SEASON

NYSSA SCHOOL NEWS

The annual Armistice Day clash closed the gridiron season for the Nyssa Bulldogs Saturday in Ontario, when the Nyssa boys lost 13 to 0. Ontario punched over a touchdown in the first quarter by a rush through the center of the line. The kick for extra point was blocked. In the beginning of the second quarter Ontario again headed for the Nyssa goal line. After 3 downs and no yardage made with the ball on the Nyssa 2-yard line, Tscheu passed to Smith for a second touchdown. Smith kicked the goal making the score 13. Ontario threatened to score again in the 4th but the Bulldogs held them for a first down.

Nyssa's team was going at its highest point of efficiency in the last minutes of the 2nd quarter when Howard Boar twice went through Ontario's line for a first down. Both teams played straight football, although Ontario drew seven penalties, three of which were 15 yards each for unnecessary roughness. Nyssa drew two penalties one 15-yard and one 5-yard.

Ontario threw 14 passes, six of which were complete. The longest one—Tscheu to Smith netted a 40 yard gain. Although Nyssa did not win the game this year, it was not because she didn't try. Tscheu, left halfback for Ontario, was just a bit too fast for the locals in his end runs.

SENIOR GIRLS WIN

Seniors won first place and Juniors second, in the girls interclass volleyball tournament which ended November 9. First year volleyball proved to be a most popular sport. Several weeks were spent in practicing and the last two weeks in a 24-game tournament, 12 games being played by each class. Every girl played at least six games, earning 10 points on the point system adopted by the school this fall. Twenty four girls won their ten points.

The final rating follows: Seniors .667, Juniors .583, Freshmen .500, Sophmores .250.

Basketball practice started this week. The girls as well as the boys hope to have a team this season.

Tiena T.—Did you know that all the animals came on the ark in pairs?
Robert G.—Yes, all except the worms and they came in apples.

Helen W.—Gordon, why didn't you go out for football?
Gordon T.—Well, you know how football boys waddle and roll in the mud.
Helen—But what has that to do with your playing football?
Gordon—They wanted to put me on the scrub team.

One of Every Five Families in Nation Receives Red Cross Jobless Relief in 1933

AN ARMY of volunteer men and women relief workers almost ten times greater in numbers than the standing army of the United States carried Red Cross relief into the homes of America's jobless during the past eighteen months.

Six hundred and forty-five thousand women joined under the Red Cross flag in sewing garments for the needy, in distribution of bread and flour, and in canning foods for their neighbors in distress because of unemployment. A half million men—bankers, lawyers, doctors, merchants and men in every walk in life—gave of their time as chapter officials and as active relief workers in distribution of goods. Thousands of trucks were lent to carry flour and clothing from railroad loading platforms to warehouses, and then into remote rural sections to be delivered promptly into homes where need was great.

"Only the Red Cross could assemble such an army of volunteer workers," was the tribute paid their service.

The relief was given to one of every five families in the nation. It went in every hamlet, village, town and city and to all rural districts. The flour and bread came from 85,000,000 bushels of government wheat and the clothing from 844,000 bales of government cotton, voted by Congress to the Red Cross for free distribution. More than five million families were recipients of both types of relief.

The wheat was converted into 10,658,000 barrels of flour, and 223,901 tons of stock feed. The cotton provided approximately 90,000,000 garments—overalls, jumpers, dresses, underwear, stockings and sweaters, for men, women and children. Blankets, comforters and sheets also were given.

Distribution of the cotton clothing and the flour cost the Red Cross $735,000 from its treasury.

The last of the flour was shipped by the Red Cross in June, and the last of the clothing was distributed in October.

Children were clothed for school this autumn and their parents were given garments to meet their needs.

This relief task was assumed by the Red Cross in addition to its chartered obligations in disaster relief, aid to veterans, health and safety education. Red Cross aid was given in 117 disaster areas in the United States and her insular possessions during the year. This relief work is made possible through the annual roll call for members carried on by Red Cross chapters each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.
