

Yule Holidays Open With Gay Social Events

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mrs. Ed. Wilson gave a jolly Christmas party for members of Monday bridge club at the regular meeting at her home Monday evening. A lighted Christmas tree decorated the living room and the holiday motif was used throughout. Mrs. Eddie Powell won first prize. Mrs. Farham Sills, consolation. Mrs. Dewey Ray and Mrs. Francis Burger were guests.

THURSDAY CLUB

Mrs. Glen Prizell entertained the Thursday bridge club last week with a pleasant party. Mrs. Warren Blodgett won first prize. Mrs. Ernest McClure won.

TUESDAY BRIDGE

Mrs. Ernest Wilson was hostess for Tuesday evening bridge club this week, entertaining the usual three tables. Christmas accessories were used. Pavors fell to Mrs. Barney Wilson and Mrs. Howard Larsen.

SUNDAY SUPPER CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burger were hosts at the first meeting of the Sunday supper club on Sunday evening, entertaining five couples. Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, among the new Tertelig people, played with members. The club will meet every two weeks through the winter months.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Henry Fields gave a birthday dinner Monday evening for her daughter Mrs. Lawrence Blodgett and niece Miss Cherald Green, whose birthdays occur on the same day. They are also the same age and have celebrated all but one birthday together.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Green Campbell entertained a crowd of young people Tuesday night in compliment to her daughter Alta who celebrated a birthday that day. Games and lunch made the evening a jolly one. The honoree received many nice gifts.

IRONSIDE FARMER

FRACTURES LEG

Ironside—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boor of Birch Creek came to see Ralph Boor, who recently broke his leg when his horse fell with him. The Boors also went to Fruitland to visit Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Boor.

John Rouse of Unity and niece Miss Gallagan of Haines were here on business last Wednesday.

The James McDeRoe family moved to the Smith place. They will feed their cattle hay purchased from E. J. Beam and the Smith Brothers.

An enjoyable time was held at the school house on the 15th when the Ladies club gave their bazaar. H. C. Elms was auctioneer. Mrs. Arthur Nichols won the club quilt. A dance followed after which a delicious supper was served. The proceeds bought treats for the Christmas tree.

S. A. Lofton and son shipped a car load of beef cattle to Portland Saturday. Earl Lofton accompanied the shipment.

Fahy Wise of Silver City came Sunday to visit a few days with his daughter Evelyn and grandpapa Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Wise.

Mrs. Floyd White returned Sunday from Unity where she was called to help care for her brother Frank Elms who was very sick. He is improved.

Geo. White of Halfway visited his son Floyd White last week.

Thos. McElroy of Vale moved his cattle from the Fred Laurance place to Vale. Herman Laurance helped drive the cattle down.

NEWCOMERS MOVE

TO LOWER BEND

Lower Big Bend—Mr. and Mrs. John Sparks and son are newcomers. They are moving on to the place recently occupied by Ocamias.

Reverend Ditton and family of Homedale have moved on to the place recently occupied by Tom Godwin.

The Cable family visited in Weiser Saturday.

All is in readiness for the Christmas program to be held Thursday, 21st.

The children at school have been enjoying hot lunches and will continue to do so throughout the cold weather.

Work on the drainage system has been started in the community.

The teachers were guests at the Thos. Welsh home Friday evening.

HURT IN JORDAN VALLEY

Cassie Cohen, salesman for the Ontario Grocery company, slipped on a wet and icy street in Jordan Valley Friday night and sprained his right ankle so severely he was unable to drive home. A. B. Azucenaga drove his car in for him Saturday and made a brief visit with friends in Nyssa. He reported a generous snow in Jordan Valley Friday.

CWA HELPS LABORER, SHOULD ALSO HELP CITY BUSINESS MAN

Nyssa—(To the Editor)—For many months national economists have admitted that the only practical way of bringing an end to the "depression" was by getting money into the hands of everyday purchaser. The government has hit on what appears to be the most logical plan, known as the Civil Works Act, and through outright gifts of money to each community is spreading sufficient money to enable the man who has been out of work for so many months to purchase the commodities that he is so much in need of.

However, there is one point the writer would like to bring to the mind of those who are now participating in this distribution of needed cash.

This period of the last few years has not only been a serious time for the laborer but it has been doubly so for the average merchant. Not only has the merchant carried the burden of helping the unemployed, who has been unfortunate in being out of work, but he has also been called upon to back every idea of help and advancement in his community.

The money now being distributed under the CWA has been, or is being placed in this community, by the government to circulate and help build up this local territory.

It appears that now would be the time to give attention to the matter of supporting those, who have kept those out of work, from suffering, and in turn keeping the money which has been brought to this community right here where it will have a chance to come back to each one in this community.

I am speaking for the support of the local firm and trust at this time that the citizens of this community must realize that there is small chance of that money ever getting back into their hands.

I am sure that at this season of the year your readers will profit by reading your own advertising columns and will find many tempting suggestions for their Christmas shopping.

The writer, although not a citizen of this district finds a very fine selection in your local stores and is doing his shopping here. Sincerely, J. S. COOPER.

A lot of people at Thanksgiving and Christmas time might well be called "turkey gobblers."

SCHOOL NOTES

(By Harriet Sarasin)

School will be dismissed here this afternoon, after a flurry of Christmas parties, for a two weeks vacation. Most of the teachers will take advantage of this furlough and return to their widely scattered homes. Students, too, will make merry at home.

Owen Price is returning to his home at La Grande, Grant Rinehart to Enterprise; Clarice Johnston to Dayton, Wash.; Stella Fishburn to Tigar; Harriet Ahearn to Milton. Mrs. Nettie Medesker and daughter Hettie to Joseph. Mrs. Elta Bensen to Payette, Margaret and Coach John Young to Madras.

Coach Young expects to accompany his brothers Nate and Dick, of the reclamation crew, later in the week as they are all planning a grand Christmas reunion at their home in Madras.

Mrs. Ada Haworth will remain in Big Bend, Supt. Hollenberg and Eva Boydell in Nyssa.

Freshman defeated the Juniors 17 to 9 Monday in the first game of the girls' interclass series.

Alumni and several college students attended the dance given by the student body after the Parma-Nyssa games Tuesday night.

Juniors welcome vacation as they need it after completing a 5000-word English theme.

OLD SANTA CALLS

If Santa didn't visit every room at school in person, he sent his helpers as every room had its program and party. Rooms were decorated in holiday attire.

The high school prepared a program for Thursday to consist of numbers from each class and singing. Students have drawn names and gifts will be exchanged, all in the Christmas spirit.

The upper grades and lower grades joined in giving their programs.

From Our Readers

Among new subscribers to The Journal is Neal Nicholson, who with Don Reardon is developing 40 acres of land under the Owyhee project west of Nyssa.

They have drilled a new well and are making improvements on their tract. They like pioneering.

Another member of The Journal family is Robert F. Thompson of Portland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Thompson of Nyssa. Robert is manager of a chain grocery store in Portland.

Other subscriptions have been received from Frank Morgan, C. M. Zink, George Kaylor, Terteling Company, Nyssa; H. E. Noah, Route 1, Ontario.

Greetings - -

May your holidays be happy days,
And joy and cheer abound!
May sweet peace reign and never wane,
The whole New Year around.
