

Farmer Brown's Observations

Nyssa, Oregon, May 17, 1934.

dere edetur:

wel, i wuz in to the big karnival last week, and had a purty good time; i wuz only able to snuck forty cents from the aig money, and 32 cents from my kid's bank, but i blit her up sum by beatin the boys at 21. i danct 2 or 3 times, but sum big kow boy hatted sun of a sheep hurder stopt on my pet korn, and awi my fun was over fer this time. but it wuz a dern good show, and i sorter expect to be back agin next year; awi they had to drink tho wuz pop, and i hurd one man say it taisted jist like farmer brown's hoam brew.

speakin agin of hoam brew tother day i hurd a tramp say he had a fine recipe for makin hoam brew, but he kudent mark it becuz he didn't hev ainy hoam.

you awi know our good looking mayor, mister larsen. wel, not long ago a kuppel of grees wur flyin over nyssa, and 1 of them lookt down and sez "say, i sez mayor larsen down there on the street." and the other goose sez, sez, "yes, i spotted him yesterday."

if i shud ast you what paiper in malhure kunty had the biggest sirkulation i wil bet you wud say te gait city leader, the paiper you try to run, but you shure wud be mistaiken, fer you air rong; the paiper with the biggest sirkulation is ole skotch tissue. heh, heh, heh. i fuled you thet time.

c. c. hunt is a gud golf pisier, but he sed a man who plays golf is one who chaises a golf ball bekuz he be too old to chaise anything else. i be thinkin sum about takin up the gaim.

bob millar uster play golf; e quit about 3 yeers ago, but sez he sorter thinks he will start again, you sea—he found his golf bawl.

don gramme wuz in caldwells big store tother day tryin to buy sum underwear; mister caldwell showed don a nice lookin suit, and he sez to don, sez he "you can't go rong in that underwear."

"go on," sez don, sez he, "you kin go rong in any underwear."

for informashon of eny kind, sea frank morgan.

yores trullie,
Farmer Brown

DEAR LITTLE EMPTY HOUSE

Dear little empty house, I've come again to see you.

To say goodbye before I start to roam To feel again the nearness of her presence

In the little rooms that should remain a home.

To see the curtains placed to let the morning sun in,
Her slippers lying there beside her bed,
Her morning wrapper thrown across a rocker
Her pillow hollowed just to fit her head.

The kitten waiting on the kitchen door step,
(God! Will I ever cease to hope?)
The sensient breezes drifting thro' her window, Bringing redolence of garden hellebrops.

I think that I shall take the warbler with me,
But dearest, where you are up in the blue

Don't you know that Dickie will be lonesome
For his sunny southern window and for you?

I'll take the book of poems that she gave me
That wondrous Christmas night when first we kissed.
And I'll take the picture of her from the wall here,
Dear little house, it surely won't be missed.

And I'll take the memory of each blessed day end,
So many smiles, so very few of frowns,
So many lovely moments to remember
Young Thomas cat! you go to Mrs. Brown's.

Sometimes I think my lonely heart is breaking,
But I try to banish sadness with a sigh,
For I know somewhere up there that she is waiting,
So precious little empty house, good bye

—Ruby Ellis Rust.

For Circuit Judge

My page in the voters' pamphlet will give you a general idea of my history. I came to Harney county 38 years ago and have lived there since. I believe I am recognized as a sound and able lawyer and reliable business man as well as a substantial taxpayer.

I have always taken an active interest in the public welfare of the district and especially in the public schools. I believe my statement in the voters' pamphlet is clear and concise in regard to the duties and conduct of the office I seek.

Whether I win or lose, I wish to thank the people of Nyssa for the reception accorded me on several occasions, particularly at the Eagles convention. We all like to be treated royally and the people of Nyssa know how it should be done.

I am trying to make a clean open campaign based on my own merits. If elected I will do my level best to successfully carry out the ideas expressed in my statement in the voters' pamphlet.
