

YOUNG VIOLINIST PLAYS

Diekie Schireman, aged 5, took part in a violin recital Saturday at the Wm. H. Laxson home in Ontario. His first public appearance, he played right along with older students to the joy of his parents and instructor Chas. L. Wilson. He plays remarkably well for his years but in the past has been somewhat timid about appearing in public.

Mr. Stotts expressed his pleasure at the progress Nyssa has made within the last few years. He was a caller at The Journal office.

Eagles Visit
In Huntington;
Social Nearing

AS THE EAGLE SEES IT—

Headed by Worthy President Frost, several officers and members of Nyssa Aerie motored to Huntington Sunday to assist Baker in exemplifying the initiatory work for a class of 18. In addition, a pep meeting open to the general public was held at which the Honorable Judge Hugh Brady of La Grande was principal speaker. Judge Brady is worthy president of La Grande Aerie. Ontario was there with her snappy drum corps which received much favorable comment.

Don Graham made the speech for the Nyssa delegates who numbered seven, Frost, Lloyd Marshall, Ernest Wilson, Charles Leuck, W. F. McLing and Warren McHargue attending.

Dad Williams yells his head off about the way Farmer Brown put a few good potatoes in the top of the sack and leaves the small ones in the bottom. Still Dad tries to cover up his own bald head by combing those three hairs up over the top.

The show and dance given by the Nampa ladies auxiliary Saturday night has been reported a huge success.

Shorty Penrod says Claude Wilson must owe Sam Caldwell some money because Sam seems to be down there quite a lot—still Claude used to make pretty fair beer.

Don't forget social night August 29th when the Nyssa baseball team will be honor guests. Artie wants all the brothers and sisters present as he has a big surprise in the line of entertainment. That boy Artie always has something up his sleeve.

Sure enough we knocked Farmer Brown over and now we have our Bald Eagle. He says he is a right smart ladies man. So there you have a trio Brown, Marshall and Graham.

Slim McLing says the Ladies auxiliary is foolish to think of having a drill team, because they can't even line up at the table at the Eagle banquets.

State president D. D. Hall is expected to visit us early next month. All of the members will be notified of his coming. It is hoped we can present a large class for initiation in his honor.

Did you know the membership drive will be starting on September 1st, and that Frost is going to give away $5 January 1, to the member bringing in the most new members. Watch out for Frost.

At the meeting Friday night of the ladies auxiliary, Mrs. Frost discovered some poker chips. She is wondering why "Gavert 100" is written on so many of them.

AROCK BOY DIES
FROM PARALYSIS

Arock—Infantile paralysis claimed its first victim in Malheur county this year when Harold Baltzor, Arock boy, died Friday. He had been ill but several days. No other cases have been reported in the county. The boy was attended by Dr. W. W. Jones.

W. S. Bruce cropped 56 bushels of barley from a tract he was able to irrigate this season while his dry land barley went 20 bushels, also a good yield.

Russell and Fern Lynde and John Lanning have gone to Yakima valley to work in the harvest.

Virgil Johnson spent the week end in Payette and Vale.

Mrs. W. B. Packard gave a very interesting "tramp" party Thursday night. Guests told hard luck stories for a hand out. H. E. C. ladies of the grange and their families attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Fretwell were in Boise last week end.

L. Y. Matthew made a trip to Caldwell after fruit.

Chas Murphy took his son Billie to a doctor in Boise Saturday for treatment. He is recovering.

C. B. McConnell of Burns was a visitor on the project last week.

Fair and Races at Ontario, Paramount Betting, 5 days starting August 28.

JETTISONED

My ship came limping into port
With its mended sails all furled,
And took its berth with other ships
Where broken sea-waves purled.
My ship had left this very port,
A brigantine so free,
And had started its lifelong journey
With gay nonchalance.

Before it had covered many leagues,
It met disaster on the seas.
A dented hull, some broken spars,
Sails too torn to catch the breeze
It soon became apparent
I must jettison goods abroad.
Things it broke my heart to part with
To the hungry waves were lowered.

First my trust, then ideals,
And then my lovely dreams,
Then my faith, next my hope,
(I thought out many schemes
For keeping hope, but it went too.)
I kept sincerity,
But my eyes were wet when I heard
The splash,
Of my intrepidity.

Last of all went my splendid purpose,
Then to take up the slack,
I spread my illusions over the decks,
They were all I had left intact.
If any there be who picks up
This jettison left at sea
Will they please remember who lost it,
And give it back to me?
—Ruby Ellis Rust.
