

Geo. Washington Banquet Enjoyed By Masons-Stars

About 65 guests enjoyed the George Washington banquet given by the Mason and Eastern Star lodges at the Eagles hall Monday evening. A delicious turkey dinner was served at tables artfully decorated with the Washington motif being carried out in favors and nut baskets. The walls of the room were draped with flags, interspersed with pictures. In one corner of the room was a miniature George Washington and in another corner a Martha Washington.

Leo Hollenberg acted as toastmaster and several extemporaneous speeches were given by guests. A feature of the program was a Washington skit presented by daughters of the Masons and Stars.

Kingman Kolony P. T. A. Observes Founder's Day

Founders Day was celebrated at the Kingman Kolony P-T. A. meeting Friday afternoon with twenty three members present to enjoy the affair. Three groups of school children sang and one group gave a Washington's Birthday drill for the pleasure of the assembled guests.

At a lively business meeting, plans were made for the Achievement Day program, which had been postponed from earlier in the winter. This affair was held Wednesday night. It was also decided to hold a cooked food and farm produce sale at Holly Bros. in Adrian to help send two delegates to the 4-H club summer school at Corvallis. The date for the sale will be announced later.

Mrs. M. M. Greeling, magazine chairman, reported that nearly every member was now getting the National Parent-Teacher magazine, which is considered an unusual record. The unit decided to make a study on what it can do to forward the cause of Peace as a study project. A candle ceremony and serving of tea and cake completed the interesting meeting.

Farmer Brown's - - Observations

dear editor:

sum time ago i remembur writin you that dok marshul didn't hev any gold in his nue stoar teeth. wel, i met dock a day or tew later on, and boy how he did go after me about it. he shode me that he did hav one gold tuth, so i told him i wud aplojize, and this is it. but i hev lurnt sime that the reason the gold didn't shoe up afore wuz bekoz dock had dropt his teeth on the flore, and he'd put em bak in without kleenin em. but eny how dok's nue stoar teeth hev just as mutch metal in them as don gram's so there.

i sea by yore palper that the boys who play golf be kleenin up the feeld whare they play. i spoze now in a week or so the boys who be tew old to chaise anything else will be chasin golf bawls. i wonder why bob millur don't talk up the gaim.

i sea my ole frend slim mcling aboot town agin. it sure seams gud to sea him. if he don't go to work tho pritty sune i am going to offer him a job as my cheef deputy in privy inspekin. slim kin git in whare i kaint, and thats sumthin.

i spects to be outta the kentry for awhile now and won't be able to rite you fer a spel. but i have shure enjyd my writin these letters, and if i hev maid eny one mad i be sorrrie. bekoz any how its awl in fun.

Are You as Honest as a Chinaman?

It is said that a Chinaman always pays or satisfactorily arranges to pay all his bills the first of the year. Remember your town is just as strong financially as the financial rating of its business houses.

They—the business and professional men, are just as strong as the financial rating of the people.

If you—the people—don't make an honest effort to pay or partly pay your past due accounts, you cast a reflection on your city as the Merchants and Professional men must maintain their credit rating with their wholesale houses.

Let's start now and make a resolution to try to pay or partly pay on your past due accounts.

When you receive one of our copyrighted letters bearing our registered trade-mark, please try to take care of this at once.

Lose your credit rating, and you lose something you may never regain.

Watch for green and black bills with accounts for sale.

"I CAN NOT TELL A LIE"

YOU can trust advertisements . . . and the companies that advertise. Because written selling is a pledge of faith. No established business can afford to put a wrong in writing. To advertise an inferior product is simply to hasten its failure.

Make the hard part of your shopping easy—as you sit in a comfortable chair at home. This newspaper reviews the shopping news of the day. Advertisements points the way to genuine bargains. They recommend variety for menus—they present the honest merits of products you need.

A few quiet moments, spent with advertisements, will save you many hectic hours of shopping around. And when your buying is done, you'll find that you have reliable things, bought at fair prices and giving genuine service as promised.
