Couldn't Express Himself
Hank—"Had your telephone removed, eh?"

Hi—"Yes, th' fools said I could not cuss over it! How could I tell Josh Medders his cows was in my corn without cussin'?"

Soon be corn planting time. We have seed corn again this year. High quality seed at $4.00 per cwt. Grown locally and has high germination test.

H. T. Francis is fixing his places up with paint and kalsomine. He is using Fuller's of course, not because it is the cheapest but because he wants a lasting job. Fuller's paints are "Made in the West for the West."

Unusual Thing
Boy—"Daddy, if you give me 10 cents I'd tell you what the ice-man said to mamma."
Dad (all excited)—"O.K., son,

here's your dime."
Boy—"He said, 'Do you want any ice today, lady?'"

Times Haven't Changed
In the days of old when the knights were old, and barons held their sway, they took their orders from their wives—just as we do today.

"Yes, I'm having a terrible time between the furnace and my husband," said the lady. "If I keep my eye on one, the other is sure to go out."

Nyssa School News

The Seniors held their annual sneak day Monday. Starting about seven o'clock they went to Boise to spend the day.

The were accompanied by Miss Denny, the Senior class advisor, and Mrs. Chas. Garrison. On arriving in Boise they visited the capital, played at the White City Park, and then went out of Boise about twenty miles to eat their picnic lunch. Coming back to Boise they visited the penitentiary, walked around the town visiting the park and various places. They ate dinner at the Mechanafe, then went to a show and arrived back in Nyssa around eleven o'clock.

Student Body Meeting
The regular Student Body meeting was held Friday afternoon. In that each class should donate $5, the business meeting, it was decided this money is to be used to buy shubbery for the school grounds. After the business meeting the Sophomores gave a program which consisted of dance, Nellie Jean Schweizer; song, Eleanor Pashley; Elmer and Elais, James Nichols and Alme Hendricks; violin solo, Helen Enebeck; At the First Tee, Evelyn Haworth and Warren Larsen. The program is to be given by the Freshmen next time.

A Perfect Co-Ed
To all Nyssa high girls who would be perfect we suggest they copy the best attributes of the following girls. Lets have hair like Dorothy Lowe, eyes of Alice Nye, alone with the at-Connell. Add to this the popularity tractive appearance of Ellen Mc-Harriet Sarazin, along with the personality of Tiena Tensen, and you would be the good comrade of everyone as Vera Garrison. If we all went out for athletics as Flora Mae Wimp and showed the old school spirit by attending all games as Nellie Jean Schweizer does, we would be the general good sport as Rose Worley. Be able to sing as Alice Hashitani, play the piano as Mable Hearron, dramatize like Pauline Wolf and dance like Mickey Hite. Then to add to all this the straight 1 grades of Helen Enebeck. Isn't this the type of girl we would like to be.

In order to make a payment on the chairs, that were bought last spring, the Junior high and high school are giving a general program May 2 at the gymnasium. Don't miss it.

Junior Prom Date Set For May 4
Final plans were made at a Junior class meeting Monday for the presentation of the 2nd annual Junior Prom on Saturday night, May 4th. Committees who were put in charge are: decorations, Jake Groot, Lonnie Parkinson, Harold Anderson, Dorothy Lowe and Florence Boren; refreshments, Mable Hearron, Arthur Cook, and Raymond Holly. In order to finance this annual affair the Juniors are sponsoring the Junior Prom Queen Contest with votes selling at 1c each. Vote as many times as you like for your favorite girl. The contestants include Rose Worley, Mable Hearron, Agnes Ray and Dorothy Lowe. The contest closes on Thursday night, May 2nd. Boxes for voting will be found in several stores throughout town and for the grade and high school students and faculty voting can be done through the box in the office. At the present time Agnes Ray is leading in the Junior Prom Queen contest.
