BOOKS!

Slam! Across the room sailed a book—that is, all except what remained in the pitchers hands. What a story our books would tell if they could talk. One could say that it had been treated well and studied diligently. Another would have to say that it usually did not receive such good treatment.

For shame! These books are our friends. They cost us money—or our parents, which we seem to forget. Take care of them and use them as they were meant to be used, why not?

SCHOOL HOLDS ELECTION

The Civic Class voted on the four bills and the results were as follows: Primary law, defeated; Compensation for Legislators, passed; Sales Tax, defeated; Student Fee, passed. Our opinions and our parents' opinions differ. One group of ballots was especially interesting. A young lady, who apparently had been out late the night before, put lines under "yes" and "no" instead of x's between the number of the bill. We wonder who it was?

SPORT NEWS

The Nyssa teams had a bad week. The only game won by Nyssa was between the Nyssa Super-Reserves and Ontario Super-Reserves. Their score was 10 to 9.

This week the basketball squad will take things easy and prepare for the Ontario tournament. Nyssa's first game is with Ontario the second night. If we win the first night, we will play the winner of the Emmett-Vale game. If we should be good enough to win this game, the tournament will be practically ours. We will have to play the winner of the four other teams of the conference which should be easier. The other four teams are: New Plymouth, Payette, Fruitland and Weiser.

Members of the Nyssa Gym class are planning to have a play day with Vale. They are to contest in many sports and games such as: basketball, volleyball, boxing, wrestling, etc.

G. A. A. MEETING

The regular monthly G.A.A. meeting was held Tuesday. Several new members were given instructions for initiation into the club. They are: Anna Johnson, Justine Overstreet, Ruth Flannery, Mabel Hearron, Joyce Ashcraft, Leola Truelson and Luella Leuck. Several groans were heard when the rules were read. Interested watchers may see some peculiar sights and actions the remainder of the week.

The girls also planned a coasting party for Wednesday evening after school.

The last order of Senior rings was received Friday. Several members of the class are now proudly displaying them to their friends.

For some time past announcement salesmen have been visiting school. They are met by a committee of three Seniors who select announcements from which the class will later choose one.

A committee of the Junior class is selecting a number of class rings which will be voted upon by members of the class. By ordering now, the Juniors have the pleasure of wearing the rings during the whole of their Senior rings.

IRONSIDE GRANGE
PLANS TO BUILD
NEW GRANGE HALL

Ironside—Eldorado grange held its regular meeting last Friday. On account of weather conditions and roads the crowd was not large. The business discussed mostly was about the proposed new hall and a site for same. The lecturer, Mrs. Earl Lofton, had a very interesting Bobby Burns, program. The refreshments were excellent and were served by the losing team in the Magpie killing contest. Games were played and an enjoyable time was had by all.

The cold spell, which has lasted two weeks already is still with us. On Friday night it was from 10 to 23 degrees below zero in various places in this community. Last Sunday night about four inches of snow fell, but it has been too cold to snow since.

The special election was held on Friday with about the usual number casting their votes. Those on the election board were Ed Oakes, Floyd White, Ernest Locey, Ralph Boor, Orville Nichols and Raleigh Van Buren.

Mrs. Floyd White accompanied Mrs. Fred Nightengale as far as for Health

You'll especially appreciate the healthful, energy-producing effect of meat on these cold days. Can you think of anything better than a sizzling steak, roast or your own favorite cut of meat, served piping hot? Eat more meat, it will help to keep you warm.
