SURVEY REVEALS TELEPHONE

AS A MONEY SAVER ON FARM

By Ralph R. Borman

Farm Telephone found to be an actual means of saving money. Factual survey on farm telephone usage, made in Iowa with the co-operation of 27 typical farmers and their families, reveals the interesting fact that an average of $128 per month is saved by the use of the telephone to transact business that would otherwise necessitate a trip by motor car. Survey discloses other facts on the telephone on the farm.

Twenty-seven Iowa farm families saved 4,620 miles of traveling over a period of one month by using their telephones instead of their automobiles, according to records kept recently by these families themselves. The trips which would have been necessary if they had not used the telephone, totaled on an average, 171 miles a month per family—19 trips for each farmer.

The cost of driving a car over these 171 miles would have been $423 a month, on a very conservative basis. The monthly cost of having farm telephone service is a great deal less than this sum of $423, demonstrating that in the elimination of automobile travel alone, the farm telephone is an instrument of profit. Instead of being an expense item, the farm telephone is actually a means of saving cash.

And here are some additional facts about the telephone service of these 27 typical Iowa farm families: For what purpose is the farm telephone used?

Business—44.6 per cent of all calls.
Social—35.2 per cent.
Household—11.1 per cent.
Miscellaneous—9.1 per cent.

Who uses the farm telephone?
Wife—60 per cent of all calls.
Husband—23 per cent.

Members of family, hired hands, and neighbors—17 per cent.

These and many other facts were disclosed in a factual data survey on farm usage, sponsored by the Iowa area of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., during September of 1935.
