The Union of South Africa
The Union of South Africa includes the provinces of Cape of Good Hope, Natal Transvaal and Orange Free State. Southwest Africa, formerly German territory, is administered by the Union under a mandate from the League of Nations. The two Rhodesias, North and South, were taken over by the British crown from the British South African company, which held a royal charter of these two colonies up until a few years ago. British East Africa, which consists of the Kenya crown colony, the Uganda Protectorate and Tanganyika, which was formerly German East Africa, stretches from across the equator and south to the Union and South Africa.

RETURNS SUNDAY FROM TRIP TO COAST

Phin Warren says he had a fine vacation trip this year, and just returned Sunday evening from two weeks spent at Corvallis and other coast points. While there he had an opportunity to try his luck sea fishing, agate hunting in Agate Beach and sight-seeing in Corvallis; taking in all the interesting government buildings and other points of interest.

The entire party was made up of Phin Warren, Mrs. Oma Bingman, and son Dale, Mary Warren of Ontario and Gerald Warren. At Corvallis they were joined by Marvin Warren, and family. The party also visited the Ralph Reberger family at Bend.

Earl Warren and Mrs. Warren met them at Prairie City, where the entire party picked huckleberries, getting 25 gallons for their trouble. The Ralph Rebergers drove over from Bend and joined the crowd picking the toothsome berries.
