DEATH TO THE REPUBLICAN PARTY?

THE uncertainty of the election is over, and business can get down to normal again. Roosevelt goes in with huge popular support and every loyal American should drop partisan politics now and abide by the popular majority. Roosevelt's policies have been ratified in no uncertain terms and it will probably mean the "New Deal" will push their policies with re-newed vigor.

Two land slide defeats cannot help but have their effect on the Republican party. It is doubtful if the old Guard Republican party leaders can again drum up a strong enough following to carry an election. Some different alignment seems probable for the coming years, possibly a New Deal party and a party composed of Jeffersonian Democrats and liberal Republicans. Whatever the outcome, the political future looks interesting and filled with unexpected results.

EDITOR LLOYD WILSON REPORTERS Members of the Junior Class

Jack McKee had to have the cast put back on his leg last Saturday. It was reported his leg was not getting along as well as expected.

Everyone had the laugh on Ted Morgan last week when Ellen McConnell pushed his chair over and he landed in the lap of Nell Amos.

In Civics class during registration of the voters of members of class, we discovered to our amazement there were 14 Democrats and 18 Republicans. They drew for the election board, and Ovey Brown was elected Town Crier (hear ye!)

The Freshmen and Juniors are getting quite anxious about their units in History as they have only two weeks left to finish them up in.

Several absences from school Thursday were results from Soccer. "Be careful girls you are rougher than the boys football team."

The members of the faculty and their wives enjoyed a pheasant dinner at the Haworth home in Big Bend Sunday. The men furnished the pheasants, the ladies prepared the rest of the dinner. Seventeen enjoyed the jolly affair. Games were played till late evening.

Mrs. Alice Wilson and Mrs. McCoy were visitors at school Monday afternoon.

Miss Elizabeth Jones attended Home Coming at La Grande last week end.

Mrs. Medesker has entertained as house guests her brother and his wife from Joseph, Oregon the past week.

The Civic class voted Tuesday on the general election.

LETTERMENS MEETING

The Lettermens' club met at 12:45 on Wednesday to vote on officers for this year. They are as follows: Robert Jackson, president; Jerry Rust, vice president; and Joe Robertson, secretary.

STUDENT BODY MEETING

A regular Student Body meeting was held October 30. After the business meeting a program was given by the Senior class. The program was an amateur hour with Robert Jackson, the Major. On the program were: Flora Wimp and Nellie Jean Schweizer, a jazz band; a political talk by Jack Bordia; a skit by Mary Corn and Evelyn Haworth; a negro skit by Hineinos Cloninger; clarinet solo by Lloyd Wilson; announcement by Loren Earnest; a song by Wanda Earnest; trumpet solo by Leland Morris, song by five boys, Troy Roberts, James Nichols, Warren Larsen, Frank Pierson and Jack Bodia; and a negro spiritual by a group of seniors.

G. A. A. NEWS

Two games of the Interclass Soccer Tournament have been played—Freshmen vs. Sophomore Juniors vs. Seniors. The Sophomores were victorious and the Juniors and Seniors fought a hard battle with neither team scoring.

Some of the girls have been hiking and horseback riding for outside points.

There will be a regular G.A.A. meeting Tuesday at 12:40.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The High School Halloween party last Saturday turned out to be a very enjoyable affair. Everyone tried to do his part. After the games were over refreshments were served. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

SPORTS

The Nyssa team lost a game to the Vale eleven, Friday to the score of 32-0. Nyssa plays Roswell next Friday. Lets do it again.

Blocks and Tackles

The Nyssa high school team is looking forward to a victory this Friday when they journey to Roswell, the first victory in a very long season. Up to date Nyssa has scored but once, that against Fruitland in the second game of the season. Nyssa hopes to strike paydirt again against Roswell, although the boys have no setup Friday. The only way you could figure Nyssa stronger than Roswell is by comparative scores against Fruitland. Fruitland defeated Nyssa 12 to 6 while Fruitland defeated Roswell last Friday by a 24 to 0 count. On the other hand, Nyssa is generally regarded as weaker now than they were early in the season; so anything might happen.

Coach Young has abandoned any plans of building up for this year, but his team of freshmen and sophomores will be heard from before they graduate. Although they are light and inexperienced now, they will be ready to go to town next year and the year following. He is giving all the younger boys the experience necessary for a winning football team, with the idea of being a real power next year.

Parma and Wilder staged a thrilling game Friday, which ended in a scoreless tie. Parma business houses closed to enable the business men to see the last home game of the season Emmett turned on the power in the last half and defeated Meridian 19 to 0.

The Vale eleven steam-rollered Nyssa Friday and ran up a score of 32 to 0. Shunn of Vale, who plays in a half-back position, hit pay dirt in the first quarter and again in the second quarter. The Vale steam-roller, gaining momentum, added three more touchdowns in the third quarter; Shunn accounting for them by long dashes from mid field Nyssa failed to threaten at any time during the game.

The next home game for the Nyssa high school team will be on Armistice Day, November 11th when Ontario will play here. Ontario's record is much more impressive than the locals, but fans are certain of seeing a bitterly fought battle.

Squirts FROM THE LINOTYPE

By John E. Public

Readers should pay particular attention to the notice in this issue of the Journal that the county has considerable land for sale some of it in fine tracts and lots. If you are interested you should go to the court house and get descriptions of land to be offered for sale; make an offer on it and it will be placed in the sale schedule for some time in December it is necessary to make a bid on the land, and that right away, or the land will not be advertised for sale.

A crowd which at times crowded the Journal building to capacity was on hand Tuesday night to get the county election returns as they came by phone from all parts of the county. Most of the returns were available a few minutes after the judges had completed their count, and when it was finally decided to adjourn at three o'clock, a total of 21 precincts had been accounted for and the results on most offices were pretty certain. Additional returns were available Wednesday and the phone was kept busy a good part of the day sharing results with subscribers; and many came in to see our chart of how the election was going in various parts of the county.

Interest in the land on the Owyhee project continues keen and every mail brings several inquiries from all parts of the nation. Frank Morgan, as secretary of the Vale-Owyhee Land Settlement Association is kept busy hauling prospective settlers out to view the new lands and a very fine class of settlers are coming to make their home with us and take their place in community affairs.

Halloween has come and gone, and aside from a few soaped windows, misplaced machinery and uprooted booths; very little actual damage was done. Kids are getting more sensible . . . in the old days Halloween was too often the excuse for real vandalism and serious brushes with the law.
