Aliens Not Allowed To Address Legislature

There was consternation aplenty the other day when reports from Salem said that Harry Bridges, the Australian and district head of the Pacific coast longshoremen, might be invited to address a joint session of the Oregon legislature. Inquiry the following day revealed that the move had been promptly squelched, but that it had originated by some of the legislators whom C. C. Chapman, editor of the Oregon Voter, lauded as "extreme leftists." What these leftists didn't know is that it is unlawful for an alien to address any American parliament.

Montana Sets Limit On Introduction of Bills

Montana limits the number of bills that a legislator can introduce. Now if they would just build a cactus fence around the state house in Salem and follow Montana's leadership, the legislative session might be ended in 40 days.

Imagine the embarrassment of the young woman who offered to pose for the tired business men of Portland, in their offices after work hours when a policeman walked in after the trap was set. Was she ever badgered.

Indians Sacrificed Dogs

Ghosts of numberless dogs haunt the banks of the Shilawasse river near Vernon, according to the belief of young boys of a generation ago, writes a correspondent in the Detroit Free Press. The belief arose from the fact that the Shilawasse Indians once held a ceremony here in which every year a dog was dressed in ribbons, beads and wampum and thrown into the river at a point where it swirled in a deep eddy. It was believed that sacrifice of the dog assured improved hunting and fishing along the river's banks for the coming year.

"O. K." Traced

"O. K." has been traced back to the Boston Transcript of 1840, where it was used as some sort of political opprobrium. Its use in Whig newspapers began in April of that year and by August, with the meaning of correct attached, it had crossed the Atlantic.

The Signet Ring

Early in the history of man the ring took on great significance as a signet emblem. The high priests among the Jews wore such a ring as a badge of office and authority. Pharaoh placed his signet ring on the finger of Joseph to show all of his subjects that he had granted royal authority to this translator of dreams to administer food relief during the great famine of Egypt.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all were out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Life Has Its Pleasures

There is no function of a healthy life that does not yield its pleasures. In working and in resting, in sleeping and in waking, in society and in solitude, in youth, manhood, old age; in the play of our muscle, in the activity of our brain; in anticipation, in realization, in reminiscence; in the view of the actual and in the mind's sweep over the unseen; in the ardor of conflict and in the hush of contemplation.
