

Insurance Dep't Warns Against Unlicensed Firm

Salem, Ore.—State Insurance Commissioner Hugh H. Earle has received information that many unlicensed mail order insurance companies, societies, benefit associations, etc., are trying to secure a list of the names of all those receiving pensions and cash relief, with the idea of selling them worthless insurance. Commissioner Earle desires to warn these people, as well as all other citizens, not to fall for advertisements until they are sure that the organization is licensed to transact business in this state.

Even if these unauthorized organizations were solvent, in a case where a claim was in dispute, it would be necessary for an Oregon citizen to bring suit in the state where the organization is located. The cost in most cases exceed the amount of the claim.

If there is any doubt in a person's mind as to whether a company is licensed in this state, he should write to the State Insurance Department at Salem, Oregon.
