The Arthur Mayes had as guests Sunday her niece and nephew from Meridian and their friend late from Nebraska.

Several farmers unfortunately had their hay down during the recent rains. A few are just beginning to hay, among them the Dunaway boys, who report that altho their hay is not quite as heavy or tall as usual, they expect a good yield. This seems to be the general condition thru the valley.

The evangelistic services conducted by Rev. Emerson will be held both Sunday morning and evening June 20. There has been a fair sized crowd in attendance but it is hoped everyone will turn out to help make the last day of the meeting memorial.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep appreciation of the kindness of friends and for their help and sympathy in our hour of sorrow when we lost our beloved brother and uncle, A. R. Millar.

Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald and family.

University Extension

The university extension movement began in England more than a century ago. It was brought to this country in 1887 through a discussion at a library conference in Albany N. Y. Very shortly centers were established in several cities, and in 1890 a society known as the American Society for the Extension of University Teaching was established in Philadelphia.
