Newell Heights

Bible School closed Friday night with a nice program at the school house. The group singing was very good. Mrs. Jones lead the pupils in a Bible verse drill. Mr. Chandler gave a short talk before closing. The work done by Mrs. Jones and her sister Miss Nickens is very much enjoyed by the children and appreciated by the parents.

Mr. R. G. Chandler and Mr. Norman Gundry of Caldwell attended Sunday School. Mr. Gundry is a returned missionary from Africa. He spoke of his work there. He brought with him a number of interesting articles such as some decorated gourds used for dishes and water pitchers, a whip made of a piece of hippopotamus hide and also a piece of hide about an inch thick, a native hoe, and a drum.

Bill Kurtz was pleasantly surprised Sunday when the young people of the Sunday School class and some friends of other communities surprised him with a picnic dinner in honor of his birthday anniversary. Twenty-two young people were present besides Mr. Chandler and Mr. Gundry of Caldwell, Otis Kurtz of Middleton, Mrs. Carrie McLaughlin and Mrs. Wm. Gaby of Ten Davis. Out of the community young folk were Jack McKee, Oregon Trail, Irene Poage, Nyssa; Ellen McConnell, Adrian, Eleanor Haworth and Flora Prosser of Wade.

The children of the primary of the Latter Day Saints Sunday School enjoyed a picnic in Nyssa Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Kollens and children of Owyhee were callers at the Parrish and Godwin homes Sunday afternoon. These men are all Veterans of the Foreign Wars.

County Agent Larson was over the project Tuesday inspecting the clover fields with the idea of deciding the prospects for first crop of clover seed. He found a few fields that have a 50-50 chance. However he expects to make another tour a little later.

Haying is in earnest at this writing and in spite of the weather there are a few stack up. However the heavy cuttings are yet to be mowed. Scarcity of teams make it hard for all.

Two derricks are being built by Web Otis. One for the Zubretta boys and for E. P. Gheen and Lou Eachus together.

Mrs. Will Gabley and Mrs. Carrie McLaughlin of Ten Davis visited from Friday until Sunday evening at the Kurtz and McLaughlin homes.
