

OWYHEE
DORIS KLINGBACK

The P.T.A. held jointly with the O.K.K. Thursday at the Tom Lowe ranch at Mitchell Butte Hot Springs complimenting the 4-H clubs and especially honoring the delegates from the Owyhee who attended the recent 4-H summer school at Corvallis. About 60 persons attended the meeting. After the regular routine business a program was given consisting of entertaining and instructive reports of Viola Pullen and Bud Schweizer, whose trips to Corvallis were sponsored by the Owyhee Circle, and Doris Klingback sent by the Ontario Commercial Club. Viola, who was absent gave her report by letter. Bud's report was especially interesting, this being his initial trip and he the first boy to go from the Owyhee. Doris, who had previously attended, compared this year favorably with three years ago; namely the attendance is bigger, and registration and classes run smoother.

The P.T.A. members were so gratified over the benefits the young folks gained at the school, they instructed the Ways and Means committee to plan ways of raising money to send delegates next year.

After adjournment the guests were served tea on the lawn by the 3 et 6, a 4-H cooking club under the leadership of Mrs. Schweizer which ended a successful and enjoyable meeting.

CCC FENCES LARGE
AREA AT SQUAW BUTTE
EXPERIMENT STATION

Thirty-six miles of road and 86 miles of fence have been built on the new 16,000 acre Squaw Butte range experiment station in central Oregon. Thees and other improvements have been made by a CCC camp established there. Some of the fences are coyote proof, while a few around small test plots even exclude rodents. All the fences are built with large peeled juniper posts, which lasts almost indefinitely in that climate.
