THERE WAS A MAN, WHO WAS A MAN—

THE finest tribute you can pay a fellow is to say, "He is a real man." This takes in everything; all the qualities admired in a character including kindness, honesty, faithfulness, and strength of body and soul. The highest tribute that can be paid to Allen "Buck" Johannsen is to say, "he was a real man," and we have heard this expression many times since news of Mr. Johannsen's death in Chicago Monday.

Mr. Johannsen, known to hundreds as "Buck" was a man well worthy of the tribute. He believed in attention to duty, in straight and clean living, for the finer things of life. In his lifetime he made many friends, for his was the kind of personality which attracted worthwhile friends.

One of the things which he took pride in while at the dam was the little park sponsored by the Malheur county grange; and which is now one of the nicest recreational features at the dam. He took a great deal of interest in this and was one of the persons who made the park possible. Now there is talk of naming the beauty spot, "Johannsen Park," and we think it a capital idea. We believe "Buck" will look down from his heavenly home with a pleased smile if the grange saw fit to do this.

J. P. Dunaway of Vale has accepted the position of cashier in the Malheur County Bank at Nyssa. He has been a resident of Malheur county 14 years, a large portion of which time he was cashier of the United States National bank of Vale. Under his management that institution became one of the largest of its kind in the state.

A recent arrival in the Nyssa country is a baby boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lem Wilson.

Contractor Fred Green has been awarded the contract for building a large addition to the Kingman Kool-only school house.

Miss Grace and Dorothea Goshert and little Betty Jane Lackey were dinner guests of Mrs. C. Barrett Saturday.

Nyssa people will enjoy a rare treat when the Radcliff Chautauque pitches its big tent on the school grounds next Monday and begins a series of entertainments.

Howard Hatch is suffering this week from a slight touch of blood poisoning in his finger.

The Nyssa Commercial Club is getting down to work and a real live meeting was held Monday evening with F. A. Gallegly acting as secretary. The committee on the establishment of a new rural route out of the city reported that satisfactory progress was being made.

SAVING THROUGH PLANNING

(From the Vale Enterprise)

It is the fashion in certain quarters to sneer at planning in governmental affairs as both expensive and useless. Those who damn it with the ultimate in damnation call it "socialistic". Conceding that some efforts by planners may be a sheer waste of time, we think there is no doubt that on the whole planning is here to stay, and in the long run will save the taxpayers thousands of dollars if intelligently directed.

A few weeks ago, an item in the news made this point clear. County agent R. R. Larson was quoted as having said that $15,000 expended 10 years ago would have cleaned up the noxious weed situation in this county, and the weeds could then have been kept under control at a small, annual expenditure. Now, according to Mr. Larson, the cost of weed eradication would be the prohibitive sum of $250,000. Had a planning commission been functioning 10 years ago, charged chiefly with the duty of taking the long view ahead, the weed problem could have been foreseen to be the menace it has proven to be, and steps could have been taken to meet it.

The cost to the county and to individual farmers for weeds eradication over a period of years, will amount to millions of dollars. All this might have been avoided by a little planning.

Planning in government is here to stay. Instead of attacking planning as visionary and socialistic, we should hail it as one more contribution toward making democracy work more efficiently. Planning in government is merely common sense.

JULIUS PRATI PENS

LETTER FROM ASHBURY PARK

Julius Prati, who lives at Ashbury Park, New Jersey airmails a renewal of his subscription and says the hot weather back east makes everyone swarm to the beaches. He also mentions that he works just three blocks from Tommy Farr's training camp and has seen the British champ who is to fight Joe Louis August 26th; but thinks Louis has the fight in the bag. Julius was here last fall to help his uncle, John Prati with his peaches, but due to Prati's peaches freezing this spring Julius will go to Maine for his vacation this fall.

Some of the new project farmers are harvesting their first crop off the new land. The returns for most of them are good for new land. The Messrs. Farnsworth, Eachus, Gheen and Kurtz will be hulling clover seed this week. The hard wind Sunday night played havoc with the shocks of seed. Corn was quite badly blown down on some farms, as was other crops. Geo. Schimer is combining with his new combine on the Corn farm. E. P. Gheen has also purchased an All Purpose Allis Chalmers combine and was using it on his clover until the rain Sunday evening. Mr. Gheen is binding his crested wheat and plans to run it through his old combine.

The young folks of the Sunday School and their families were guests Thursday evening of Rev. and Mrs. Ecklebarger. The swimming pool at Caldwell was reserved for them from nine until ten and four carloads of young folks, numbering 27 enjoyed swimming. After the swim a weiner and marshmallow roast was enjoyed before the fire place in the park. Rev. Ecklebarger plans to have some form of social entertainment every two weeks but he will have to think hard if he can plan a more pleasant evening for them. Mrs. M. L. Kurtz was also a guest.

Mrs. Maurice Judd and her two children accompanied the Girl Scouts to Payette Lakes Sunday for a weeks outing. Mrs. Judd is Scout leader of the Kingman Colony, Owyhee and Wade troop.

THE ONLY STILL

Between

NAMPA and WEISER

Recently we saw an advertisement of a Cleaner in a city less than a hundred miles from here, in which he "admitted" that he had the best cleaning plant in the Northwest. This is a pretty big order.

When we introduced our VACUUM STILL, we told you that it was the only one between Boise and Baker. Now we limit that territory further. Operators in Nampa and Weiser saw our new equipment, decided that they were not doing work comparable to ours and placed orders for identical stills.

Other Cleaners know that we are doing superior work. Do you?
