GREETINGS FOLK: We hear that the original rumber seat was a board laid across the wagon box back of the spring seat.

-BUILD FHA WAY-

They had parked by the roadway and she had snuggled happily into his arm.

"Flat tire?" asked a passing farmer.

"If she was I wouldn't have stopped," replied the youth.

-BUILD FHA WAY-

Little Brother: "Why is mamma cross at papa?"

Little Sister: "Because mamma gave papa a dollar to buy some gas for the car, and when he came home the tank was empty, and papa was full."

-BUILD FHA WAY-

A friend tells of calling on his father who has a farm some distance from here.

"It looks like a pretty good year," he adds. "The gas station is more than breaking even and the hot dog stand is going over big."

-BUILD FHA WAY-

"What is the difference between electricity and lightning?"

After a moment's pause the bright boy of the class answered, "You don't have to pay for lightning."

-BUILD FHA WAY-

No need to put off your building plans any longer. We are interested in all our customers, big or little and invite you to talk your building problems over with us.

-BUILD FHA WAY-

"I want three lawn mowers," announced a man in a local hardware store.

"Three?" was the question. "You must have a large lawn."

"No, but I've got two very friendly neighbors."

-BUILD FHA WAY-

Jack: "Say, did you read in the paper about Smith running over his mother-in-law?"

Mack: "No, I seldom read the sporting page."

Alfalfa Wilt

How many times have you heard "Why can't we get alfalfa to last like it once did?" One of the main reasons is alfalfa wilt which is now in most of the main growing sections of Eastern Oregon. It tends to kill out stands in four years time. Grimm is no more resistant than Common. Many of the grassy fields with wilt, scattering alfalfa are due to wilt. Much of the wilt damage is blamed on winter injury and the effects of the two are almost identical.

Ladak alfalfa is somewhat resistant to the disease. It is not immune, but on wilt infested land where Grimm and Common last only 4 or 5 years the Ladak can be depended upon to last 7 or 8.

Land once infested by wilt is always infested. It is spread from field to field by irrigation water and by mowers, rakes, animals, etc. Cultivation increases the damage a great deal and no spring tooting should be done in areas where wilt is present. The wilt organism gets into the root through injuries.—Oregon Lambs and Wool.
