

NYSSA JUNIOR GATE CITY JOURNAL

Published by Students of Nyssa High School

EDITORIAL—

We think that everyone in school should be more friendly. There are a large number of new students here and they should get acquainted with the others. You shouldn't wait for the next fellow to take the first step. Break the ice yourself for once. You can always make room for another friend, you might need one some time.

So don't be bashful, do your best to get acquainted with all the students you don't know and we're sure the others will do their part.

SHOW—

A very educational as well as interesting movie was given by Mr. Fred Owens in the Nyssa High school gym at 2 p. m. Monday afternoon.

Besides a very amusing comedy, there was a Grantland Rice Sport-light on aquaplaning and a feature concerning the Spanish Revolt. This feature showed Germany's and Italy's part in the war in Spain and several shots of the immediate fighting. These films were taken in the midst of the conflict under conditions of extreme danger to the camera man, Mr. Owens said. The film was attended by both grade and high school students.

ALUMNI NEWS—

Bill Keizer is married and is now working in the steel mills at Cody, Wyo.

Sue Keizer has one more year's nurses training at St. Lukes Hospital in Boise before getting her diploma.

Raymond Holly is operating the Rexy Theatre in Ontario.

Claudena Crawford Forbes and Oswald Forbes are visiting in Nyssa. Mr. Forbes is a member of the Portland Fire Department.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS YOU SHOULD KNOW—

Gene (Junior) Gaston is one of those half backs who really plays football. He always seems to be in the proper place at the proper time and always does the right thing. His shifty field running and passing have made him very valuable to the team.

Playing as tackle we have Leslie Crocker, who of course is nicknamed "Les". His one hundred and sixty pounds have been judged capable of holding down this position.

Raymond Graham is known as Ray. His two years of experience at Nyssa as half back has made him very outstanding among "the eleven". He excels as a pass receiver.

Stanley (Dude) Ray's weight of a hundred and thirty-five pounds is capable of holding down the position as half back. His one year's experience at Nyssa has given several nice runs in the past, an Nys-sa looks for more in the future.

PLAYS—

Last Friday morning the Northwestern Assembly players presented in the high school auditorium a program of four historical plays. The first was a scene in the history of old Rome; the second was a short scene in the life of King Charlemagne; and the third enacted a short bit of the life of Napoleon. The fourth was a scene of our present day, showing the bad points in war. The plays were interesting as well as educational and very well presented.

INTRODUCING NEW SENIORS—

Winfred Rogers comes from Longton, Kansas. He is about five feet eight inches tall, has black hair, brown eyes and everyone in History class should know him from his very fine "wise cracks."

Ray Hines comes from Parkdale, Oregon. He is over six feet tall, has brown curly hair, blue eyes. Ray should give some of his very curly hair to Lloyd Nelson.

VISIT NYSSA—

Mr. and Mrs. Vernal Shoemaker were week end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Rinehart Saturday and Sunday were spent in hunting pheasants in Big Bend where both men shot their quota. They returned Sunday night to La Grande where Mr. Shoemaker is teaching science.

The editor of the Nyssa Gate City Journal, Mr. Louis P. Thomas, met with the Seniors of Mrs. Young's snior English class Friday, October 1 to discuss the way in which the Nyssa high school new should be written.

Constructive criticism of each story was given and plans were made for a trip through the office to see how the paper is printed.

FEATURES—

There are people with nothing to say. But "K.O." and "Oke" and "O.K." If, by any chance, they should choke I would care "Okey Doke" On their tombstones, and call it a day.

JOKE 2,175 on the Scotchman

Scotchman (leaving home on a short trip) Now be sure you tend to everything while I am gone and don't forget to take little Donald's glasses off when he's not looking at anything.

Last week in English Literature class we read about Shakespear's play, "Comedy of Errors." Wilbur Smith says his typing papers could pass under that heading; but, personally, he feels they are really getting along toward the tragedy stage.

WHO SAYS ONLY GIRLS PRIMP?

America's pioneers who shaved only for weddings and ignored further vain practices, would shudder in their graves over the beauty hankering of their male descendants of 1937. Columbia University boys in New York have organized a Men's Make-up Society to further the use cold cream, perfumes and lipstick; and, in the middle west a group of high school boy athletes attended class with their hair dyed henna and bleached blonde. Well! did you ever?

FOOTBALL NEWS—

The first conference game of the season was played Friday, October 1, which resulted in a 6 to 6 tie between the Nyssa and Parma high schools. A forty yard pass from Holmes to Graham put the ball close to the Parma goal line and Holmes carried the ball over for a touchdown on a reverse play around left end.

At the beginning of the second quarter Parma with the wind in their favor which aided them in passing, carried the ball to the danger zone and a Parma halfback took the ball around end to tie the score. The rest of the game was played on even terms.

SOCIETY NEWS—

A reception was given Friday, October 1, 1937 in the gymnasium for the Freshmen with each doing their part.

Sophomores were responsible for lime punch and cookies which followed the color scheme perfectly. Juniors decorated the gymnasium beautifully with lavender and green crepe paper streamers making the ceiling, and drapes at the side. In the front of the gym, was a sign stating "Welcome Fresh."

The Seniors had charge of the program for the evening which was announced by Viola Pullen and included a grand march of all the students; Irene Poage and Warren Larsen were the leaders. Solo, "Moon at Sea," and "Sail Boat in the Moon," by Marzene Hollenberg accompanied by Mrs. Young. Introduction, Irene Poage, the Student Body President. Welcome by Ellen McConnell, Senior President. Response to Welcome by Pete Clinkinger, Freshman president. Saxophone and piano duet, Laura Savage and June Marie Wilson, "Never in a Million Years" and "Rose Marie." Tap Dance, (Bill Robinson routine) Irene Poage and Helen Boydell. For their encore they gave a dance imitating two Freshies.

Dancing to music furnished by the new machine completed the program.

SECOND STRING WINS—

The Nyssa second string won their first game of the season by defeating the Ontario Tigers second team 7 to 0 on the home field Monday afternoon. The touchdown came in the second quarter when Gaston completed a pass to Kurtz who ran to the three yard line before being tackled. They then put the ball over Ontario's goal line by line bucks and the try for point was successful.

"Remember how high the cost of living was in 1928 and 1929?
"But electric rates were reduced in both those years.
"Remember, too, that everything took a nose-dive from 1930 to 1934?
"Electric rates were steadily reduced all that time.
"And then prosperity began to show itself in 1935, 1936 and 1937. Prices began to climb. The cost of living began to go up—as it always does in times of returning prosperity.
"Still electric rates continued to go down. They were reduced $96,000 a year in 1935, $86,000 a year in 1936, and in 1937 they were slashed $128,000 a year, the largest reduction in the history of the Idaho Power Company!
"My wages—your electric rates—are the only item in the family budget that's cheaper, and a bigger bargain than ever before."

Reddy Kilowatt
