"FACE SAVING" NOT RESTRICTED TO ORIENTALS—

THAT the art of "face saving" cannot be claimed as an exclusive trait of the Orientals, is borne out by the past week's world events.

The Italian Ambassador to Japan, in a conference with the Japanese Foreign Minister has endorsed the "self defense" policy of Japan in the China campaign. It does not tax the memory of anyone to find the reason for this endorsement. Italy is just fresh from the same sort of "campaign" in Ethiopia. Helpless natives murdered by the modern army of Italy, under the pretext of "civilizing the savages."

No nation with any self respect has recognized the Italian mandate in Ethiopia, and Italy, with the hope that Japan will come out of China victorious, is playing the game of International politics, by endorsing Japan's self-styled "defense policy" in China, can then depend on Japan to endorse Italy's campaign in Ethiopia.

It is of course a forlorn hope, but with the magnificent stand that the Chinese Armies are putting up against the Japanese, it may be that the "defense policy" of the "Land of the Rising" may of necessity turn into just such a policy.

ROAD BONDS—

THE proposal of the County Court to hold an election for the purpose of issuing Road Bonds in the amount of $100,000 is both timely and needed. BUT, if we are any judge of the temper of the people on the new projects, it will be necessary for the ballot to contain an allocation of the funds for certain specified roads. The court has signified their approval of this allocation and it is now up to the voters to see that the allocation appears on the ballot. This allocation will serve the purpose of assuring every one affected, that the money from the bonds will be put into roads that are necessary for transportation of our school children on SAFE roads during the winter months, just ahead, and of considerable saving to the farmer in repairs to his trucks and cars.

The court very properly appointed a committee to make a report recommending certain roads that will come under the allocation of funds. This committee is representative of the county, and on their shoulders will rest the responsibility for the proper allocation.

That the bonds, with proper allocation, will not effect the road tax levy, is borne out by the fact that they will not mature for a period of five years. In the meantime, the regular tax levy can be used for the purpose of maintaining and in some cases, augmenting, existing roads.

The county court is to be congratulated on the calling of a meeting for the purpose of discussing this matter with the taxpayers of the county.

INFORMATION—

IN Mondays edition of a Portland paper, an article was published to the effect that the sugar refinery was being built in Ontario. It may be that some over zealous booster was responsible for the publication of the article. But it is more apt to be a correspondent who is a little careless of the 'locale' of his or her story. For the information of the correspondent may we respectfully submit that the Amalgamated Sugar Company is building the sugar refinery in Nyssa, Oregon.

THANKS FOR THE KIND THOUGHTS—

OUR two contemporary newspapers in Ontario, get the thanks from us, for very fine editorials on the locating of the sugar refinery in Nyssa.

Both editors showed good sportsmanship, which we feel sure, reflects the temper of every person in Ontario. Their contention that the locating of the refinery in Malheur county would benefit us all, bears out the past history of all such enterprises. The Amalgamated Sugar Company though their contacts with the Malheur County farmers cannot but help financially, the business men of the entire county.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

By Rev. Floyd E. White
Matthew 5: 14-16

"Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

Here Jesus is giving his conception of what it means to be a Christian, for to be his disciple is to be a light-bringer. Jesus paid a great compliment to his followers when he said, "Ye are the light of the world," for a little previous to this he had said, "I am the light of the world," which give his relationship to his own. It is true that there is a vast difference in the light as spoken of by Jesus, for his light is the source and our light is the reflection of his light. Apart from him we cannot shine for he is the true light.

The great purpose of light is to shine, for Jesus said, "Let your light so shine before men that they may see and glorify your Father which is in Heaven."

There was once a gifted and fascinating young man who was being mobbed. The stones were flying thick about him. But the stones could not banish the light that shone upon his face. "They saw his face as it had been the face of an angel." He did not make his face bright of set purpose. His fellowship with God made that brilliance. Paul saw it, and it haunted him till it brought him to Christ.

Peter and John were arrested one day and instructed not to teach in the name of Jesus. But their answer was very emphatic, "We cannot but speak the things we have seen and heard. Being light, we cannot but give light to those that sit in darkness."

It is by the light of Christian character that we get a vision of the face of God. Jesus came as the light of the world to show us God was our Father. Then what greater vocation can you and I possibly dream of than just this, to live such lives day by day that those who come in contact with us will see in our lives something of the loveliness of God, that they will discover that God is our Father and theirs? Making this discovery they will surely glorify our Father who is in heaven.

The caracul of the big, hair-tufted ears is native to most of Africa and southwest Asia. His principal difference from the American lynx is his long tail.

VALUE OF PUBLICITY

"The wages of sin is publicity" is the often quoted statement of a once famous editor. Violators of the law are frequently more fearful of newspaper notoriety than of the punishment the court may mete out.

The wages of faithfulness to a public trust is also publicity. It has been our observation that most public officials are fearful of having their questionable act exposed in print.

Full, fearless and honest publication of the facts about the public's business is essential to the successful operation of democratic government.—Parma Review.

It Happened In Nyssa Years Ago

Interesting bits of history gleaned from the files of years ago.

Thursday, October 13, 1910

Cornelius Tensen, the fourteen year-old son of Peter Tensen, met with a sad accident last Monday, by losing his left arm. Cornelius was out in the evening hunting with a shot gun and on crawling through a fence drew the gun, muzzle first through after him. He is recovering from the shock and regaining strength.

The products from Nyssa exhibited at the Boise fair is having a very desirable effect on the sightseers that are visiting the fair by the thousands.

Arcadia, a small village 3 miles north of Nyssa, has shipped 15 cars of fruit.

To lose a game like last Saturday's game was no disgrace. The playing was fast and furious from beginning to end and the N.H.S. boys were game fellows even if Caldwell did outweigh them 20 pounds to the man. Caldwell won 12 to 5.

C. C. Forbes was in Ontario the last of the week.
Roy Marshall was away on a visit last Thursday and Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beam went to attend the Boise fair Thursday.
J. Boydell was at the Internountain Fair at Boise on Wednesday.
C. O. Thomas was over from Vale Saturday.
Mrs. H. D. Derrickson of Aladin, Wyo., is visiting her sister Mrs. S. Lynch of this place.
Wm. Ward went to the range this week to look after his sheep.
John E. Haley has just returned from Alaska. He reports times very dull up north.
Mrs. Cathey from Arkansas is visiting her son Wm. of this place.
Ira Rutledge and wife attended the fair Wednesday and Thursday.

CONGRATULATIONS

The announcement by the Amalgamated Sugar company of its intention to construct its refinery at Nyssa brings to Oregon the largest industrial investment made in several years. It not only assures to our neighboring city a handsome industrial payroll, but of greater importance to the county and state, it insures an outlet for what appears destined to be a major agricultural crop of this section.

Nyssa and its residents are entitled to congratulations upon the selection for the site. They gave to the drive to secure its well directed efforts, which deserve recognition. It is by such efforts that communities grow and develop.

The nature of the development, as is the case of most such advancements, extends beyond the boundaries of the immediate community. The greater portion goes to the ranchers whose raw materials provides the reason for the refinery's existence. Thus the benefits are spread to all portions of the valley.

It would be the baldest of hypocrisy to assert that here in Ontario all the people would not have rejoiced to have had the Amalgamated select the Cairo site where the company also purchased land. But the choice

REPORT OF THE W.C.T.U. STATE CONVENTION

The fifty-fourth convention of the Oregon Women's Christian Temperance Union convened Tuesday morning, October 5 at Newberg, Ore. Each session was outstanding for its unusual spiritual atmosphere and the theme song, "What the World Needs is Jesus" was used quite often. There were 182 voting delegates present besides the many visitors. Several local units and schools presented a grand display of posters during the week. Tuesday evening at 6:30 a banquet was served for all who wished to attend.

Thursday afternoon, the Chamber of Commerce favored the visitors of Newberg by coming with enough automobiles for over 100 passengers and driving through the city and adjoining vicinities.

There will be reports of the convention given at our next local W.C.T.U. meeting, Tuesday October 19 at 2 p. m. The meeting will be with Mrs. Chas. Marshall. We welcome all to attend. We especially invite Kingman Kolony, Ontario and other units who were not privileged to attend the convention.

Sportsmanlike Driving—Ability to Stop

Have you ever realized that the contact between each of the four tires on your car and the street represents a space about the size of the palm of your hand? If you have, you realize the importance of good tires and good brakes. Sportsmanlike Drivers remember this.

Sportsmanlike Driving—Use Hand Signals

Triple Position Hand Signals

Hand signals are one of the most important requirements for safe motoring. State laws vary as between extending the arm horizontally to signal all changes in the movement of the car and different signals for right turns, left turns and stopping. Shown above is the single signal required in some states and the three signals required in others. By all means, learn to give the proper signal. It is Sportsmanlike Driving.
