

Ye Snooper's Column

Things About Nyssa's Shops

Now, my sistern, it is not our purpose to run a matrimonial bureau within this column, it being the purpose of these lines to tell you of the things new and different that we do see in Nyssa's busy marts from day to day.

Yet because so great a hue and clamor arose from last week's comments and the requests for further information does keep pouring in, we will offer you a bit further information and advice and then be about our real chore.

We however do assume no responsibility in any affairs do occur that may ensue from suggestions herein made.

Now at the bank there be one Bob McCurdy, an eye-ful for any lass, who methinks with proper preparation could grace the head of any ladies table. To these weather eyes he does also give promise of excellent wearing qualities.

Then upon the staff of Leo Holtenberg, our pleasing school superintendents, labors "Stub" Bailey, whom we do understand has rare possibilities and is worthy of every maid's consideration.

Now just one more. For we cannot possibly close our list without calling to your attention our old friend Omer Adkinson who too long already has dwelt among you alone. This presentable young man should be a challenge to every Eve and Lilith among you.

As we did chide you before, little sistern, thou hast in the past been somewhat lax in these matters, but you do be really wise we know and such display of male independence will not go undisputed.

As you see Nyssa has a great variety ready for your choice and be not afraid nor dubious of the outcome for the wariest male among them will pull double and like it if properly harnessed. That be up to you.

Someday there will come a time when thou canst say to thy self well done in these matters and thou wilt find that the Boy Friend does long to please thee with offerings, and then thou canst say that thou dost have a sweet tooth and would enjoy a box of those Browne-Haley chocolates that Maxies does sell. They do be luscious and verily he will return to thee again with another box.

By this time he will wish to please thee further and to spend long hours in thy company. This is the time to suggest a ride by his side to Ontario town where there are two fine showhouses, the Pix and the Roxy. There they do have deep cushioned seats and thou canst snuggle close in the darkness and if the picture be scary perhaps he will hold it hand.

It is here that sweet perfume will stand thee in good stead. But you will have to use your own judgment as to what pleases him most. Whether it is to be the clean fragrance of spring, or whether he will come closer than close to find for himself if that promise be true in those heavy ones, heady with the aromas of Araby. You know, waving palms, golden moon light, veiled and languorous maidens and a tropical breeze whispering.

But whatever his favorite be, it may be purchased in amounts both large and small at the Nyssa Pharmacy.

While we be on the subject, there be another way to a man's heart, one that our smart great grand mothers did find the best and surest 'Tis the way to a man's heart through his stomach. Do thou inveigle him to thine dinner table and there set before him choice viands which thou canst purchase every day at the Cash Grocery or at Wilson Brothers on Main Street. Then serve them to him thyself, dressed in a new gingham gown, the which may be purchased at the Wilson Dry Goods store on Main Street in all sizes and colors and styles.

These be but a few of those things which thou may do to bring an errand one to thy side. Things that Eve has handed down to her daughters since the dawn of time, but there be many more from which you can probably give us pointers. So strut thy stuff and verily thou wilt succeed. What with all this building exciting hither and thither on new business bent one can but be grateful for the ever improving transportation facilities and foremost among those companies who ever keep abreast of the time is the Mt. Hood Stage company, so that if thou or any member of thy family doest wish to take a trip either long or short there is a stage going that way.

Day by day Jack Frost gets closer and brings that time when pipes do freeze to add to thy griefs and woes. Be wise now and call in the plumber Kinzer. Have him look them over and follow his advice, then when thy neighbor is weeping and wailing and bailing out water thou canst prance merrily off to thy bridge game.

Or perhaps there will be some pipes and flues and things needed that the Nyssa stores do not carry. If so get thine husband to see the Rose Brothers in Parma and there they will make the things to the exact measurement, and while he is there he will find many more things to lighten his labors, to say nothing of thine own.

Mr. Fox did tell us that at his Saturday Sales the supply of things grows ever larger but also that they are going like molasses on a flap jack. So if thou hast ought to sell or doest want to buy a good bargain, get thee hence on Saturday at two P. M. and there thou wilt satisfy thyself. Beside Bert Anderson doest have a sly wit and doest merrily drive his bargains so that when they are finished thou wilt find thy sides tender from much laughing.

The real estate moguls in town do tell us that there is a shortage of houses. Care not. See those fine couches that Tom Nordale is showing at his store and you can easily make four rooms do for five any day.

Now little sistern, if thou doest care to see the afore mentioned Omer Adkinson, he is usually on display at the Owyhee Drug company's new store on Main near Third and there he does dispense those things that will add to thy charm and beauty. And while thee be making thy selections thou canst look him over carefully and secretly.

Buy in Nyssa from Journal advertisers and thou wilt not waste thy time and they gas going farther.
