

HIGHER FARM INCOMES FOR 1937 PREDICTED

Although the index of the general level of farm prices in Oregon has dropped approximately 10 per cent since June and, 80 per cent of the 1926-1930 average, is 3 points under September 1936, agricultural income in Oregon during the year 1937 is expected to exceed that of 1936 materially. Such are the conclusions to be drawn from data given in a review of the agricultural situation just released by the Oregon State College agricultural extension service.

Average 12 Per Cent Over 1936

The gain in agricultural income is attributed to an expected yearly average farm price level running around 12 per cent over the 1936 year average, and to a prospective increase of about 3 per cent in the gross volume of agricultural production. Data in the report show that farm prices were at relatively high level during the first half of 1937, declining during the summer and fall months under new crop influences. In general, the season has been very favorable for crops, both in Oregon and in the country as a whole.

Although the report states that the estimates are quite preliminary in nature, the increase in total agricultural income in Oregon in 1937 over 1936 may approximate 15 per cent and may amount to as much as $20,000,000. Including the value added by agricultural manufacturing operations and farm sales of numerous specialty farm products, as well as income from the principal crop and animal products, total agricultural income is expected to reach $150,000,000 or more in 1937—the greatest since 1929.

Purchasing Power Not Increased

"Considering the purchasing power of the dollar, Oregon's agricultural income in 1937 has the appearance of being even better than in 1929, if present prospects work out," says the report. "In 1929, the United States index of prices paid by farmers averaged 101 per cent of the 1926-30 level, against a probable average of 86 for 1937."

"On the other hand, however, the census shows that the income of 1937 will be divided between a considerably greater number of farm operators in Oregon, consequently the purchasing power per farm family has not increased to the same extent as total agricultural income."
