Advice To The Road-Worn

Gentlemen:

I'm just a young feller trying to truck, $100.00. Nyssa Garage. 28Otc I'm' in love. Yu might laugh, but I can't help it. I'm plenty worried, tco, chance.

You see my boss' sweetheart has the dizziest 16-cylinder French Lizzie ever laid eyes on. Boy, how I have fallen for that bus!

But what right have I got to think I can share the same garage with such a wonderful creature? Me, just a 1930 Chevy.

Man, those curves and lines are driving me crazy. Tell me, do you think I've got a chance?

Yours truly. Andy Gearshift.

Dear Andy Gearshift: Don't be a sap. That French nodel hasn't got a think on you. Get her out on fishing trip and see what happens. Go to it, kid. We're with you. Don't forget-A Chevy never quits.

America desperately needs and effective minority party. It should silence may have been the most userole of the Republicans. They had Monitor. only seven en senators and about one-fourth of the House of Representatives; denunciation would have been partially discounted as selfish partisanship.

This latter fact points directly to the real weakness of the minority. It needs to regain the confidence yes, the friendship, of the American people. The Republican party need not resort to "out-Santa Clausing Santa." Indeed, such a course only destroys confidence. Pressure groups are indeed powerful, but Americans have not yet become a people seeking only to live on federal charity. Fundamentally they still respond to ideals, to vision, and to leadership.

'The party which seeks to win their confidence must come with those qualities. It must have something of the dynamic inspiring idealism and human sympathy which founded the Republican It need not promise the mocn, but it may well hitch its wagon to a star. It needs something more than the mobilizing of disconents. If the contest is to be between 'aginers," those who are against standpattism will outnumber those gambling. who question Roosevelt methods. The age has become newly critical of motives, more critical of them, perhaps, than of methods.

The party which is to become effective in oppostion must convince the people that its motives are right, that its opposition is sincerely devoted to preservation of essential or any other colorless material, he constitutional liberties and a free models the hair so that other execonomy. An effective opposition party needs to put principles so definitely Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Leavitt have to the fore that personal rivalries will be lost. And the present minority needs just now to remove the growing appearance of a Hoover-Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Stepp of Landon schism over leadership. It needs to make an appeal that will not only karp the "seventeen million" of 1936 in line but will appeal to millions of New Deal Republicans and independents.
