DAIRYMEN PRAISES MANURE TANK

Toledo—If the liquid manure tank installed last year on the Christiansen Dairy near Toledo continues to give the same results in the future that it has during the past fall, it will be the biggest one thing that has ever been done to improve the farm. Claus Christiansen told County Agent M. J. Conklin recently. He says the grass has been noticeably ranker and greener on that farm than on neighboring farms this fall, and stands of clover and grass have thickened. Mr. Christiansen believes the ideal way to seed grass is to sow the seed and give the ground a top dressing of liquid manure. He says he has also observed that pastures top-dressed with liquid manure do not seem to dry out as much as untreated fields.
