WHEAT ALLOTMENT TO BE DISCUSSED AT DISTRICT MEETS

With the wheat acreage allotment for Oregon definitely established, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in this state, consisting mostly of farmer committeemen, will proceed at once to make the essential changes in former plans made necessary by the passage of the new law, according to N. E. Dodd, state committee chairman.

A series of eight district meetings in Oregon is being held, as arranged by the state committee immediately upon the return of representatives from Salt Lake City where all provisions of the new act were thoroughly discussed. These district meetings are being attended by county agents and county committeemen where adjustments in the 1938 program will be explained. The schedule of district meetings follow:

March 15—Benton, Linn, Polk, Marion, Lane and Yamhill counties at Corvallis and Coos and Curry at Coquille; March 16—Lincoln, Tillamook and Clatsop at Tillamook and Douglas, Jackson, and Josephine at Grants Pass; March 17—Columbia, Washington, Clackamas, Multnomah and Hood River at Gresham; March 18—Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam, Morrow and Umatilla at Arlington. March 19—Creek, Deschutes, Jefferson, Klamath, Lake Wheeler and Harney at Redmond; March 21—Grant, Baker, Malheur, Union and Wallowa at Baker.

Of major interest to Oregon is the provision in the new law for a 1938 wheat acreage allotment. It will be applicable to wheat growers in this state except where farms in-fluct food and feed crop areas normally produce less than 100 bushels a year. On such farms wheat will be included with the general soil depleting crops for which no individual allotments are established.

Larger wheat growers who participate in the 1938 conservation program will be given definite acreage allotments by the county committees. Those who conform to such an allotment and carry out such soil building practices as are applicable on their farms, will qualify for benefit payments at the rate of 12 cents a bushel on the normal yield for the acreage in their allotment.

The program is again strictly voluntary, the state officials point out. The establishment of marketing quotas, the one feature of the bill which can be made compulsory by a two-thirds vote by the farmers themselves, is not planned for wheat in 1938.

BUILD RUGGED ENERGY

That "Run Down," "Half Sick" Feeling Is Often Due to Lack of Iron in the Blood

Pur sang, the marvelous new tonic, helps to bring back rugged energy by restoring needed iron to the blood.

Pur sang is a scientific product of the famous McKesson laboratories, containing organic compounds of iron and copper. These help to build hemoglobin—the substance that makes red blood red. Pur sang also aids in improving digestion and stimulating appetite.

That dull, dragged out feeling may be due to an iron deficiency—caused by overwork, worry or illness. Get a bottle of Pur sang at once. Take it two or three days and see how much better and more energetic you feel.
