WORK TO BUY

COLUMBIA Empire's "Buy to Work—Work to Buy" campaign is working! Enthusiastic reports from all over the territory have fulfilled advance predictions that this year's campaign would exceed all previous efforts, according to Geo. L. Baker, manager of Columbia Empire Industries, Inc.

Typical of the enthusiasm with which business leaders have received the "buy-products-of-this-area" drive are the remarks of E. B. MacNaughton, President of the First National Bank of Portland. Mr. MacNaughton says: "I like this Columbia Empire Industries' idea of the way to create opportunity. To take stock of our manufacturing, lumbering and farming assets; to test the worth of our production by actual purchase, cannot do otherwise than bring the realization that only through such a sensible procedure can we hasten solid and substantial expansion. Without this needed expansion, how else can we create opportunity for additional employment?"

Mr. Baker, who has traveled throughout most of the area since the campaign began, April 1st, reports that merchants are tying in with this year's effort better than ever before. Floor displays of Northwest products, special advertising to call attention to featured Columbia Empire items and other means have been used to give added impetus to consumption.

Working with Baker on the campaign is a general committee, of which R. B. ("Army") Ambrose, president of Columbia Empire Industries, Inc., is chairman. Mrs. Jess A. Dymman is in charge of organizing women's participation.

Newspapers, radio stations, speakers before luncheon clubs, organizations and special groups, displays, and printed matter are all being employed to drive home the importance of buying products of the Columbia Empire. The campaign will be continued until April 10th.

Multiply by 52
In this one week you have only sampled the fine products of the Columbia Empire. In one week you have started the snowball of prosperous employment rolling. So, remember that we who are WORKERS and BUYERS are the creators of WORK and OPPORTUNITY.
Let's multiply this last week by fifty-two. As long as our products of the Columbia Empire have merit - as long as they produce happiness and employment for us, let's give them first and permanent consideration. We have found the truth - "WE MUST BUY TO WORK - and WE MUST WORK TO BUY."

"The Real Jurisdiction of the World" Written for The Christian Science Monitor.

Definitions of "jurisdiction" include "the administration of justice," "the right to exercise legal authority," and "extent of power."

How comprehensive is the meaning of the term, how universal the subject, how exhaustless the application. Too frequently, however, one may yearn for a sense of protection from conditions which, to one's sense of rightness, lack authority, are manifestly illegal, or ought to have no power.

When this state of things is considered, it occasions little surprise that thousands of men and women throughout the world welcome with grateful, intelligent appreciation the following declaration by Mary Baker Eddy, on page 379 of the textbook of Christian Science, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "The real jurisdiction of the world is in Mind, controlling every effect and recognizing all causation as vested in divine Mind."

That God is Mind, infinite and supreme, is no longer a startling thought. The age-old teaching of the Bible recognizes Him as the one intelligence, all-knowing, all-present, all-powerful. It recognizes also that He is perfect, unchanging, infinite Love, not only blessing, but controlling and directing His universe, including man. Wherever one turns in the inspired pages of the Bible, these truths are borne in upon thought with such conviction that to enlarge upon them seems superfluous. Yet how slow mankind has ever been to accept the obvious corollary to the statement that God is infinite intelligence, namely, that He must also be the infinite Lawgiver.

That He unfolded to Moses a concept of moral law upon foundation of which progressive civilization has to a great extent been erected is acknowledged. That He made Himself known to kings and rulers through the unfolding of spiritual law is also plain. The praise of His perfect law is a theme ever upon the lips of poet and prophet, and is probably not better summarized anywhere than by Isaiah (33:22): "For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us."

As the understanding of Deity unfolded to human thought, the anticipations of the righteous were fulfilled in the appearing of the promised Messiah, who revealed to men that the stern but necessary Mosaic laws regarding killing, lying, stealing, adultery, are naturally supported by the realization of man's perfect sonship with God, divine Love.
Christ Jesus, the Way-shower, taught that through the better understanding of the law of Spirit, all needs are met, this showing that there is no law of poverty. He healed the sick by proving sickness to be but a mortal belief. He overcame death for others and himself because the belief in the matter never had been within the jurisdiction of the perfect and only Law-giver. Had these conditions ever been according to absolute rightness, it is obvious that nothing, under and circumstances, could have nullified them.
That the Way-shower did overcome them is very generally accepted by humanity today. Therefore many, despite longstanding material beliefs, are searching for the same understanding which he promised to all believers in Christ, Truth.

For almost three hundred years his followers sought to overcome all the erroneous beliefs regarded as within the jurisdiction of so-called matter, but the time came when those professing to follow him confined their efforts to the overcoming of sin. They overlooked much of the Master's example and purpose in teaching the law of Spirit. Mrs. Eddy re-established the lost features of the Christian teaching. The truth regarding the unreality of all error came to her through the spiritual revelation and comprehension of the allness of God. Thus she declared (Science and Health, p. 273): "The so-called laws of matter and of medical science have never made mortals whole, harmonious, and immortal. Man is harmonious, when governed by Soul. Hence the importance of understanding the truth of being, which reveals the laws of spiritual existence." To "understand the truth of being" is to apprehend God's allness, to understand how God, Spirit, impersonal and invor-poreal, is expressed through His ideas, which partake of the nature and qualities of their divine Principle.

In the spiritual realm, where the real man ever dwells, there is no matter; all is Spirit. Therefore there is no material law. Thus, grievances and oppressions have no power over God's spiritual man. Paul distinguished between matter and Spirit.
He wrote (Romans 8:2), "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

To the earnest heart that would have redress of injustice Christian Science offers salvation, not through material litigation, or the adjustment of merely outward conditions, but through the change of thought by which divine Principle is seen to be the only Lawgiver. Thus is it proved that "the real jurisdiction of the world is in Mind," God.

The Spineless "Yes" Man

We don't have a lot of regard for the fellow who attempts to so order his life that he will have no enemies, and no one will ever take exception to his views. Such a person as a rule, doesn't stand for much because he has to take one position with one group and another with another. He is unable to ever live his own beliefs fitted into those of every one else. If such an individual did exist he would be without individuality, without any definite character of his own. If there is anything more insipid than a wishy-washy man who is everything to everybody we don't know what it is. We prefer the individual who has opinions of his own, though they may differ from our own, and who has the stuff in him to stand up for them even though he loses the questionable friendship of small yes-men.—The Emmett (Idaho) Messenger.

Dairymen Progressive

Dairymen have made a wise move in deciding to organize here. The record of such cooperative and betterment associations in all lines of agriculture is such that the benefits cannot be questioned.

Josephine county is particularly well suited to the raising of fine cattle with the attendant result of more profit to the dairyman. A long range program of herd improvement will return to members many times their investment in money and time.

It is on such progressiveness on the part of our farmers that Josephine county has grown and will continue to grow. We have the resources here . . . let's develop them to the fullest extent.—Grants Pass Bulettin.

In view of the fact that several gardeners around Wilder had the sad experience last season of getting hold of a poor quality of seed, it would be a good idea for those who desire to escape the loss of both money and time from this source to exert a little more care when purchasing this spring's supply. The money loss when seed failed to germinate is bad enough, but when the less of time that was devoted to the cultivation of them is also taken into consideration, it is found to be no little item. The disappointment, too, is great, since it is usually too late to plant effectively after it is discovered that the original planting is not going to bring satisfactory results. The man who sows you seed is expected to know beyond doubt if the varieties are adapted to the soil and climate of this section. As a rule, he does know and he carries only that kind. For that reason it is advisable to purchase of a reputable dealer, to get only tested varieties, and not to buy just because they are priced a few cents cheaper than the best.—Wilder (Idaho) Herald.
