ODE TO EASTERN OREGON
 From the muddy Mississippi To the blue Pacific shore From the bleak Canadian border To Old Mexico's front door I have trekked o'er numerous Mountains, Thru the valleys, 'cross the plains, Tramped the soggy, flooded rain-belts, Been where dust plugs up your veins.

But no place quite caught my fancy Nor fit in my scheme of things Like the sense of real security. That "EASTERN OREGON" brings.

So here I'll build my castle Where there's nothing much to fear Drought and flood no more I'll "wrasse" Gosh! I'm glad I landed here.

Hugh Glasgow.
