OTHERS IN PORTLAND RACE.

SALEM, Ore.—So much stress has been placed upon the hotly contested gubernatorial race that candidates for other important posts for which nominations are to be made at the forthcoming primary election are experiencing difficulty in arousing any enthusiasm among the voters.

For instance the terms of three supreme court justices are expiring. In each instance the incumbent is seeking another term but each justice is faced with opposition, more or less formidable. For position No. 2 now held by Justice Henry J. Bean, veteran member of the court both in point of age and years of service, there are five candidates including Justice Bean himself. Under the provisions of the non-partisan judiciary law should none of these candidates receive a majority of the votes cast for this position the two high candidates will enter a runoff election next November. The same situation exists in the case of position No. 5 where Justice Hall S. Lusk is opposed by Attorney General Van Winkle and James T. Chinnock of Grants Pass. In the case of position No. 3 where Justice J. O. Bailey is opposed by only one other candidate, B. S. Martin of Salem, only the name of the candidate surviving the primary contest will appear on the November ballot.

An interesting situation exists in the tenth judicial district where ten candidates, including practically every attorney in Union and Walla Walla counties, have entered the race to succeed Judge J. W. Knowles who is retiring after a long period of service on the circuit bench.

Then there are the senatorial and congressional posts for all of which hotly contested races are being waged in both the Democratic and Republican camps. On the Democratic side of the senatorial campaign both Carl Donagh and Willis Mahoney are engaging in daily personal appeals for support over the radio and from the platform while the Republican candidates, Stace Treasurer Rufus C. Holman and Robert N. Stanfield appear to be relying more heavily on letter writing campaigns.

In the congressional column James W. Mott, Republican incumbent from the first district, is faced with the most formidable opponent of his experience in the person of Walter Norbald, youthful Astoria attorney, Congressman Walter M. Pierce, Democratic incumbent in the second district, is not expected to have any great difficulty in defeating his lone opponent, Wade Crawford of Klamath county. In the third district Nan Wood Honeyman, incumbent, appears to have the situation well in hand and is expected to easily outdistance her two Democratic opponents.

Outside of the congressional and gubernatorial posts the only state-wide contest which the Republican voters will be called on to decide is that for state labor commissioner where C. H. Gram, incumbent, is opposing candidates for two other state positions. For superintendent of public instruction, Rex Putnam, incumbent, is opposed by John W. Leonhardt of LaGrande, and for the post of labor commissioner two men are bidding for support—Clarence F. Hyde of Eugene and Paul E. Roth of Multnomah county.

OREGON RAILROADS REVENUE BEST IN U. S.

While business handled by Oregon railroads shows a steady increase since 1932 freight revenues collected by Oregon roads in 1936 were still 9.4 per cent below the 1930 figure according to a statistical report compiled by N. G. Wallace, public utilities commissioner. Passenger revenues, too, show a steady gain since 1933 but for 1936 were still 37.87 per cent below the figures for 1930. At that, however, railroad business in Oregon during the past six years has been better than that for the United States as a whole, Wallace's report shows.

UNEMPLOYMENT FUND WITHSTANDS JOLT

On May 1, after four months of the Oregon unemployment compensation commission was only $655,554 below the level at which it stood on January 2, the commission reported this week. In view of the fact that the past four months were probably the most strenuous the fund will ever be called upon to face the commission is highly elated over the manner in which the fund withstood the severe strain put upon it by the huge accumulation of benefit claims.

POLICE BUREAU GETS "GOON" CONVICTIONS

Records of the state police bureau show that 29 labor terrorists are now serving prison terms ranging from a minimum of 90 days in the Washington county jail in the case of Jack Lyons to 12 years in the state penitentiary in the case of Albert N. Banks, former head of the Salem teamsters union, convicted on an arson charge in connection with the burning of a West Salem box factory last November. Five other "goons" convicted on terrorist charges are at liberty either under suspended sentences or paroles from the bench while 53 other alleged terrorists, all under indictment, are awaiting trial. Ralph Moody, special prosecutor under appointment by Governor Martin to assist district attorneys with the "goon" trials, has announced that the trial of Jack W. Estabrook, Portland warehouse union secretary will open in Washington county on May 16, to be followed immediately by the trial of Albert E. Rosser, Portland teamsters' secretary. Both are under indictment on charges of malicious destruction of property with dynamite.

SURE TO BE A "HENRY"

Whoever the Democrats may nominate as their candidate for governor it is a pretty safe bet that his name will be "Henry." Their three candidates include Charles Henry Martin, Henry Hess and O. Henry Oleen. The Republicans have only one "Henry" among their eight candidates. He is Henry Hansen former budget director under Governor Meier.

The home of Leo Winn was a place of great excitement last Saturday afternoon when their home barely escaped being flooded out by a ditch break. The break occurred above the Jess Sugg homestead, washing with the water, sand and debris to the lower ditch filling it till the water backed up to nearly overflowing. Mr. Winn finally managed to secure enough help from surrounding neighbors to shovel the debris out. Meanwhile the water was cut off by the ditcher, Mr. Anderson to stop the flooding over the Sugg land. Not too much damage was done and the ditch has already been repaired.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parker and family from Kansas are visiting with their daughter, Mrs. W. W. Woods. They will extend their visit until June then expect to return to their farm in Kansas.

"Step Down" Rates make ELECTRICITY the Biggest Bargain in Your Home!
Seldom do the necessities of life grow cheaper as you use more of them.
But that's true of your electric service, under "step down" rates. The more you use, the cheaper the rate becomes. As you add more appliances — save more time and labor — gain more in comfort and convenience — you earn a progressively lower electric rate. And the additional use which you have added last comes at the lowest rate of all.
And, too, if you reduce your use of electric service, the saving comes at the lowest rate. Your average rate paid for all service rises. You lose the best part of your bargain.
Electricity is cheaper in Idaho than almost anywhere else in the nation. That's why our customers have accepted its advantages so fully — and why they use more electric service than most people.
Use electric service freely — secure in the knowledge that the more you use the lower the average rate you pay.

After You've 'STEPPED DOWN' Your Electric Rate DON'T STEP BACK
Your electric rate becomes cheaper as you use more electric service.
