Members of the Owyhee school board spent Thursday morning looking over the territory belonging to the district which is several miles south of Adrian. They found a tract of about 7 thousand acres which is speedily coming under cultivation with some good looking grain ready to harvest. Some places are already improved but for the most part the settlers are just beginning. But the water is there and those who have witnessed the wonderful possibilities in surrounding new territory can easily vision a rich farming community in the near future.

Several of the young people here have been enjoying the mumps, but reports are that all are convalescing nicely.

STOCK AND GRAIN MARKETS

(Editor's Note: The following market information is supplied from material obtained over the Government leased market wire in the office of the extension economist at Oregon State College. The material is in the form of a weekly summary of trends in the livestock market and is not intended to replace spot day by day market reports).

Cattle Markets

Influenced probably by recent price advances, shippers supplied North Portland with 3350 head of cattle last Monday, which was the largest number received in six week end in several months. While trading was slow on the better grades, and prices down somewhat from the closing quotations of the previous week, two loads of grass steers averaging 975 pounds brought $9.25, which was somewhat higher than the top price obtained a week earlier. Other medium to good offerings moved at $7.50 to $8.65.

At San Francisco the market continued stronger with advances in prices shown on better grades of steers. Medium short-fed California steers brought $8.65, with weighty grassers going at $7.50 to $8.00. Cattle prices at North Portland have almost reached the late May level which was the highest point of the year to date. Prices are still running around $1 less than a year ago. The condition of cattle on the first of July this year was reported the best since 1932 with indications that range stock will reach good weights and finish. Marketings of western cattle in June were lighter than a year ago due to smaller shipments from Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Sheep and Lamb Markets

Sharp advances and active trading occurred in the spring lamb market at North Portland following the receipts of only 1000 head last Monday. Good trucked-in offerings brought mostly $7.25, which was 75c to $1 higher than a week earlier. A carload of good to choice lambs from the Mt. Adams area sold up to $7.75.

From California reports are that many buyers have left the state although some contracting at higher elevation has been on the basis of $6.50 to $6.75 f.o.b. loading points. Lamb prices have been rather erratic the last few months, advancing sharply one week and declining the next. Prices at both North Portland and Chicago have been running about $2.00 to $2.50 below those of last year at this time.

Ranges in the inter-mountain area are in excellent condition. Estimates are that range bands this season will have 10 to 20 per cent more fat lambs than in recent years. Contracting in western Montana has been active at $5.75 to $6.00 for fall delivery. Many bids of $6.25 to $6.50 for ewes were reported but most growers were reluctant to sell at that level. Contracting of feeder-lambs has been active in Wyoming with prices advancing as much as 50c to a prevailing price level of $6.50.

Hog Markets

About 1400 head of hogs were received at North Portland last Monday and moved on an active market with prices up about 50c from the previous week's close. Top price for carload lots was $10.75.

Bot San Francisco and Chicago markets were somewhat lower than the previous week, however. Despite the recent gains in the hog markets, prices are still about $1.50 lower than the corresponding date last year.

Wool Markets

Continued pick-up in trade on the Boston wool market occurred last week with prices tending somewhat higher. Although some users showed considerable resistance to the rapidly advancing prices, others continued to buy, so that a good volume of wool was taken out of the market.

Several grades of territory wool moved in substantial quantities at moderately advanced price. Graded combed, three-eighths blood, territory wool sold at 56c to 58c, scoured basis, an advance of one cent over the range of the previous week. Graded, French combed fine territory wool was steady with prices ranging from 63c to 65c, scoured basis. French combed, fine territory wool in original bags could be bought at 62c to 63c, scoured basis.

Ranges and Pasture

While range and pasture conditions have been substantially better in the far west than in recent years, pasture conditions for the country as a whole on July 1 were about the same as in 1935 and about equal to the usual average prior to the drought periods beginning in 1930. June and early July rains occurred in the corn belt and most of the northern great plains area, Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska all report pastures and ranges much better than a year ago. Even in the Dakotas and Montana recent rains have practically assured summer feed. In the far east conditions are not so favorable.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE OREGON TRAIL P. T. A.

With the closing of the school year another busy but successful year for Oregon Trail P. T. A. has been completed. Our unit although small, with only 22 paid up members has accomplished much and with the co-operation of all officers committees and members have taken an active part in both the local and county organizations.

Oregon Trail P. T. A. holds their meetings at the homes of different members during the summer. These are social meetings, sponsored by the program and hospitality committees. At the August meeting plans were made for the coming year. As 4-H club work is our main project, two 4-H club members Mary June Rookstool and Dewey Thomason gave very interesting reports of their trip to the 4-H club summer school at Corvallis.

In September a reception was given for the teachers, Mrs. Phyllis Hopkins and Miss Goldie Miller. The first aid kit for the school was stocked as usual.

A contribution was sent to the McLaughlin Memorial fund. Mrs. J. B. Smith one of our outstanding members is county chairman.

Five 4-H club members were awarded prizes in the 4-H club poster contest in which much interest was shown.

A Halloween carnival and white elephant sale, which was well attended and added about $15 to our treasury was given the last of Oct. This is an annual event at Oregon Trail.

The Christmas tree, costumes for operetta and all decorations were sponsored by the P. T. A. also the treats which were presented to all small youngsters and school children of this community.

A 4-H club achievement program was given in January. Oregon Trail sponsors four 4-H clubs, a boy's Calf club, a girls Sewing club, a girls Cooking club and has the distinction of having the first Pheasant club in Malheur county. E. M. Hauser county club leader presented 21 girls and boys with 4-H club pins and certificates of achievement. Also three club leaders were awarded pins. A very interesting 4-H club program was presented.

At the February meeting in observance of the 41st anniversary of the founding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers a special program was given. A pageant "The Bow of Promise," was presented also a playlet "The Ideal P. T. A. Birthday Cake," with musical numbers to round out a well planned program. A silver offering was taken and sent to the state fund.

A basket social was given in March from which over $15 was cleared.

A tonsillectomy was provided for one of the school children.

A health clinic for pre-school children was sponsored this spring. At this time all pre-school children who had not previously taken the diphtheria toxoid were treated.

The annual school picnic and the ice cream social were sponsored as usual by the P. T. A. In the afternoon new officers for the coming year were installed by one of our former presidents, Mrs. J. B. Smith as follows:

President, Miss Goldie Miller; Vice President, F. C. Fry; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. F. G. Holmes; Historian, Mrs. F. C. Fry; Transportation to 4-H club summer school was provided for Mary June Rookstool who was presented with a scholarship by the Ontario Commercial club at the fair last fall.

In reviewing the years work we have been represented at all county meetings. At nearly every meeting a well planned program has been presented using both local and outside talent. Programs of interest included several reels of moving pictures, health talks and music besides special features were used. Refreshments were served during the social hour following nearly every meeting.

Our P. T. A. publicity manual has been awarded first place in the county publicity contest.

Each individual has worked together to make a good organization year to make the better, best.
