POLITICAL JOCKEYING?

THIS week, along with the usual bushels of governmental propoganda, comes a subtle bit of news that is captioned "Western Men Get High Position In USDA Shakeup." This comes, indirectly from Secretary Wallace's Department of Agriculture.

We wonder — about that "shakeup"—it couldn't be that the Secretary is beginning to realize that his regimentation of the farmers is beginning to have it's repercussion from a political angle? The wheat allotments have not gained a thing for the farmer, neither has corn, or cotton, to say nothing of the beet sugar situation.

The farmer, it may be said, is slow to form his opinion, but once formed, nationally, those opinions are as inexorable as the raising of the sun.

As far as the "shakeup" is concerned we fail to note where there will be any political heads lopped off—rather the simple expedient of creating a few more jobs, and it will be the same old gang working in the same old manner.

As to the "western men" only one of these new appointments is listed as owning land in the west. The others are termed westerners, only by virtue of the fact that they have attended college, and in one case has relatives living in the west.

All of which looks to us as if the Secretary of Agriculture is beginning to "see the light" and we can expect to hear of a lot more of these "shakeups"—with the hope of maintaining vote power. But which it seems to us, to be so much political jockeying.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP DEMANDS STUDY

TWENTY-SIX days from today the voters of the nation will have an opportunity to participate in the highest privilege of citizenship—that of selecting men and women throughout the country that will form a part of our government, together with certain laws under which the electorate shall be bound.

We are wondering how many voters on November 8, will emulate those careless voters in Washington that elected a mule for precinct committeeman? Sounds funny doesn't it? But it actually happened.

The moral as we see it is that people, all of the people, should not only go to the polls and vote, but should acquaint themselves before hand as to who and what they are voting for. An official voters pamphlet is mailed out by the Secretary of the State to ever registered voter in the state. Contained in this voters pamphlet is contained all of the measures upon which every good citizen will be expected to pass his opinion in the form of voting. For this reason no person will have the opportunity to say that he had no chance to inform himself about the proposed laws.

As to the candidates, seeking office, that remains solely within the discriminatory judgment of the voters—it is for them to decide if a candidate's "platform" coincides with the voters views on government. Upon this matter the voter must attend meetings, read newspapers or what ever other means at his disposal to inform himself.

The main thing is to get out and vote!

PARMA LUTHERAN CHURCH

A. A. Schmidt, Pastor.
18 Trinity Gospel: Matthew 22.
34-46. Epistle: I Corinthians 14-9.
God has given the church the Gospel or reconciliation through the sin-atoning sacrifice of Jesus.
At the cross of Calvary, and there alone, sinners can find forgiveness, reconciliation with God, birth into spiritual life, freedom from the yoke of Satan, power to overcome greed and selfishness, and strength to love God The cross of Jesus is God's answer to the supreme woe of humanity.

This church feels honor bound to God and man to proclaim only the message of the cross for therein alone can the church please God, and help men, for all have sinned, there is salvation only in the name above every other name, Jesus.

We therefore invite you to come to our services and hear the message of the cross of Christ and how it can deliver you from the woes of the world Will you come? You know that you owe it to yourself and your God to spend at least an hour a week in worship.
