

How Safe Are You at Home? Red Cross Warns of Hazards

1. Loose rug at top of stairs is a dangerous hazard.
2. Keep medicine cabinets locked or out of reach of youngsters.
3. Teach children not to put safety pins or other small objects in their mouths.
4. Good luck if you hang it up, but bad luck if you step on the nails in this horseshoe.

DURING the month of October, the American Red Cross will carry a safety message into ten million homes and farms throughout the nation, urging a check-up on accident hazards.

Do you know these hazards? How safe are you at home? Do you know that deaths from injuries on the farm are steadily increasing? What are the causes? These are a few of the questions the Home and Farm Accident Prevention Service of the Red Cross will send into homes, on an accident check list to be distributed through Chapters, by millions of school children and members of the Junior Red Cross. And the answers are provided on the check list, too.

National attention was concentrated on the Home and Farm accident problem in 1935-36 by the Red Cross. In that year, 37,000 men, women and children lost their lives in home accidents, which were largely preventable. In 1937, this toll of life was reduced, and only 32,500 lives were sacrificed to carelessness. The spread of knowledge on hazards which were subject to correction was everywhere credited with this cut in the death toll.

The 1937 deaths from home accidents were divided as follows, according to the National Safety Council: falls, 17,500; burns and explosions, 5,600; poisonings, 1,700; firearms, 800; mechanical suffocation, 1,000; poison gases, 1,100.

The Red Cross appeals to those in the home and on the farm to carefully check hazards which may exist inside and outside their houses, and perhaps save a life or prevent a life-long injury.
