OUR COUNTY AND CITY BUDGET

ON November 8 the voters of the county and city of Nyssa will decide on issues involving financing of the county and city governments.

On the matter of county finances, the county budget committee has recommended to the county court an increased tax levy, over that allowed by the notorious "six per cent limitation law." There may be some hesitancy on the part of a few voters on voting favorably on this particular measure, due to the tangle that our road bonds are in.

This is unfortunate, but we as voters should not make the matter worse, by voting in the negative on the increase in the tax levy. This increase in the cost of our county government can be traced directly to the mandatory per capita tax for school children requirements—don't forget that last year saw a fifty per cent increase in the school student population of the county—this alone should recommend to every sound thinking person in the county the necessity of voting this special levy of $56,000. But to add to the already heavy burden put on the county by this school problem, there is that of the unprecedented number that is expected to be on the relief rolls this winter, the dependent children, and the aged people, the ones who have in the past done their share, as pioneers, in helping in the development of this great county of ours. Whatever our views may be regarding the county court, we cannot escape the fact that this increase was recommended by a committee of men in our communities who are capable business men, men who by their presence in the county have done much to bring it to the present state, where we may all be proud of it—these are the men who have recommended to us as voters, the advisability of voting this increase, favorably.

The Nyssa city government faces a like situation, a limitation law which makes it mandatory to go to the people to ask for an increase greater than that allowed by this law. In the city's case, all that can be raised over last year's budget is $442! That amount would not begin to pay for the price of the water pipe laid last year, in any one of the numerous sections of the city that are now receiving water to their houses. We are a rapidly growing city—numerous demands will be made upon our city government for the barest of modern improvements, extension of water mains, sidewalks, and so on without number. This special levy cannot of course be used for these things—but by voting in favor of it, we liberate other money's that can be used for these necessities.

Both the county and the city will face the same proposition that the Nyssa school district now faces, after the voting down of the special levy last Saturday, which will amount to paying six per cent on outstanding warrants, instead of a very nominal increase in our taxes—in fact, we have been advised that, in Nyssa at least, this increased tax levy will be hardly noticeable, due to the new property that will be on the 1939 tax roll.

All of which is intended to make you, Mr. and Mrs. Reader, do some thinking about this subject, on your own part. It is not our intention here, to try to influence you—simply to give you a few facts as they appear to us. But PLEASE GET OUT AND VOTE—AND DON'T FORGET TO SEE THAT YOUR NEIGHBOR VOTES TOO!

Legend tells of a lost continent and race of people known for their art, their men of science, and their wealth. It seems that this continent was undermined by the sea, and some volcanic disturbance caused the entire continent and all its people to sink far beneath the waves of the sea.

Somewhere on the bed of the sea lies this continent, with all its treasures, untouched, awaiting the day of its discovery. You and I will not be the discoverers of this lost continent. But there is another treasure that is within our reach. This treasure is happiness. Seldom is a treasure found without diligent search. And half the search is knowing where to look. ## OPINIONS BY OUR READERS

Submitted by readers of The Journal and the opinions may or may not agree with the policy of The Journal. You are invited to send in your ideas on current questions.

I read your article in last week's paper stating that the Portland Chamber of Commerce was in favor of the completion of the I. O. N. I cannot understand why the impression should be left with the people of this vicinity that they are at all sincere in this statement.

Portland has done all in its power through the highway commission to stall the completion of this project, and they have been very successful in their dilatory tactics. Best evidence of this is the fact that the project is still incomplete.

Eastern Oregon was advertised and designated as a "good will" tour, but I wonder, and I am not alone, if a bit of analysis would not reveal ulterior motives in the supposed "good will" tour. I am confident that the people in Malheur county recognize and consider the excursion as nothing more than a bit of political strategy to extract the teeth from Mr. Hess' resolve to pledge his efforts towards the immediate completion of the I. O. N.

It is strange that a delegation should be marched into Eastern Oregon shortly prior to the election with the paradoxical banner of "complete the I. O. N." They have always been opposed to this measure, and now that an Eastern Oregon candidate for governor utilizes his sincere interest to put himself favorably before the people of Eastern Oregon, the opposition camp assert a stand which they have always heretofore censured and bitterly opposed. At least it is my opinion that such is the intention of the opposition forces, but I trust and believe, that the people of this section will not be deceived by such subtle steps and be led to the polls believing that the Willamette and Portland interests came to Eastern Oregon merely to contradict all precedent set by themselves. It is my opinion that the excursion was nothing more than political steps under the guise of strange generosity. I may be wrong, but by view is held by many others.

Very truly yours,
Dr. C. M. Tyler.
