APPRECIATE WHAT WE HAVE

ON an occasion of dedicatory services held recently in Nyssa the writer was privileged to be among those present. The principal speaker of the evening brought out one of the soundest bits of philosophy that we have heard in a long time.

It was the speakers contention that very few of us really appreciate what we have—that we are constantly striving for something beyond our reach.

SO LET'S APPRECIATE WHAT WE HAVE!

AN INVESTMENT FOR THE FUTURE

IN the news columns of today's Journal is a story about the Reclamation department giving farmers on the Owyhee and Black Canyon projects some 75,000 trees.

Bring the Family to CHURCH

Ministers or others interested in church publicity are invited to use the columns of the Journal to carry important messages and notices to their congregations.

NEWS OF RECORD Arthur K. Servoss et al to E. D. Norcott et ux—lot 9, block 73, Greens Add., to Nyssa. 1-23-39. $1.

These young trees, in a few years should be large enough for fence posts, and if properly cared for, should provide good fuel, care being taken that when this "deforestation" takes place that the grove is thinned rather than subjected to indiscriminate cutting.

Aside from the utilitarian value of the trees there is the esthetic part that they will take in beautifying our farm communities.
