OREGON SLOPE GRANGE

By Mrs. C. A. Ketchan
Oregon Slope grange met last Thursday with a fair attendance. County Agent R. M. McKennon met with us and talked about weed control. He decided to call a meeting of the farmers of this community to meet with him at a future date to talk more about the situation.

At the next meeting, Thursday, March 2, Cecil Davis, teacher at the Ontario high school and the director of the Ontario dramatic club and some of his students will give the program during the lecturer's hour.

Refreshments will be served by Mr. and Mrs. John Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Precht and Margaret Danielson.

BOULEVARD GRANGE NEWS

The Oregon Trail grange and Boulevard grange will have a joint meeting for conferring degrees to be held at the Boulevard grange hall Thursday, February 23 at 8:30 p. m.

After the meeting a pot-luck dinner has been arranged. All grange members are urged to be there.

VALE GRANGE

By Mrs. Erle H. Parker
The annual farm produce and fancywork sale was preceded by a short business session.

New applications for membership were Mr. and Voss Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Purvis and Mr. and Mrs. George McWay.

The agricultural chairman's report stressed the importance of attending the various meetings being held throughout the county on the selection of seed.

It was voted to have the sale slip dinner soon at a regular grange meeting.

An invitation was read to attend a party given by Jamieson grange next Saturday night.

A discussion was held about Oregon Trail grange presenting their home talent play in Vale. Everyone was in favor of cooperating with them.

The grange voted to sponsor the sending of a 4-H club leader to a meeting held at Union March 3-4. Mabel Peterson was reported to be ill.

The men's program contained several humorous as well as patriotic numbers and was enjoyed by all.

Col Bert Anderson acutoned the farm produce in his usual free jovial manner and swelled the grange treasury considerable. The grange wishes to thank him for his generous support.

In Boise—
Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bailey spent Sunday in Boise.

POULTRY

---And Its Care
By WILEY CLOWERS

First of all, let me make it a little clearer about the dust bath for de-lousing chickens. A box 3 feet square and 6 inches deep should be kept in the chicken house nearly full of a mixture of ashes and de-lousing powder. 1 bushel of ashes, 1 cup of powder. It may seem that too much emphasis is being placed on de-lousing but, the most harmful condition existing for the adult flock as well as young chicks is this parasite. I have been culling some flocks this week and have found them without exception, infested. The owners did not know it.

You are all going to raise some chicks this spring and the adult flock should be cleaned first.

About culling; there are, in every flock, some chickens that either do not lay or lay so few eggs that they are expensive to keep. Those hens could just as well be sold and the money put in young chicks as to keep feeding them for nothing in return.

The best method of culling of course is the trapnet, however this method is impossible in most cases since very few farm flocks lay in trapnets. The next method, if done by one who has had experience and training is nearly as infallible and much faster. That is selection by space and condition test. If hens that have straight pelvic bones, soft egg bay regions and straight breast bones, provided that the hen is well formed and healthy otherwise, are kept, you may be sure that no layers are sold. The space between the pelvic bones tells whether or not the hen is laying at the time she is tested.

Demonstrations are held from time to time by the county agent, at least under his supervision. Those who are interested in learning how to cull should attend these meetings.

Next week, I shall make some suggestions as to the selection of little chicks.

ELDORADO GRANGE NEWS

By Mrs. E. J. Beam

On Thursday, Feb. 16 the Ladies Home Economics club held their regular monthly meeting with 10 members present. The business meeting consisted mainly of discussion on ways and means of raising funds for our proposed new kitchen. Two ladies were appointed as leaders and chose up sides to see which can raise the greater amount by the end of the next quarter. The losing side to put on a feed and entertain the winners. After the business meeting a short program was given by the members. Mrs. Orville Nichols was out hostess for the day and served a lovely lunch.

The dance given by the grange on Saturday night was a success from every standpoint and attended by one of the largest crowds this winter. The Wild Rose orchestra furnished the music.

The ladies appointed by the master on the finance committee for the kitchen are meeting with great success in soliciting funds.

CHATTER BOX CLUB

The last meeting of the Chatter-box club met with Mrs. Ira Ure last Wednesday afternoon.

Guests included Mrs. Frank Newbill, Mrs. Charles Newbill and Mrs. C. C. Cotton, all of Kingman Kolony.
