Mrs. Dick Tensen returned last week from Portland where she attended the Farm Security program committee meeting as representative from Malheur county.

At that time it was promised Mrs. Tensen reported, that if the allotment allowed for this work does not drop below twenty-five million dollars, then Malheur county will be placed on the list of counties eligible for farm home purchases. And if the sum is increased then there will be an additional number of farm purchases permissible.

Spud Shipments Earlier Than Last Year

Shipment of potatoes to the eastern market are considerably ahead this year for the same period of last year, according to figures just received from E. C. Crandall, Nyssa agent for the Union Pacific Railroad. Last year at this time only one carload had been shipped.

Crandall said that 68 carloads of spuds had been shipped to eastern markets up to July 12.

Prices for Malheur county potatoes so far have shown a very good market, with a dip in the last few days, but not enough to demoralize the market. It is expected that the market will react to a higher trend before the week is out.

Neil Dimnick, Nyssa farmer and potato grower netted $1.55 per hundred pounds, f.o.b. car at Nyssa, last week.

Considerable concern being given shippers over bacterial wilt. This disease is hard to detect, showing up, usually after the potatoes have arrived in the eastern markets. County Agent McKennon and Federal Inspector Huges are co-operating with local growers in fighting the disease, which it is claimed, can be traced back to seed. Very few if any types of seed this year seem to be escaping the disease.

Rogueing diseased plants is highly recommended by both McKennon and Huges.

BUREAU OFFICIALS MEET IN NYSSA

G. O. Sanford, general supervisor of operations and maintenance, and L. H. Mitchell, irrigation advisor for the Bureau of Reclamation met with a group of irrigation district officials here last night.

Accompanying Sanford and Mitchell were John Moore, supervisor of operation and maintenance, R. J. Newell, Fred Schlapkohl, George Haycock and C. J. Lyman, bureau accountant. Dinner was served at 6:30 p. m. in the school auditorium by the Nyssa Civic club.

Chairman for the dinner was Dr. J. J. Sarazin, one of the original members of the Vale-Owyhee Land Settlement association. Dr. Sarazin introduced Willard Robinson of the Gem district, Charles Fiegel of the Ontario-Nyssa district and Frank T. Morgan of the Owyhee district.

The summation of these three speakers was that the farmers in this district are anxious to help the Bureau and want to pay off their just debts to the government. That the present plans of paying off construction cost are too high and that the variable payment plan will work to better advantage of all concerned. Fiegel asked that construction cost payments be deferred for another four or five years.

Morgan said that every one connected with the Owyhee project was anxious to make the project the outstanding project of the Bureau's. Need for the re-establishing of the recently disbanded triple C camp was also stressed by Morgan.

Sanford, in his speech said that he could promise nothing to the district, but that the suggestions offered would be transmitted to Commissioner Page for his consideration.

Mitchell delivered an exceptionally fine lecture, illustrated by motion pictures on the "Practical Use of Soil and Water."

Mitchell paid high tribute to the county agents of the past and present that have helped and done so much to help the farmers on the Vale and Owyhee projects with their crop and irrigation problems.

FRED MARSHALL DIES FRIDAY

Death came quietly to Fred Marshall at his home on Third and Locust on Friday evening at 6:30, after an illness of a month.

With him was his niece, Mrs. W. W. Smith of San Diego who arrived the week previous. He left no closer relatives.

Services were held from the Community church on Sunday afternoon with the Rev. Mathews of the Presbyterian church at Ontario presiding.

Music was furnished by Mrs. C. C. Hunt pianist and a quartet composed of Mrs. Dick Tensen, Mr. and Mrs. Al Thompson and A. V. Pruyn, who sang his favorite hymns.

Palbearers were H. R. Sherwood, M. K. Solomon, Fred Koopman, Frank Sherwood, C. C. Hunt and Clarence Councilman of Roosevelt.

Funeral arrangements were by the Nyssa funeral home and interment was in the Nyssa cemetery.

Fredrick Marshall was born at Payetteville, New York, February 12, 1856 and moved first to Illinois and then to Iowa as a young boy. He lived in Dennison, Iowa, for many years and there married Lizzie Garnet Pullik in 1883.

In 1908, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall moved to Nyssa where they resided until the time of their deaths. Mrs. Marshall passed on February 15, 1938.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall were both noted for their kindness and charity to the needy in the community and have left behind many friends who will feel their loss.

CONSOLIDATION NOT COMPULSORY

Meeting with ex-officio members County Judge David F. Graham county school superintendent Mrs. Katherine Claypool, county assessor Murry Morton and J. D. Fairman at the court house in Vale on July 10 and 11, the reorganization board for county school district consolidation discussed several possible plans but no definite action was taken by any district.

Members of the board are Maurice Judd of Kingman Colony, W. L. Stevens of Dead Ox Flat and A. M. Highsmith of Nyssa secretary.

Much opposition from several interested persons was at first evidenced, as they were under the misapprehension that consolidation was compulsory which is not the case. Rather is it for each district to decide individually whether or not joining with an adjacent district will increase and improve their present school facilities and at the same time perhaps relieve the school tax burden from the property owners and taxpayers of that district.

No positive action nor decisive step was taken at these meetings but several districts are seriously considering consolidation at this time. Among them are Cairo and Lincoln, Brogan and Jamieson, Annex and Jefferson. There will be a later meeting when any such move will be perfected before becoming final.

GAME COMMISSION SETS SEASONS

The Oregon game commission has set the limits and season for game in Oregon.

The deer season is set from September 20 to October 25. Five hundred antlerless deer tags will be issued for the area adjacent to Mule Deer Reserve in Lake and Klamath during the regular open season.

Limits on blacktail are 2, on mule deer 1 (not having less than forked horns).

Antelope season in Malheur county is on October 6, 7, 8, with 150 permits only being issued for this county. The same applies to Hearney county but Lake county will issue 300 permits.

Pheasant season in Malheur county opens October 1 and closes October 31. Bag limits for Malheur county has been changed to allow one female bird in a bag of 8. No hunter will be allowed more than 4 birds in any one day nor more than 8 in any seven days. Hungarian partridge season is the same as that for pheasant the limit on these birds being 6 in any one day or 12 in 7 days.

of high prices. There is a suspicion of an understanding among manufacturers of building supplies to keep prices up. If this is a fact and the department of justice call bust up the agreement, administration believes construction will boom and skilled craftsmen need not depend on WPA.

A Matter of Viewpoint

Arguments on the best methods to keep America free from entanglements in the event of foreign wars promise to consume senate time for a month, at least. President Roosevelt believes America should sell munitions to any country that can pay cash and transport the materials. He contends such a provision would scare Hitler and Muss as it would enable Great Britain and France to obtain all the supplies they require, and such policy would mean peace in Europe.

More than one-third of the senate opposes the president's theory; believe neutrality is best assured by a mandatory embargo on munitions. These senators argue prohibition of arms to belligerents will save America from becoming involved. Such is the contention threatening to result in a long and tiresome debate.

In the mandatory group are Oregon's McNary and Holman; Washington's Bone; Idaho's Borah and Clark; California's Hiram Johnson. Sharing the administration view are Washington's Schwelienbach; California's Downey.

The Constitution Saves Another

One of the reasons Archibald MacLeish was confirmed as the new librarian of congress (librarians everywhere object to him; he was called a "red"), was because of wirepulling by the chief of the archives. The price MacLeish will pay, for the support, will be the surrender of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

These documents (viewed by thousands daily), are in the library of congress. For years the archives bureau has endeavored to have the relics released by the library and placed in the marble-gold shrine built especially for them. Just a little inside politics with the Constitution and Declaration as the pay-off. For a century these documents knocked around in dusty drawers and their existence was almost forgotten until they were accidentally found one day.

Maybe He Has Heard of Hitler Secretary of the Interior Ickes is still lobbying to have control of Bonneville power. He complains that while the administrator is responsible to the secretary, still the administrator is a free agent and does what he wants. Ickes is asking congress to change the Bonneville act and make the administrator take orders from the secretary. Implying that Bonneville has been poorly administered. Ickes says that in the interest of good management there should be more closely knit administration relations between the project and the department of the interior.

The Grand Old Game

Baseball is celebrating its 100th birthday and remains tops of American games. Only one foreign nation has taken to the sport and in a big way—Japan. Its a common occurrence for a college game to attract a crowd of 50,000 people. Sand lot games are popular with the kids in every town.

This 'N That

San Francisco fair has been such a financial flop the management will ask congress for an appropriation of $600,000. When an emergency occurs, such as the death of Secretary of the Navy Swanson, the operator at the White House switchboard connects all press associations and news bureaus and when all are on the line Steve Early presidential secretary, states the information. One statement reaches the entire news corps. Elliott Roosevelt, who has been boosting Jack Garner for president in 1940, invited listeners to his broadcast to write him their views on the third term. He says 70 per cent of the letters are for Papa.
