STATE CAPITOL NEWS

A. L. LINDBECK
State Capitol News Bureau

SALEM—Real Estate Commission Claude Murphy is warning all real estate brokers who were in business prior to enactment of the new law that they must get their registrations in before September 11 if they want to avoid the examination and the additional penalty of a $10 examination fee.

More Lawyers

The 61 law school graduates who passed the recent bar examination are scheduled to appear in Salem Thursday of this week to receive their certificates as duly qualified attorneys at law. The oath of office will be administered by John L. Rand, chief justice of the Oregon supreme court and the new lawyers will be entertained at a luncheon arranged by the board of governors of the Oregon bar.

Tongue Point Dedication

Official Oregon was well represented at the dedication of the Tongue Point naval base on the lower Columbia river last week. Governor Sprague was one of the speakers at the dedication ceremony and both Secretary of State Snell and State Treasurer Pearson were among the numerous "admirals" at the regatta, of which the dedication was an outstanding feature.

New N. Y. A. Board Member

O. D. Adams, state director of vocational education, has just received notice of his appointment as a member of the Oregon state advisory board of the national youth administration.

Finishing Touches

Leo Friedlander of New York City, sculptor of the statutory that guards the entrance to Oregon's new capitol, has been here the past week supervising the finishing touches to the huge granite pieces, work on which is now completed.

Highway Fatalities Increase

Fatalities as well as injuries in traffic accidents on Oregon highways this year are ahead of the 1938 record, according to figures compiled by Secretary of State Snell.

Another Pension Scheme Proposed

The Oregon Pension Federation has addressed a letter to Governor Sprague urging his support of a program providing for a retirement pension of $40 a month for all citizens of 65 years of age or over who would agree to refrain from all gainful pursuits. The proposed pension would be financed out of state and federal funds.

Another Appointment

Rod C. McCormack of Eugene has been appointed assistant state veterinarian to succeed Dr. R. J. Green, resigned. McCormack is the son of former state senator E. A. McCormack.

Poor Public Employees!

Employees of the public utilities commission are no longer to be permitted to sip their morning and afternoon tea in leisurely fashion. Commissioner O. R. Bean has decreed that the morning and afternoon recess periods shall be reduced from 15 minutes to ten minutes.

Back To Work—For A Change

With the Labor Day holiday signaling the end of the vacation period business in state departments was getting back to a normal basis this week. Governor Sprague who took last week off for a short rest at an Oregon beach resort was back at his desk Tuesday. Members of the state supreme court who have been on vacation since July were also back in their offices prepared to wade into the grist of appeals that have accumulated during their absence.

Flag Pole A Problem

With a deficiency appropriation of $500 at his disposal Secretary of State Snell is now pondering the location of a flag pole for the new capitol. Numerous suggestions have been made in this connection. One involves a pole set at a 45-degree angle from the roof of the capitol immediately above the main entrance. Another provides for two poles, one on either wing of the building. Still another calls for a tall fir pole to rise from the lawn in front of the building. In addition to the $500 made available for this purpose by the State Emergency Board, Governor Sprague has announced that he would make available a fund of $294 raised by voluntary subscriptions shortly after the old capitol burned and which is now in his possession.

soon can cease to "run down" to get our fruit too.

Mrs. Cloninger "brought up" peaches for herself, Mrs. Rookstool and Mrs. Gabriel.

Mr. and Mrs. Chet Sage "brought back" peaches for themselves, and some for Elza Niccum and Frank Parker.

Dude Parker went out and "brought back" peaches. Kary Hunter "brought back" about a ton of prunes just for hog feed but the neighbors soon got them all for canning so Mrs. Hunter said she thought Kay would go back and get a whole truck load.

Sunday a man at a filling station at New Plymouth told us that the large prune growers around there had quit picking because they were so cheap that they were not worth picking. Too bad we can't send them over for Hitler to throw at the Poles.

Clarence Niccum says he is having a heck of a time trying to cut his Laido clover seed.

Dude Parker is the first one in Cow Hollow to get his third cutting hay up this fall.

Over in Sunset Valley Roy Rookstool, Johnnie Hamilton and Gilbert Anderson who all hay together all have their hay down and are now stacking it.

Between getting the kiddies clothes ready for school to start, canning fruit and cooking for harvest hands, the women folks are about as busy as tis possible for them to be.

Bill Parker is about finished up with building a little farm house for Mr. Black just over in Sunset Valley.

We were mistaken about Sam Cates going to Oklahoma. Sam says "I almost went, but the last minute I gave it up for a while" he like all the rest of us has too much to do. He was building a pond, which is now finished, his third cutting of hay to put up, irrigating to do.

We are glad that we live in Cow Hollow now and not in Europe. King George says "God is with us." Herr Hitler says "God will help us for He knows we are in the right." and the "nigga" in the song in his desperation lifted up his eyes and said "Lawd, if yo' can't help me please don't help dat grizzly beah."

ARCADIA

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Williams and daughter left Tuesday for Salem, Ore. to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Williams. While there they will take in the state fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Holady visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Birds last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Bullard and family and Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Matherly and family went to the hills Wednesday. They returned Saturday.

School has started. All the pupils weren't there the first day, but will get started soon. There are several beginners this year. The Bratton girls, Gladys and Eula, are the teachers. Miss Eula teaches the first four grades and Miss Gladys the older grades.

T. H. Holadys are now living in a house on the Sleep's ranch. They have been living in the little house in the school yard, but had to move out for the new teachers, who will keep house while teaching school.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brockus and baby spent Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Holady.

George Moeller had several exhibits at the Ontario fair. Jack Zittercock, Duke Hipp and Jerry Marostica had steers on exhibit. Jerry's steer placed third and Jack's fifth.

Mrs. Wm. Holaday and his mother went to Payette Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Long from Lebanon, Ore., came Sunday noon to visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. T.

Long. D. H. Long is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Long. They left Tuesday morning for their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sunchrist, of near San Francisco, called on Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Long Sunday.

Frank and Dale Dewey and Jack Schonks are working at the sugar beet factory.

Mrs. Granton Eason was in Ontario Tuesday.

Mrs. Jack Schonks little brother, Vernon Moore, is staying with her this winter and going to school at Arcadia. He has been living near Salem with their father.

Chester Eason of Kingman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Eason, spent last week with his uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Granton Eason. Mrs. Granton Eason's nephew, Kenneth Tibbett, is visiting with them. Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Tibbett of Nyssa.

Last Friday Robert Long came through Nyssa from Jordan Valley going to Burns. He brought his CCC ball team in a big truck with him. There were 20 boys. They stopped in Nyssa and bought a hundred pounds of watermelons, took them to J. T. Long's and ate them on the lawn.

John Flandery spent several days last week with Angelo Marostica Jr. Mrs. Eric Boenig entertained several relatives and friends Sunday afternoon in honor of Mr. Boenig's birthday. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gotsch and two sons of Notus, Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stuhler from Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Stoltenberg and three children of Parma, Adolph Stanke of Meridian, and Anton Diedrickson of Payette. Sandwiches, cake, ice cream and coffee were served.
